Black Marks Minority Ethnic Audiences And Media Public Choice And Developing Societies Series:

Forthcoming Books Rose Army,2001-08 Black Marks Karen Ross,Peter Playdon,2017-07-12 This title was first published in 2001 This text brings together a collection of empirical studies focusing on the relationships which minority ethnic audiences have with and to media texts both mainstream and minority The media which comprise the focus for the essays include television film advertising magazines and the press The field of media studies has moved beyond the model of media consumer as passive recipient towards individuals and groups who are altogether more engaged responsive and critical But studies of the interactive media consumer often fail to consider the specific characteristics of race and ethnicity which come into play for minority ethnic audiences and this book aims to add to the limited knowledge of the ways in which ethnic markers intervene in textual understanding and contestation Media in the Age of Marketization Graham

Murdock,Janet Wasko,2007 This book explores the notion that the push toward marketization is the central force currently restructuring the communications landscape and examines the consequences of this development for the constitution of public culture The contributors analyze the core institutional processes of marketization and assess their impact on the structure and operations of media and communication systems around the world over the last two decades The chapters are organized over four key themes consolidation incorporation globalization and resistance Global Guide to Media &
