Black Families in Crisis Alice F. Coner-Edwards, Jeanne Spurlock, 1988 First Published in 1989 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Black Families in Therapy Nancy Boyd-Franklin, 2006-04-20 This classic text helps professionals and students understand and address cultural and racial issues in therapy with African American clients Leading family therapist Nancy Boyd Franklin explores the problems and challenges facing African American communities at different socioeconomic levels expands major therapeutic concepts and models to be more relevant to the experiences of African American families and individuals and outlines an empowerment based multisystemic approach to helping clients mobilize cultural and personal resources for change Black Families in Corporate America Susan D. Toliver, 1998-03-09 What progress have African Americans made in corporate America This book examines the evidence by drawing on studies of almost 200 black corporate managers and their families A past president of the New York State Council on Family Relations author Susan D Toliver shows that black families have progressed in corporate America but the inroads are uneven Toliver takes a penetrating look at how the cultural identity of black families has been influenced by their participation in corporate America She also suggests that corporations deepen their commitment to cultural diversity not in name only but work to emphasize the talents and develop the strengths of the African American community Black Families in Corporate America explores the following areas Shifting gender dynamics within the families of black managers Changes in approaches to parenting Issues of racial identity within corporations and the professional black community Black Families in Corporate America will appeal to scholars in ethnic studies multicultural counseling family theory sociology social work personnel management organizational development and cross cultural psychology Black Families Harriette Pipes McAdoo, 2007 Publisher Description Black Families Harold E. Cheatham, James B. Stewart, 2017-10-19 The condition and characteristics of the black family have been subjects of intense debate since at least the 1960s when the Moynihan Report and the culture of poverty theses held sway Since then a consistent theme has been that black families are pathological Despite the fact that research has been inconclusive and contradictory political debate and policy have been strongly influenced by the pathology theme This volume presents alternative approaches toward understanding the special characteristics of black families Extending a special issue of The Review of Black Political Economy the book focuses on the economic circumstances and decision making of these families employing Interdisciplinary and cross cultural perspectives It examines the general responses of black families to various external factors such as economic systems and to Internal factors such as interpersonal relationships This compendium of current thinking and research will be of interest to professionals in a number of fields Including family studies counseling social work psychology and sociology It will be of practical use in training programs for service delivery systems Interested In Incorporating multicultural perspectives as well as those specifically interested in black families today Black Families at the Crossroads Leonor Boulton Johnson, Robert Staples,2004-09-24 This updated edition of the classic book Black Families at the Crossroads offers a comprehensive examination of the diverse and complex issues surrounding Black families. Leonor Boulton Johnson and Robert Staples combine more than sixty years of writing and research on Black families to offer insights into the pre slavery development of the Black middle class internal processes that affect all class strata among Black American families the impact of race on modern Black immigrant families the interaction of external forces and internal norms at each stage of the Black family life cycle and public policies that provide challenges and promising prospects for the continuing resilience of the Black family as an American institution. This thoroughly revised edition features new research including empirical studies and theoretical applications and a review of significant social policies and economic changes in the past decade and their impact on Black families.

The Construction of Racial Identity in Children of Mixed Parentage Ilan Katz,1996 This book is a major contribution to the literature on race identity and child development and offers a radically new way of looking at some of these issues. Based on intensive research on interracial families the book reviews the previous literature relating to racial identity development and shows it to be based on flawed assumptions.

Reconstructing the Black Past Norma Myers,1996 This book examines the character and composition of the black population of Britain between 1780 and 1830 previous studies of which have been hampered by a lack of demographic evidence. Drawing heavily from data collected from parish registers contemporary newspapers and journals parliamentary papers and the records of merchants involved in the slave trade the author ventures beyond existing research to examine the age structure and sex ratios of the black population family marriage patterns and the occupations of black men and women.

Poverty and the Underclass William A. Kelso,1994-10 In contrast conservatives who once suggested that trying to eliminate poverty was futile now seek ways to eradicate its causes.

Young black people and the criminal justice system Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Home Affairs Committee,2007-06-15 Young black people and the criminal justice System Second report of session 2006 07 Vol 2 Oral and written Evidence.

Urban Change and Poverty National Research Council,Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,Committee on National Urban Policy,1988-01-01 This up to date review of the critical issues confronting cities and individuals examines the policy implications of the difficult problems that will affect the future of urban America. Among the topics covered are the income opportunities and quality of life of urban residents family structure poverty and the underclass the redistribution of people and jobs in urban areas urban economic growth patterns fiscal conditions in large cities and essays on governance and the deteriorating state of cities aging infrastructures.

Child Welfare Services for Minority Ethnic Families June Thoburn,Ashok Chand,Joanne Procter,2005 Based on extensive studies into child welfare services this important book brings together research into what works in service provision for minority ethnic families. Reviewing studies of the nature and adequacy of the services provided and the outcomes for the children and their families this book provides much needed guidance for policy and practice around issues of cultural and ethnic background and identity and puts forward suggestions for future research The authors consider in particular the complex needs and identities of minority ethnic families who might use child welfare services how families using social services view current practice the impact of the formal child protection and court systems on ethnic minority families placement patterns and outcomes for children from the different minority ethnic groups who are in residential care foster care or adopted cultural issues and matching the social worker to the family Drawing on current government statistical returns and the 2001 national census this wide ranging analysis challenges dated research and practice and proposes a revisionary agenda for future research and culturally sensitive child welfare practice making it essential reading for all child welfare professionals

