Blaming Others Prejudice Race And Worldwide Aids:

Blaming Others Renée Sabatier,1988 Individuals or nations have been behaving in a racist AIDS Narratives Steven F. Kruger,2013-10-28 This is the first book length study of the rich fiction that has emerged from the AIDS crisis Examining first the ways in which scientific discourse on AIDS has reflected ideologies of gender and sexuality such as the construction of AIDS as a disease of gay men part of a battle over masculinity and thus largely excluding women with AIDS from public attention the book considers how such discourses have shaped narrative understandings of AIDS On the one hand AIDS is seen as an invariably fatal weakening of an individual s bodily defenses a depiction often used to reconfirm an identification between disease and a weak and vulnerable gayness On the other hand AIDS is understood in terms of an epidemic attributable to gay immorality or unnaturalness The fiction of AIDS depends upon these two narratives with one major subgenre of AIDS novel presenting narratives of personal illness decline and death and a second focusing on epidemic spread These novels also question the narrative structures upon which they depend intervening particularly against the homophobia of those structures though also sometimes reinforcing it

Local Women, Global Science Karen M. Booth,2004-05-12 There is evidence that women who live in societies that uphold male privilege the majority of the world s women are at increased risk for HIV infection In Local Women Global Science Karen M Booth looks closely at the operation of two clinics for sexually transmitted diseases in Nairobi Kenya and explores how internationally funded and nationally sanctioned interventions to stop the spread of HIV have focused almost exclusively on the sexual and reproductive behaviors of those who are least able to challenge male power and dominance working class and poor women Moving past the current politics of development women s health and AIDS prevention Booth s work enhances our understanding of how globalized and local networks power relationships ideologies and social practices contribute to the current AIDS crisis This bold and important book reveals conceptual flaws in AIDS prevention policy and will inspire new ideas for dealing with this deadly epidemic in Kenya Africa and beyond

Soft Law and Global Health Problems Sharifah Sekalala,2017-05-05 A legal examination of global health governance issues relating to access to essential medicines for AIDS tuberculosis and malaria AIDS, South Africa, and the Politics of Knowledge Jeremy R. Youde,2016-03-23 Through an in depth examination of the interactions between the South African government and the international AIDS control regime Jeremy Youde examines not only the emergence of an epistemic community but also the development of a counter epistemic community offering fundamentally different understandings of AIDS and radically different policy prescriptions In addition individuals have become influential in the crafting of the South African government s AIDS policies despite universal condemnation from the international scientific community This study highlights the relevance and importance of Africa to international affairs The actions of African states call into question many of our basic assumptions and challenge us to refine our analytical framework It is ideally suited to scholars interested in African studies international organizations global governance and infectious diseases

