Ann Carr's Recipe Collection Ann Carr, 1987 In the Kitchen, 1550-1800 Madeline Bassnett, Hillary Nunn, 2025-10-01 In the Kitchen insists that the preparation of food whether imaginative physical or spatial is central to a deeper understanding of early modern food cultures and practices Devoted to the arts of cooking and medicine early modern kitchens concentrated on producing processing and preserving materials necessary for nourishment and survival yet they also fed social and economic networks and nurtured a sense of physical spiritual and political connection to surrounding lands and their cultures The essays in this volume illuminate this expansive view of cooking and aspire to show how the kitchen's inner workings prove tightly though often invisibly interwoven with local national and increasingly global surroundings Engaging with literary and historical methodologies including close reading recipe analysis and perspectives on gender class race and colonialism we begin to develop a shared theoretical and practical language for the art of cooking that combines the physical with the intellectual the local with the global and the domestic with the political Machine Translation and Translation Theory Christa Hauenschild, Susanne Heizmann, 2011-08-02 The series serves to propagate investigations into language usage especially with respect to computational support This includes all forms of text handling activity not only interlingual translations but also conversions carried out in response to different communicative tasks Among the major topics are problems of text transfer and the interplay between human and machine activities Recipes and Everyday Knowledge Elaine Leong, 2018-11-28 Across early modern Europe men and women from all ranks gathered medical culinary and food preservation recipes from family and friends experts and practitioners and a wide array of printed materials Recipes were tested assessed and modified by teams of householders including masters and servants husbands and wives mothers and daughters and fathers and sons This much sought know how was written into notebooks of various shapes and sizes forming treasuries for health each personalized to suit the whims and needs of individual communities In Recipes and Everyday Knowledge Elaine Leong situates recipe knowledge and practices among larger questions of gender and cultural history the history of the printed word and the history of science medicine and technology The production of recipes and recipe books she argues were at the heart of quotidian investigations of the natural world or household science She shows how English homes acted as vibrant spaces for knowledge making and transmission and explores how recipe trials allowed householders to gain deeper understandings of sickness and health of the human body and of natural and human built processes By recovering this story Leong extends the parameters of natural inquiry and productively widens the cast of historical characters participating in and contributing to early modern science The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2005 Who's who in Art Bernard Dolman, 2008 Books, 1988 Female Alliances Amanda E. Herbert, 2014-01-21 In the late seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries cultural economic and political changes as well as increased geographic mobility placed strains upon British society But by cultivating friendships and alliances women worked to socially cohere Britain and its colonies In the first book length historical study of female friendship and alliance for the early modern period Amanda Herbert draws on a series of interlocking microhistorical studies to demonstrate the vitality and importance of bonds formed between British women in the long eighteenth century She shows that while these alliances were central to women s lives they were also instrumental in building the British Atlantic world Small Packages KG MacGregor,2009-05-01 In Without Warning they fell in love In Aftershock that love was tested and reaffirmed Now Anna and Lily Kaklis face questions about family and future when a homeless woman is killed in San Francisco leaving a four year old who happens to be Lily s nephew in foster care Lily will not allow her birth mother to ruin another childhood so she puts her skills as a family law attorney to work She can t speak up for what she really wants to adopt him for herself not when Anna is clearly terrified at the prospect of raising a child Anna is happy to let Lily do the temporary parenting necessary until a suitable adoption placement can be found It won t last long and then their lives will go back to normal At least that was the plan then Lily is called away Anna finds herself alone with her worst nightmare a toddler Catalog of Copyright Entries.
