About Love War Death:

Love and Death in the Great War Andrew J. Huebner, 2018 Americans today harbor no strong or consistent collective memory of the First World War Ask why they fought or what they accomplished and democracy is the most likely if vague response The circulation of confusing or lofty rationales for intervention started from the moment President Woodrow Wilson secured a war declaration in April 1917 Yet amid those shifting justifications Love and Death in the Great War argues was a more durable and resonant one Americans would fight for home and family Intervention came at a moment when arbiters of tradition regarded those very institutions the white family in particular under pressure from all sides industrial work women s employment immigration urban vice woman suffrage and most incendiary the imagined threat of black sexual aggression Alleged German crimes in France and Belgium seemed to further imperil women and children Americans would fight many said to protect the family literally but also indirectly War promised to restore convention stabilize gender roles and sharpen male character Love and Death in the Great War tracks such ideas of redemptive war across public and private spaces policy and implementation home and front popular culture and personal correspondence Huebner merges untold stories of men and women from Missouri Wisconsin Alabama Louisiana and other places with a history of wartime culture Studying the radiating impact of war alongside the management of opinion he recovers the conflict s emotional dimensions its everyday rhythms heartbreaking losses soaring possibilities and broken promises Telling the war story as a love story however generated contradictions and challenges some subtle some transformative some violent African Americans and women serving in the army disrupted narratives of white chivalric rescue Military life proved inhospitable to virtue Death and injury brought destruction not regeneration An army of mostly drafted men sought recompense for lives interrupted as much as patriotic or personal credibility After the Great War the mobilization of real and symbolic families would never quite look the same again

When Love Died Sherrie L. Pluta, 2023-07-13 In 1824 Boston was a small farming community about twenty five miles south of Buffalo New York Buffalo itself was still only considered a village with a population of just over two thousand people It was a hard life in that time where families tried to eke out a meager living selling their crops and growing their own fruits and vegetables to be canned and preserved for the long hard winters They were a God fearing community who gathered on Sundays in a neighbor s home to hear the visiting preacher who traveled from town to town until churches could be built for congregations But just as in our world today not everyone grows up to be honest and respectful The three Thayer brothers moved to Boston with their parents and quickly became known as drunkards and ne'er do wells When a Great Lakes seaman by the name of John Love needed a place to stay for the winter while the lakes were frozen over they offered him room and board for a price He didn't plan on the ultimate price that he had to pay When the brothers crops were not successful they asked Love for a cash loan to make ends meet Love was glad to help out his newfound friends But they never planned on paying him back Instead they planned to murder him and hide his body This was an important time in Western New York the area was growing in population and the Industrial Revolution was making life and work easier The building of the Erie Canal which traveled from Albany to Buffalo was one of the engineering marvels of the time and after many years of labor opened in Buffalo in 1825 The story builds to the actual murder arrest and trial of the three brothers and ends with their eventual hangings in the Buffalo village square in 1825 attended by a crowd that was estimated at the time to be over twenty thousand people

Love, Death and the War on Terror Trevor Maynard,2009 The War of Terror is as much a battle of ideas and the mind as of blood and the body But what of it Why should Death have it all its own way While the terrorists murder and the soldiers die we the people still meet each other and fall in love

The Roman Poetry of Love Efrossini Spentzou,2013-10-24 The Roman Poetry of Love explores the formation of a key literary genre in a troubled historical and political setting The short lived genre of Latin love elegy produced spectacular multi faceted and often difficult poetry Its proponents Catullus Tibullus Propertius and Ovid remain to this day some of the most influential poetic voices of Western civilisation This accessible introduction combines aesthetic analysis with socio political context to provide a concise but comprehensive portrait of the Roman elegy its main participants and its cultural and political milieu Focusing on a series of specific poems the title portrays the development of the genre in the context of the Emperor Augustus ascent to power following recognizable threads through the texts to build an understanding of the relationship between this poetry and the increasingly totalising regime Highlighting and examining the intense affectation of love in these poems The Roman

