Ann Oakley Reader Gender Women And Social Science:

The Ann Oakley Reader Ann Oakley, 2005-06-29 This book brings together edited extracts from classic texts by the internationally renowned feminist sociologist Ann Oakley Edited and selected by the author herself it starts with work first published in the early 1970s

Gender and Genetics Kate Reed, 2012-05-16 Prenatal screening for genetic disorders is becoming an increasingly widespread phenomenon across the globe While studies have highlighted the importance of women's experiences of such screening little is known about men's roles and direct involvement in this process With a focus on the experiences of both women and men this text offers an innovative and passionate account of the gendered nature of prenatal screening Drawing on interview data with pregnant women and their male partners in a UK city Reed provides a compelling analysis of maternal and paternal roles in prenatal screening Through this analysis the book raises important issues around genetics gender and screening practice With a focus on the gendered production of good and bad genes the book explores differences between visual technologies and blood screening It also explores the gendered nature of genetic responsibility and the impact this has on parenting roles Extending its arguments into other key debates in prenatal genetics including a focus on the impact of screening on other types of stratification including ethnicity and class Reed provides an original and comprehensive analysis of some of the most pressing concerns in the field to date This book will be of interest to students and scholars of the sociology of health and illness science and technology studies gender studies feminist bioethics and medical anthropology as well as professionals in the fields of midwifery and genetic counselling

Feminism, Gender and Universities Miriam E. David, 2016-04-15 Feminism Gender and Universities demonstrates the positive and robust impacts that feminism has had on higher education through the eyes and in the words of the participants in changing political and social processes Drawing on the collective biography of leading feminist scholars from around the world and current evidence relating to gender equality in education this book employs methods including biographies life histories and narratives to show how the feminist project to transform women's lives in the direction of gender and social equality became an educational and pedagogical one Through careful attention to the ways in which feminism has transformed feminist academic women's lives the author explores the importance of education in changing socio-political contexts raising questions about further changes that are necessary Delving into the deeper and more hidden echelons of education the book examines the contested nature of current managerial or business approaches to university and education revealing these to be incompatible with feminist thought A plea for more careful attention to education and the ways in which the processes of knowledge making influence and are influenced by gender and sexual relations Feminism Gender and Universities will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in gender pedagogy and modern academic life

EBOOK: Doing your Research Project in the Lifelong Learning Sector Jonathan Tummons, Vicky Duckworth, 2012-10-16

This book guides student researchers through the different stages of small scale or practitioner research a common component of study for students training to work in the lifelong learning sector The authors look at the entire research journey from planning a research topic and framing research questions through the process of data collection and analysis to writing up and presentation Using a step by step approach the book tackles common thorny issues such as Understanding the different genres of research Discussion of qualitative and quantitative approaches to research The importance of forming research questions and of locating them within current research literature How to do a literature review Dealing with permissions access and ethics The nuts and bolts of research methods Interpreting data and writing up research findings Together with case studies and examples of real life research projects that have been completed by the authors own students this book tackles research in a student friendly and accessible style carefully unpacking and defining the different terms concepts and theories that students need to know when beginning research for the first time This book is essential reading for students who are training to work in the lifelong learning sector or practitioners who are undertaking CPD to maintain their license to practice Many teachers training in the lifelong learning sector as well as those going on to do foundation honours and masters degrees in education find the prospect of carrying out educational research for the first time daunting Thus far they have been reliant on generic educational research textbooks Jonathan Tummons and Vicky Duckworth s excellent work now guides them clearly and supportively through the research journey in a way which is underpinned by the authors deep understanding of both the sector and nature of the challenge of the research task to the student using an informal and accessible written style Andy Armitage Head of the Department of Post Compulsory Education at Canterbury Christ Church University UK This book combines sound practical advice with an exploration of the philosophical and methodological concepts underpinning educational research Often drawing on the authors own experiences it makes a convincing case for the practitioner as researcher and draws clear and appropriate attention to the purposes uses and dissemination of small scale research Susan Wallace Professor of Continuing Education Nottingham Trent University UK