AIDS TV Alexandra Juhasz, Catherine Gund, 1995 Camcorder AIDS activism is a prime example of a new form of political expression an outburst of committed low budget community produced political video work made possible by new accessible technologies As Alexandra Juhasz looks at this phenomenon why and how video has become the medium for so much AIDS activism she also tries to make sense of the bigger picture How is this work different from mainstream television How does it alter what we think of the media s form and function The result is an eloquent and vital assessment of the role media activism plays in the development of community identity and self empowerment An AIDS videomaker herself Juhasz writes from the standpoint of an AIDS activist and blends feminist film critique with her own experience She offers a detailed description of alternative AIDS video including her own work on the Women s AIDS Video Enterprise WAVE Along with WAVE Juhasz discusses amateur video tapes of ACT UP demonstrations safer sex videos produced by Gay Men s Health Crisis public access programming and PBS documentaries as well as network television productions From its close up look at camcorder AIDS activism to its critical account of mainstream representations AIDS TV offers a better understanding of the media politics identity and community in the face of AIDS It will challenge and encourage those who hope to change the course of this crisis both in the real world and in the world of representation Genders 21 Carol Siegel, Ann M. Kibbey, 1995-07 Forming and Reforming Identity exposes the historical sites of identity formation and seeks to define the mechanisms of modern day gender ideologies Illuminating the power of the family and state in shaping gender identities the book also examines the constitution of these identities Each chapter reveals the complexities and contradictions that inevitably accompany the formation of any new category of identity whether they are deliberately restrictive or intended as a reformation of the old The volume moves as gender construction does across a field of different media novels plays teleplays films official documents political theory and advertisements Four sections REMOLDING WOMAN REBELLING MAN HOMEMADE IDENTITIES and FEMINISMS THAT MAKE A DIFFERENCE address such subjects as the representation of American women in the 1950s nationalism and respectable sexuality in India women Hollywood cinema and World War II compulsory heterophobia and the televising of AIDS HIV & AIDS In Africa Azetsop, Jacquelineau, 2016-09-15 A comprehensive look at the HIV AIDS pandemic in Africa this volume features contributions from noted scholars from across the continent and beyond providing badly needed social analysis and theological reflection from an African perspective Racism Albert J. Wheeler, 2000 Of all mankind s vices racism is one of the most pervasive and stubborn Success in overcoming racism has been achieved from time to time but victories have been limited thus far because mankind has focused on personal economic gain or power grabs ignoring generosity of the soul This bibliography brings together the literature providing access by subject groupings as well as author and subject indexes Contents Racial Attitudes Racism and Poverty Hate Groups Racial Justice Racism and Politics Race Discrimination Racial Identity Racism Around the World Habari ya English? What about Kiswahili?, 2015-04-28 Patient Zero and the Making of the AIDS Epidemic Richard A. McKay, 2017-11-22 Now an award winning documentary feature film The search for a patient zero popularly understood to be the first person infected in an epidemic has been key to media coverage of major infectious disease outbreaks for more than three decades Yet the term itself did not exist before the emergence of the HIV AIDS epidemic in the 1980s How did this idea so swiftly come to exert such a strong grip on the scientific media and popular consciousness In Patient Zero Richard A McKay interprets a wealth of archival sources and interviews to demonstrate how this seemingly new concept drew upon centuries old ideas and fears about contagion and social disorder McKay presents a carefully documented and sensitively written account of the life of Ga tan Dugas a gay man whose skin cancer diagnosis in 1980 took on very different meanings as the HIV AIDS epidemic developed and who received widespread posthumous infamy when he was incorrectly identified as patient zero of the North American outbreak McKay shows how investigators from the US Centers for Disease Control inadvertently created the term amid their early research into the emerging health crisis how an ambitious journalist dramatically amplified the idea in his determination to reframe national debates about AIDS and how many individuals grappled with the notion of patient zero adopting challenging and redirecting its powerful meanings as they tried to make sense of and respond to the first fifteen years of an unfolding epidemic With important insights for our interconnected age Patient Zero untangles the complex process by which individuals and groups create meaning and allocate blame when faced with new disease threats What McKay gives us here is myth smashing revisionist history at its best

Eating Spring Rice Sandra Teresa Hyde, 2007-01-16 Eating Spring Rice is the first major ethnographic study of HIV AIDS in China Drawing on more than a decade of ethnographic research 1995 2005 primarily in Yunnan Province Sandra Teresa Hyde chronicles the rise of the HIV epidemic from the years prior to the Chinese government's acknowledgement of this public health crisis to post reform thinking about infectious disease management Hyde combines innovative public health research with in depth ethnography on the ways minorities and sex workers were marked as the principle carriers of HIV often despite evidence to the contrary Hyde approaches HIV AIDS as a study of the conceptualization and the circulation of a disease across boundaries that requires different kinds of anthropological thinking and methods She focuses on everyday AIDS practices to examine the links between the material and the discursive representations of HIV AIDS This book illustrates how representatives of the Chinese government singled out a former kingdom of Thailand Sipsongpanna and its indigenous ethnic group the Tai L e as carriers of HIV due to a history of prejudice and stigma and to the geography of the borderlands Hyde poses questions about the cultural politics of epidemics state society relations Han and non Han ethnic dynamics and the rise of an AIDS public health bureaucracy in the post reform era

