Animation In The Cinema:

Animation in the Cinema Ralph Stephenson, 1967 Enviro-Toons Deidre M. Pike, 2014-01-10 This book takes an ecocritical approach to analytical readings of animated feature films short subjects and television shows Beginning with the simply subversive environmental messages in the Felix the Cat cartoons of the 1920s the author examines green themes in such popular animated film efforts as Bambi 1942 The Simpsons Movie 2007 Wall E 2008 and Happy Feet 2008 as well as James Cameron's live action animation blockbuster Avatar 2009 The discussion extends beyond American films to include the works of Japanese animator Hayao Miyazaki including the Oscar winning Spirited Away 2002 Also evaluated for their pro ecological content are the television cartoon series South Park and Futurama The appendix provides a list of film and television titles honored with the Environmental Media Award for Animation Puppet Animation in the Cinema: History and Technique Loyd Bruce Holman, 1975 The Anime Machine Thomas LaMarre, 2009 Working at the intersection of the philosophy of technology and the history of thought Lamarre explores how anime and its related media entail material orientations and demonstrates concretely how the animetic machine encourages a specific approach to thinking about technology Women and Film Animation Marie-Josée Saint-Pierre, 2024-03-15 The creations of female animation filmmakers are recognized all over the world while being paradoxically unknown to the general public Women and Film Animation A Feminist Corpus at the National Film Board of Canada 1939 1989 brings out of the shadows the work of true pioneers by presenting and analyzing from a resolutely feminist perspective the works they have conceived within the National Film Board of Canada NFB This institution has played an essential role in the emergence of animated cinema in Canada but it is forgotten or ignored that a good part of this vast corpus is the work of women who have worked there not only as assistants but also as directors These artists have contributed to changing the traditional representations of women in a unique way in both commercial and avant garde animated cinema The author accounts for their concerns their creativity and their many bright achievements To do this she relies on a wide range of critical works in social and cultural history of Canada in feminist art history and on multiple studies on animated cinema Key Features Provides an interdisciplinary approach that combines concepts from feminist studies film theory and visual arts for a nuanced analysis of the role of women in animated cinema Discusses historical and sociological background that sheds light on the condition of women Includes a profound analysis of the changes and continuities in the role of women in this industry over time focusing on the National Film Board of Canada Features previously unreleased archival material and selected excerpts from reviews by the NFB's programming committee highlighting the impact of production circumstances of the works of specific women animators Animation in the Home Digital Studio Steven Subotnick, 2012-11-12 So you want to create animation Where do you start With an idea This creative exercise packed guide contains examples and idea generating activities What tools do you need Your computer simple software programs and your imagination This book will tell you how to utilize these tools