Poetry of Love explores the works not simply as an expression of a troubled male psychology but also as a reflection of the overwhelming changes that swept through Rome and Italy in the transition from the late Republic to the Augustan Age

Days and Nights of Love and War Eduardo Galeano, 2001-01-20 A masterpiece of reportorial thoroughness painstaking research and serious reflection Edward Said A Race with Love and Death Richard Williams, 2020-03-19 A tragic age and a tragic character both seemingly compelled to destroy themselves a chilling reminder of how little control we have over our fates Damon Hill One of the greatest motor racing stories Nick Mason Timely vivid and enthralling it s unputdownable Miranda Seymour author of The Bugatti Queen Dick Seaman was the archetypal dashing motorsport hero of the 1930s the first Englishman to win a race for Mercedes Benz and the last Grand Prix driver to die at the wheel before the outbreak of the Second World War Award winning author Richard Williams reveals the remarkable but now forgotten story of a driver whose battles against the leading figures of motor racing s golden age inspired the post war generation of British champions The son of wealthy parents educated at Rugby and Cambridge Seaman grew up in a privileged world of house parties jazz and fast cars But motor racing was no mere hobby it became such an obsession that he dropped out of university to pursue his ambitions squeezing money out of his parents to buy better cars When he was offered a contract with the world beating state sponsored Mercedes team in 1937 he signed up despite the growing political tensions between Britain and Germany A year later he celebrated victory in the German Grand Prix with the beautiful 18 year old daughter of the founder of BMW Their wedding that summer would force a split with his family a costly rift that had not been closed six months later when he crashed in the rain while leading at Spa dying with his divided loyalties seemingly unresolved He was just 26 years old Magic in the Web Robert B. Heilman, 2014-07-15 In his earlier work on King Lear Mr Heilman combined a number of critical procedures to form a new and important approach to Shakespearian criticism His study of Othello displays the maturity of insight and skill in analysis the years have brought him in developing his critical method Mr Heilman takes account of stage effects he traces out literal and symbolic meanings he analyzes plot relationships he examines characters in terms of both their psychological and their moral situations and style in relation to both character and meaning He traces some effects due to historical meanings which have now been lost by certain words and he tries to measure the impact of the drama upon and its significance for the modern consciousness Mr Heilman argues that Othello is at once a play about love and a poem about love and endeavors to find out how the poetry modifies and even helps determine the nature of the whole He looks at numerous aspects of action physical activity psychological movement intellectual operations and language speech habits image types recurrency in both literal and figurative language and examines the essentially dramatic function of all of these He finds the dramatis personae interwoven in relationships which may be seen from one point of view as plot and from another as the embodiment of complex themes He treats Othello and Iago as figures that are not only fitted to a given stage but also represent permanent aspects of humanity Iago with his strategies against the spiritual order and Othello with his readiness in the victim

Mythologizing the Vietnam War Jennifer Good, Brigitte Lardinois, Paul Lowe, 2014-10-16 The Vietnam War is evolving from contemporary memory into history Fifty years on it still serves as a benchmark in the history of war reporting and in the representation of conflict in popular culture and historical memory However as contemporary culture tries to come to terms with the events and their political psychological and cultural implications the real Vietnam War has been appropriated and changed into a set of mythologies which implicate American and Vietnamese national identities specifically and ideas of modern conflict more broadly particularly in shaping the mediation of the twenty first century War on Terror This collection of interdisciplinary critical essays explores the cultural legacies of the US involvement in South East Asia considering this process of mythologising through the lenses of visual media and tracing the war's evolution from contemporary reportage to subsequent interpretation and consumption It reassesses the role of visual media in covering and remembering the war its memorialisation mediation and memory The origin of this collection of essays was an international conference titled Considering Vietnam held at the Imperial War Museum London in February 2012 co organised by the museum and the University of the Arts London Photography and the Archive Research Centre PARC