Don't Sleep African Women: Powerlessness and HIV/AIDS Vulnerability Among Kenyan Women , Disease and Democracy Peter Baldwin, 2005-05-16 A historical masterpiece Just when we thought we knew everything about the politics and policies of the HIV AIDS pandemic Peter Baldwin surprises us with innovative insights about the sharp differences in policy among countries as well as complex tradeoffs between civil liberties and public goods This is a refreshing and readable book in which AIDS is used as a lens to understand the public health enterprise ranging from leprosy and syphilis to tuberculosis and SARS Baldwin offers a deeply historical and comparative understanding of HIV in the industrialized world Lawrence O Gostin author of Public Health Law Power Duty Restraint Although a vast literature has emerged to chronicle and reflect on the history of the AIDS epidemic since it was first reported almost a quarter of a century ago there is nothing like Peter Baldwin s probing and synthetic analysis of AIDS in the industrialized world Building on his masterful Contagion and the State in Europe 1830 1930 Baldwin has provided a complex historical tapestry of how an epidemic threat has challenged and exposed democracies that thought infectious threats a thing of the past Ronald Bayer author of Private Acts Social Consequences Aids and the Politics Of Public Health and coauthor with Gerald Oppenheimer of AIDS Doctors Voices from the Epidemic Boundaries of Contagion Evan S. Lieberman, 2009-04-12 Why have governments responded to the HIV AIDS pandemic in such different ways During the past quarter century international agencies and donors have disseminated vast resources and a set of best practice recommendations to policymakers around the globe Yet the governments of developing countries in sub Saharan Africa Asia Latin America and the Caribbean continue to implement widely varying policies Boundaries of Contagion is the first systematic comparative analysis of the politics of HIV AIDS The book explores the political challenges of responding to a stigmatized condition and identifies ethnic boundaries the formal and informal institutions that divide societies as a central influence on politics and policymaking Evan Lieberman examines the ways in which risk and social competition get mapped onto well institutionalized patterns of ethnic politics Where strong ethnic boundaries fragment societies into groups the politics of AIDS are more likely to involve blame and shame avoidance tactics against segments of the population In turn government leaders of such countries respond far less aggressively to the epidemic Lieberman s case studies of Brazil South Africa and India three developing countries that face significant AIDS epidemics are complemented by statistical analyses of the policy responses of Indian states and over seventy developing countries The studies conclude that varied patterns of ethnic competition shape how governments respond to this devastating problem The author considers the implications for governments and donors and the increasing tendency to identify social problems in ethnic terms Power & Community Dennis Altman, 2013-10-08 First Published in 1994 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informal company How to Have Theory in an Epidemic Paula A. Treichler, 1999 A collection of essays on the AIDS epidemic by a leading feminist cultural theorist of science Culture, Society and Sexuality Richard Guy Parker, Peter Aggleton, 1999 This work offers an introduction to the central debates in sexuality research Among the issues examined are the social and cultural dimensions of sex human sexuality and sex research Making Sense of AIDS Leslie Butt, Richard Eves, 2008-05-09 In Melanesia rates of HIV infection are among the highest in the Pacific and increasing rapidly with grave humanitarian development and political implications There is a great need for social research on HIV AIDS in the region to provide better insights into the sensitive issues surrounding HIV transmission This collection the first book on HIV and AIDS in the Pacific region gathers together stunning and original accounts of the often surprising ways that people make sense of the AIDS epidemic in various parts of Melanesia The volume addresses substantive issues concerning AIDS and contemporary sexualities relations of power and moralities themes that provide a powerful backdrop for twenty first century understandings of the tensions between sexuality religion and politics in many parts of the world
