Black Film As Genre:

Black Film as Genre Thomas Cripps, 1978 Philosophy, Black Film, Film Noir Dan Flory, 2008-01-01 Examines how African American as well as international films deploy film noir techniques in ways that encourage philosophical reflection Combines philosophy film studies and cultural studies Provided by publisher Redefining Black Film Mark A. Reid, 1993-02-23 This assessment of black film history distinguishes between American films that are controlled by Blacks and those which utilize black talent but are controlled by Whites The study ranges from the earliest black involvement in Hollywood to present feminist influences in black productions Afro-American Life, History and Culture , 1985 The Politics & Poetics of Black Film David C. Wall, Michael T. Martin, 2015-10-20 Written and directed by two white men and performed by an all black cast Nothing But a Man Michael Roemer 1964 tells the story of a drifter turned family man who struggles with the pressures of small town life and the limitations placed on him and his community in the Deep South an area long fraught with racism Though unmistakably about race and civil rights the film makes no direct reference to the civil rights movement Despite this intentional absence contemporary audiences were acutely aware of the social context for the film s indictment of white prejudice in America To help frame and situate the film in the context of black film studies the book gathers primary and secondary resources including the original screenplay essays on the film statements by the filmmakers and interviews with Robert M Young the film s producer and cinematographer and Khalil Gibran Muhammad the Director of the Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture Shaping the Future of African American Film Monica White Ndounou, 2014-04-29 In Hollywood we hear it s all about the money It s a ready explanation for why so few black films get made no crossover appeal no promise of a big payoff But what if the money itself is color coded What if the economics that governs film production is so skewed that no film by about or for people of color will ever look like a worthy investment unless it follows specific racial or gender patterns This Monica Ndounou shows us is precisely the case In a work as revealing about the culture of filmmaking as it is about the distorted economics of African American film Ndounou clearly traces the insidious connections between history content and cash in black films How does history come into it Hollywood s reliance on past performance as a measure of potential success virtually guarantees that historically underrepresented underfunded and undersold African American films devalue the future prospects of black films So the cycle continues as it has for nearly a century Behind the scenes the numbers are far from neutral Analyzing the onscreen narratives and off screen circumstances behind nearly two thousand films featuring African Americans in leading and supporting roles including such recent productions as Bamboozled Beloved and Tyler Perry s Diary of a Mad Black Woman Ndounou exposes the cultural and racial constraints that limit not just the production but also the expression and creative freedom of black films Her wide ranging analysis reaches into questions of literature language speech and dialect film images and narrative acting theater and film business practices production history and financing and organizational history By uncovering the ideology behind profit driven industry practices that reshape narratives by about and for people of color this provocative work brings to light existing limitations and possibilities for reworking stories and business practices in theater literature and film Black Film British Cinema II Clive Nwonka, Anamik Saha, 2021-03-02 The politics of race in British screen culture over the last 30 years vis a vis the institutional textual cultural and political shifts that have occurred during this period Black Film British Cinema II considers the politics of blackness in contemporary British cinema and visual practice This second iteration of Black Film British Cinema marking over 30 years since the ground breaking ICA Documents 7 publication in 1988 continues this investigation by offering a crucial contemporary consideration of the textual institutional cultural and political shifts that have occurred from this period It focuses on the practices values and networks of collaborations that have shaped the development of black film culture and representation But what is black British film How do such films however defined produce meaning through visual culture and what are the political social and aesthetic motivations and effects How are the new forms of black British film facilitating new modes of representation authorship and exhibition Explored in the context of film aesthetics curatorship exhibition and arts practice and the politics of diversity policy Black Film British Cinema II provides the platform for new scholars thinkers and practitioners to coalesce on these central questions It is explicitly interdisciplinary operating at the intersections of film studies media and communications sociology politics and cultural studies Through a diverse range of perspectives and theoretical interventions that offer a combination of traditional chapters long form essays shorter think pieces and critical dialogues Black Film British Cinema II is a comprehensive sustained wide ranging collection that offers new framework for understanding contemporary black film practices and the cultural and creative dimensions that shape the making of blackness and race Contributors Bidisha Ashley Clark Shelley Cobb James Harvey Melanie Hoyes Maryam Jameela Kara Keeling Ozlem Koksal Rabz Lansiquot Sarita Malik Richard Martin So Mayer Alessandra Raengo Richard T Rodriguez Tess S Skadeg rd Thorsen Natalie Wreyford Hollywood Sports Movies and the American Dream Grant Wiedenfeld, 2022 Through the heart of Hollywood cinema runs an unexpected current of progressive politics Sports movies a genre that has flourished since the mid seventies evoke the American dream and therefore represent the nation to itself in idealized form Once considered mere credos for Reaganism s fantasies of an atomized society movies from Rocky 1976 to Ali 2001 dream of democratic participation and recognition more than individual success for in every case off field relationships take precedence over on field competition Arranged chronologically Hollywood Sports Films and the American Dream is a critical study of six major sports films that re tells the story of multiculturalism s gradual adoption in the latter third of the 20th century and rewrites contemporary understandings of the sports film For author Grant Wiedenfeld the mainstream s first minority heroes are paradoxically white ethnic rural working class men exemplified by Rocky Slap Shot 1977 and The Natural 1984 and Black brown and women characters follow in White Men Can t Jump 1992 A League of Their Own 1992 and Ali But despite their insistence on community and diversity these popular dramas show limited faith in civic institutions and point to the limits of inclusion and participation in the post Civil Rights era Hannah Arendt Jeffrey Alexander and others inform Wiedenfeld's original analysis and commentary on the political significance of popular culture as he insists on the cinema's capabilities as an engine for democracy untethered from more conventional democratic institutions Reading these familiar movies from another angle paints a fresh picture of how the United States has imagined democracy since its bicentennial and renews the political efficacy of one of the most popular genres in film history