Women's Identities and Bodies in Colonial and Postcolonial History and Literature Maria Isabel Romero Ruiz, 2012-01-17 Since the second half of the twentieth century there has been a commitment on the part of women writers and scholars to revise and rewrite the history and culture of colonial and post colonial women This collection intends to enter a forum of discussion in which the colonial past serves as a point of reference for the analysis of contemporary issues This volume will examine topics of women s identities and bodies through literary representations and historical accounts In other words the aim is to reconstruct women s identities through the representations of their bodies in literature and to analyse women s bodies historically as sites of abuse discrimination and violence on the one hand and of knowledge and cultural production on the other The chapters of this book will contribute to the formation of a new representation of women through history and literature which fights traditional stereotypes in relation to their bodies and identities Focusing on female bodies as maternal bodies as repositories of history and memory as sexual bodies as healing bodies as performative of gender as black bodies as migrant and hybrid bodies as the objects of regulation and control and as victims of sexual exploitation and murder the different articles contained in this book will examine issues of space power knowledge relations discrimination the production of knowledge gender and boundaries to produce new identities for women which contest and respond to the traditional ones The volume is addressed to a wide readership both scholars and those interested in investigating the dynamics of the female body and the social and cultural conceptualizations of our multicultural and multiethnic contemporary societies in relation to it without forgetting the historical and colonial roots of these new representations

Poverty, Inequality and Social Work Ian Cummins, 2018-01-17 A critical analysis of the domino effect of neoliberalism and austerity on social work Applying theory including those of Bourdieu and Wacquant to practice it argues that social work should return to a focus on relational and community approaches The Inside of a Shell Vanessa Guignery, 2015-05-13 The Canadian author Alice Munro recognized as one of the world's finest short story writers published some seventeen books between 1968 and 2014 and was awarded the third Man Booker International Prize in 2009 and the Nobel Prize in Literature in 2013 This worldwide recognition of her career calls for a look back at her very first collection of short stories Dance of the Happy Shades published in 1968 and composed of fifteen stories written between 1953 and 1967 Some forty five years after the publication of this first volume worldwide specialists of her work examine the first steps of a great writer and offer new critical perspectives on a debut collection that already foreshadows some of the patterns and themes of later stories Contributors adopt a variety of approaches from the fields of narratology gender studies psychoanalysis and genetic criticism amongst others to illuminate the main stylistic features narrative strategies literary traditions modes of writing and generic traits of the stories in Dance of the Happy Shades Big Pharma, Women, and the Labour of Love Thea

Cacchioni, 2015-01-01 Cacchioni moves beyond the search for a sexual pharmaceutical drug for women to ask a broader question how does the medicalization of female sexuality already affect women's lives Postcolonial Semantics Carsten Levisen, 2024-04-01 Global knowledge production increasingly happens through one particular language modern Anglo English What does the Anglocentric reliance of English words and phrases mean for the way we make claims formulate research questions and develop theories In this monograph these questions are scrutinized and explored through Postcolonial Semantics a new framework that draws on advances in postcolonial linguistics and cognitive cultural semantics Through original semantic work on Bislama words and Urban Pacific concepts each chapter provides alternatives to Anglocentric linguistic framings of knowledge in the domains of language communication sociology psychology and geopolitics Highlighting the pluriversality of meaning making and the multipolarity of knowledge the book speaks into central themes in semantics including the question of metalanguage and the representation of meaning as well as contact zone semantics and the colonial matrix of power All analyses are provided in both English and Bislama through a translatable semantic metalanguage of shared human concepts Apart from semanticists and postcolonial language scholars the monograph is of interest to researchers and research students in fields such as World Englishes creole studies linguistic anthropology intercultural pragmatics and global discourse studies Encyclopedia of Motherhood Andrea
