D. Church,2022 The most recent cutting edge scholarship on the tenth eleventh and twelfth centuries The essays collected here demonstrate the rich vitality of scholarship in this area This volume has a particular focus on the interrelations between the various parts of north western Europe After the opening piece on

Lotharingia there are detailed studies of the relationship between Ponthieu and its Norman neighbours and between the Norman and Angevin duke kings and the other French nobility followed by an investigation of the world of demons and possession in Norman Italy with additional observations on the subject in twelfth century England Meanwhile the York massacre of the Jews in 1190 is set in a wider context showing the extent to which crusader enthusiasm led to the pogroms that so marred Anglo Jewish relations not just in York but elsewhere in England and there is an exploration of poverty in London also during the 1190s viewed through the prism of the life and execution of William fitz Osbert Another chapter demonstrates the power of comparative history to illuminate the norms of proprietary queenship so often overlooked by historians of both kingship and queenship And two essays focusing on landscape bring the physical into close association with the historical on the equine landscape of eleventh and twelfth century England adding substantially to our understanding of the place of the horse in late Anglo Saxon and early Anglo Norman societies and on the Brut narratives of Geoffrey of Monmouth Wace and La amon arguing that they use realistic landscapes in their depiction of the action embedded in their tales so demonstrating the authors grasp of the practical realities of contemporary warfare and the role played by landscapes in it chapter demonstrates the power of comparative history to illuminate the norms of proprietary queenship so often overlooked by historians of both kingship and queenship And two essays focusing on landscape bring the physical into close association with the historical on the equine landscape of eleventh and twelfth century England adding substantially to our understanding of the place of the horse in late Anglo Saxon and early Anglo Norman societies and on the Brut narratives of Geoffrey of Monmouth Wace and La amon arguing that they use realistic landscapes in their depiction of the action embedded in their tales so demonstrating the authors grasp of the practical realities of contemporary warfare and the role played by landscapes in it chapter demonstrates the power of comparative history to illuminate the norms of proprietary queenship so often overlooked by historians of both kingship and queenship And two essays focusing on landscape bring the physical into close association with the historical on the equine landscape of eleventh and twelfth century England adding substantially to our understanding of the place of the horse in late Anglo Saxon and early Anglo Norman societies and on the Brut narratives of Geoffrey of Monmouth Wace and La amon arguing that they use realistic landscapes in their depiction of the action embedded in their tales so demonstrating the authors grasp of the alliances of Christian and Muslim powers against the Ottomans Last a set of essays looks at what was arguably the most complex region of all for inter faith relations the Balkans exploring the influence of crusading ideas in the eastern Adriatic Bosnia and Romania Viewed overall this collection of essays makes a powerful contribution to breaking down the old and discredited view of monolithic and mutually exclusive fortresses of faith Nobody would question the extent and intensity of religious violence in fifteenth century Europe but this volume demonstrates that it was played out within a setting of turbulent diversity Religious and ethnic identities were volatile allegiances negotiable and diplomacy ideological exchange and human contact were constantly in operation between the period s major religious groupings Crusader Art in the Holy Land, From the Third Crusade to the Fall of Acre Jaroslav Folda, 2005-09-05 Publisher Description
