Handbook of Regional Innovation and Growth Philip Cooke, Bjørn Asheim, Ron Boschma, Ron Martin, Dafna Schwartz, Franz Tdtling, 2011-01-01 Today economic growth is widely understood to be conditioned by productivity increases which are in turn profoundly affected by innovation This volume explores these key relationships between innovation and growth bringing together experts from both fields to compile a unique Handbook The Handbook considers innovation from fresh perspectives encompassing topics such as services innovation inward investment and innovation creative industry innovation and green innovation It is divided into seven sections dealing with regional innovation and growth theory dynamics evolution agglomeration innovation worlds innovation system institutions and innovation governance and policy This definitive compendium on regional innovation and growth will undoubtedly appeal to teachers students researchers and practitioners of innovation and growth dynamics worldwide Managing Complexity and Change in SMEs P. R.

Christensen, 2006-01-01 The process of founding new enterprises and making them grow and prosper is a far more convoluted undertaking than it was just a few decades ago This book explores the complexity faced by today s entrepreneurs Institutional boundaries evolutionary perspectives and the intricacies of management are the central themes in this study of entrepreneurs and SMEs in a world marked by major transitions While mainstream research enhances our understanding of the dynamics of the entrepreneurial process this book progresses the research yet further It examines another fundamental role of research in entrepreneurship our understanding of future organizational and managerial forms evolving from the globalization process Issues addressed include growth patterns among enterprises initiated by science and technology based entrepreneurs the actions and motives driving radical entrepreneurs the role of experience versus formal education in entrepreneurship the role of endogenous growth processes managerial complexity in new knowledge based enterprises the role of collaboration for innovation in new business ventures The contributors aim to further encourage dialogue and reflections triggered by the growing emphasis on entrepreneurship in policy agendas and business communities all over Europe As such this book will prove stimulating reading for researchers students academics consultants and advisers involved in entrepreneurship business and management Regional Development Agencies: The Next Generation?

Nicola Bellini, Mike Danson, Henrik Halkier, 2012-09-10 Across Europe regional development agencies RDAs have become a central feature of regional policy both as innovative policy makers and as the implementers of programmes and initiatives originating from the national or European level By drawing on a combination of conceptual reflection surveys comparative research and systematic use of critical case studies this book provides a new point of reference by identifying key features of the current and indeed next generation of regionally based economic development organisations The New Industrial Geography Trevor Barnes, Meric S Gertler, 2002-01-04 Drawing on the theoretical resources of institutional economics The New Industrial Geography opens new perspectives in economic geography In its focus on historical and geographical context institutional embeddedness and tacit rules and formal regulations institutional economics is shown to be the perfect basis for understanding the profound economic and geographical changes of the last two decades and on which also to build a new kind of industrial geography Issues covered include the retheorization of the geography of industrial districts the analysis of institutional thickness and the economic geographical effects of institutional rigidity and sclerosis the economic geographical consequences of new regulatory bodies and policies and the geographically situated character of institutions and regulatory frameworks and the effects of separating them from their originating context the development of new strategies for achieving more equitable forms of regional development Handbook of the Economics of Innovation Bronwyn H. Hall, Nathan Rosenberg, 2010-03-25 Economists examine the genesis of technological change and the ways we commercialize and diffuse it The economics of property rights and patents in addition to industry applications are also surveyed through literature reviews and predictions about fruitful research directions Two volumes available as a set or sold separately Expert articles consider the best ways to establish optimal incentives in technological progress Science and innovation both their theories and applications are examined at the intersections of the marketplace policy and social welfare Economists are only part of an audience that includes attorneys educators and anyone involved in new technologies For too long the policy importance of innovation has taken a back seat to short term stimulus initiatives Hall and Rosenberg have assembled a scholarly collection of papers that provide a timely guide for rediscovering the role of innovation in economic growth Albert N Link University of North Carolina at Greensboro Technological Change and Regional Development in Europe Ludwig Schätzl, Javier Revilla Diez, 2012-12-06 This book presents the findings of the extensive research programme funded by the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft German Research Council and entitled Technological Change and Regional Development in Europe The goal of this programme was to carry out research by means of empirical surveys into the relationship between technological change and regional development Over a period of six years a total of 50 research projects have been undertaken in three phases each lasting two years This research programme has succeeded in actively involving leading German regional scientists from many universities as well as non university research institutions In addition numerous research projects were carried out in close co operation with internationally renowned partners We should like to express our gratitude for the support provided by the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft Without their financial backing of the research programme it would not have been possible to undertake such an ambitious project Thanks also go to the contributors of this volume for their willingness to participate in our joint project We wish in addition to acknowledge the contribution of Prof Dr Philip Cooke whose refereeing of the chapters has enhanced the quality of the work presented here Finally our thanks go to Angela Spence for her expert editorial assistance linguistic editing and the preparation of the Index and also Franco Vaio for taking care of the technical aspects and production of the final copy Their combined efforts have been crucial for successfully bringing together contributions from so many different authors in a single volume

