Blessed Are The Peacemakers A Christian Spirituality Of Nonviolence:

Blessed are the Peacemakers Michael Battle, 2004 Spiritual practices of peacemaking Michael Battle says are essential to crucial for the mystical process of losing and finding identity in God who constantly invites us toward relationship and community Any spirituality of nonviolence in the community of peacemaking faces formidable challenges The obvious obstacle of just war just one corollary of the constant struggle for survival in a world seemingly bent on self destruction continues to raise its ugly head And what of other loud pretenders of Christian spirituality who preach the validity of just war the at any cost survival of the righteous Genuine Christian spirituality Battle rightly insists involves no contradiction between individual and communal fulfillment but involves instead our participation in the divine bending toward potentiality rather than destruction Violence that is destruction of reality is in fact the antithesis of Christian spirituality Christian spirituality practiced in the midst of a solipsistic and violent world engenders divine reality that bids the human heart toward peace genuine wholeness and toward the real world of divine intent

Practicing Discipleship Dr. Nicole L. Johnson, 2009-06-01 Despite a plurality of doctrinal statements on war peace and nonviolence some United Methodists sustain a commitment to nonviolence Through qualitative research Practicing Discipleship draws out lived theologies of nonviolence in order to understand how nonviolent United Methodists define ground and practice nonviolence and to give that voice opportunity to challenge church doctrine and thereby the wider church An analysis of statements from the Book of Disciplines and the Book of Resolutions reveals the plurality of Methodist teachings on moral issues related to war and peace While such plurality is indicative of the inclusive tradition of United Methodism Johnson shows that it also causes confusion thus hindering the vitality and authority of the church's witness This study's qualitative analysis of in depth interviews with twelve nonviolent United Methodists reveals a lived theology rooted in Scripture and theological reflection it points particularly to a christocentrism that posits nonviolence as central to Christ's teachings and example While study participants affirm the tradition of openness in the United Methodist Church they also call for more tangible and extensive support for and education about nonviolence as a faithful option for Christians Through amicable and constructive practical theological dialogue doctrinal plurality and ecclesial openness are affirmed as appropriate and possible only within the context of the church's profound commitment to serious discipleship which includes transformation toward nonviolence Implications of this interaction include developing and adopting a more truthful conception of a nonviolent ethics moving toward broadly conceived Christian formation in nonviolence and fostering ongoing ecclesial dialogue about difficult moral issues of war peace and nonviolence

Boyd,2009-05-18 The church was established to serve the world with Christ like love not to rule the world It is called to look like a corporate Jesus dying on the cross for those who crucified him not a religious version of Caesar It is called to manifest the kingdom of the cross in contrast to the kingdom of the sword Whenever the church has succeeded in gaining what most American evangelicals are now trying to get political power it has been disastrous both for the church and the culture Whenever the church picks up the sword it lays down the cross The present activity of the religious right is destroying the heart and soul of the evangelical church and destroying its unique witness to the world The church is to have a political voice but we are to have it the way Jesus had it by manifesting an alternative to the political power over way of doing life We are to transform the world by being willing to suffer for others exercising power under not by getting our way in society exercising power over