Older African American Women Dorothy

Smith-Ruiz, Marcia J. Watson-Vandiver, Debra C. Smith, 2025-03-20 African American women have disproportionately high prevalence incidence and mortality rates for most health conditions in comparison to White women This book will explore some of the reasons for these disparities including problems within the health care system and societal institutions The disproportionately high number of COVID 19 deaths in the African American population especially among African American women have brought renewed attention to historical racial inequality and the role it plays in the daily lives of American women and black families in general Recommendations incorporate practical implications of this research including identifying social and financial supports unique to older African American women and determining strategies to strengthen the health needs of African American families which is also paramount to addressing economic social and racial disparities of this population Drawing on data from a variety of sources this book applies a systematic racism and intersectionality approach to how various social demographic economic and health variables influence the outcomes and the overall health status of older African American women As such it will appeal to scholars in Sociology Social Work Nursing Gerontology Social Policy Racial and Inequality Studies African American Studies Justice Studies Culture Ethnicity and Health Studies and Public Health

America's Demographic Tapestry James W. Hughes, Joseph J. Seneca, 1999

Beneath the surface of public policy concerns that seem temporary are powerful evolutionary forces with long term effects One of the most important of these is the profound demographic change taking place in America change which has extraordinary social and economic consequences and far reaching public policy implications for the future of the nation James W Hughes and Joseph J Seneca have assembled experts on demography immigration policy and family life to explain and document both changes and prospects for changes Contributors profile the contours of demographic change in America and identify select public policy challenges arising from this change They cover a wide range of demographic shifts baby booms and baby busts rising immigration increasing ethnic and racial diversity the proliferation of different household configurations economic upward mobility that stems from the information age rather than the industrial economy and suburban and sunbelt gains

Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Select Committee on Equal Educational Opportunity United States.

Congress. Senate. Select Committee on Equal Educational Opportunity,1971 The Boston Renaissance Barry Bluestone,Mary Huff Stevenson,2000-06-29 This volume documents metropolitan Boston's metamorphosis from a casualty of manufacturing decline in the 1970s to a paragon of the high tech and service industries in the 1990s The city's rebound has been part of a wider regional renaissance as new commercial centers have sprung up outside the city limits A stream of immigrants have flowed into the area redrawing the map of ethnic relations in the city While Boston's vaunted mind based economy rewards the highly educated many unskilled workers have also found opportunities servicing the city's growing health and education industries Boston's renaissance remains uneven and the authors identify a variety of handicaps low education unstable employment single parenthood that still hold minorities back Nonetheless this book presents Boston as a hopeful example of how America's older cities can reinvent themselves in the wake of suburbanization and deindustrialization A Volume in the Multi City Study of Urban Inequality Same Family, Different Colors Lori L. Tharps,2017-10-03 Weaving together personal stories history and analysis Same Family Different Colors explores the myriad ways skin color politics affect family dynamics in the United States Colorism and color bias the preference for or presumed superiority of people based on the color of their skin is a pervasive and damaging but rarely openly discussed phenomenon In this unprecedented book Lori L Tharps explores the issue in African American Latino Asian American and mixed race families and communities by weaving together personal stories history and analysis The result is a compelling portrait of the myriad ways skin color politics affect family dynamics in the United States Tharps the mother of three mixed race children with three distinct skin colors uses her own family as a starting point to investigate how skin color difference is dealt with Her journey takes her across the country and into the lives of dozens of diverse individuals all of whom have grappled with skin color politics and speak candidly about experiences that sometimes scarred them From a Latina woman who was told she couldn't be in her best friend's wedding photos because her dark skin would spoil the pictures to a light skinned African American man who spent his entire childhood trying to be Black Tharps illuminates the complex and multifaceted ways that colorism affects our self esteem and shapes our lives and relationships Along with intimate and revealing stories Tharps adds a historical overview and a contemporary cultural critique to contextualize how various communities and individuals navigate skin color politics Groundbreaking and urgent Same Family Different Colors is a solution seeking journey to the heart of identity politics so that this more subtle cousin to racism in the author's words will be exposed and confronted The State of Black America Janet Dewart,National Urban League,1988 African American Mothers and Urban Schools Wendy Glasgow Winters,1993-01-01 Wendy Winters examines here the role of parental involvement in the education of African Americans as well as the effect such involvement has in actualizing African American mothers personal growth Culled from first hand research in some of America's most at risk communities Winters combines vignettes with analysis and discussion of viable inner city programs to magnify the link between one's contributions to society and one's personal growth The "Underclass" Debate Michael B. Katz, 2018-06-05 Do ominous reports of an emerging underclass reveal an unprecedented crisis in American society Or are social commentators simply rediscovering the tragedy of recurring urban poverty as they seem to do every few decades Although social scientists and members of the public make frequent assumptions about these questions they have little information about the crucial differences between past and present By providing a badly needed historical context these essays reframe today's underclass debate Realizing that labels of social pathology echo fruitless distinctions between the deserving and undeserving poor the contributors focus not on individual and family behavior but on a complex set of processes that have been at work over a long period degrading the inner cities and inevitably the nation as a whole How do individuals among the urban poor manage to survive How have they created a dissident infrapolitics How have social relations within the urban ghettos changed What has been the effect of industrial restructuring on poverty Besides exploring these questions the contributors discuss the influence of African traditions on the family patterns of African Americans the origins of institutions that serve the urban poor the reasons for the crisis in urban education the achievements and limits of the War on Poverty and the role of income transfers earnings and the contributions of family members in overcoming poverty The message of the essays is clear Americans will flourish or fail together