The Economics of Knowledge Generation and Distribution Pier Paolo Patrucco, 2014-09-25 Contemporary capitalistic systems have been undergoing profound transformations determined by the transition towards the so called knowledge based economy i e a competitive system based on the capabilities firms have to create use and circulate knowledge These transformations concern both the characteristics of productive and innovative processes and the resources used in these activities This book captures these changes where traditional R D investments undertaken internally by firms are increasingly and strategically complemented by external sources of innovation and new knowledge Collaborations between firms and between firms and other organizations as well as the mobility of human capital are strategic processes in order to share and circulate knowledge and competencies They are also key determinants in the creation of new knowledge and innovation and ultimately in growth dynamics The circulation and distribution of knowledge is now a key input in the production of knowledge Knowledge and innovation are understood as the result of collective and interactive processes at the system level and less at the micro level In other words new knowledge production is less and less the result of individualistic behaviours of the firms and much more the effect of explicit and pro active interactions and transactions put in place by local networks of innovators In this perspective economic space is much more defined by the quality of the interactions among actors rather than by their mere technological sectoral or geographical proximity This book brings together new conceptual and empirical contributions and blends the analysis of the technological and geographical spaces in which innovation and knowledge are produced Innovation Clusters and Interregional Competition Johannes Bröcker, Dirk Dohse, Rüdiger Soltwedel, 2012-11-02 Empirical evidence about cluster building the emphasis of new growth theory on innovation the recent interest in economic geography and the high pressure on politicians to establish favourable conditions for attracting dynamic industries have triggered a wave of research during the last decade trying to understand more deeply why how and where clusters emerge and what factors determine their respective success or failure In this volume the world's leading experts contribute to our understanding of regional innovation cluster formation and the factors influencing regional productivity and innovative performance It provides a timely and comprehensive picture on innovation location networks and clusters as important means in an environment of intensifying interregional competition

Creative Regions Philip Cooke, Dafna Schwartz, 2008-03-25 This unique book focuses on regional creativity analysing the different factors that can affect creativity and innovation process within regions in the knowledge economy Approaching creativity from technological organizational and regional viewpoints it attempts to break down the influence of oppositional approaches and take account of multi level interactions in economy and policy The variety of papers presented looks at how regions can be creative and competitive how research and development is outsourced and the scientific knowledge and technology transferred what types of technology based cultural activities can operate the relevant financing and development of knowledge entrepreneurship Whilst many of these aspects are driven by market forces Creative Regions demonstrates that the regional and national public sectors have a significant role to play and is essential reading on how to generate a competitive advantage for regions in the knowledge economy in the global market Handbook of Regions and Competitiveness Robert Huggins, Piers Thompson, 2017-03-31 The aim of this Handbook is to take stock of regional competitiveness and complementary concepts as a means of presenting a state of the art discussion of the contemporary theories perspectives and empirical explanations that help make sense of the determinants of uneven development across regions Drawing on an international field of leading scholars the book is assembled and organized so that readers can first learn about the theoretical underpinnings of regional competitiveness and development theory before moving on to deeper discussions of key factors and principal elements the emergence of allied concepts empirical applications and the policy context

Controversies in Local Economic Development Martin Perry, 2010-07-02 This book will discuss seven controversies in local economic development including knowledge and learning the provision of resources to nurture entrepreneurial talent innovation clusters of enterprise and inward investment Innovation Performance and Clusters Nicole Röttmer, 2011-06-21 While a strong research base on cluster assets exists evidence on other factors such as capabilities i e a local culture or networks is anecdotal and dispersed across research streams Nicole Röttmer sets out to identify and describe these capabilities their impact on cluster innovativeness in the interplay with proprietary cluster resources and their development over time in a comprehensive model Micro-foundations for Innovation Policy B. Nooteboom, Erik Stam, 2008 In economics business and government policy innovation policy requires the creation of new approaches based on insight in what happens in innovation processes on the micro level of people firms and interaction between them In innovation policy it should also be recognized that innovation entails a whole range of activities beyond R D such as entrepreneurship design commercialization organization collaboration and the diffusion of knowledge and innovations This edited volume explores the roles of individuals and organizations involved in the creation and application of innovations Covering topics as diverse as the macro economic importance of innovation theories of knowledge and learning entrepreneurship education and research organizational innovation networks and regional innovation systems Micro Foundations for Innovation Policy provides critical insights into the development of innovation policy Micro-foundations for Innovation Policy E.
