Gender, Race, and Class in Media Gail Dines, 2003 Gender, Race and Class in Media examines the mass media as economic and cultural institutions that shape our social identities. Through analyses of popular mass media entertainment genres such as talk shows, soap operas, television sitcoms, advertising and pornography, students are invited to engage in critical mass media scholarship. A comprehensive introductory section outlines the book's integrated approach to media studies, which incorporates three distinct but related areas of investigation: the political economy of production, textual analysis and audience response. The readings include a dozen new original essays edited for maximum accessibility. The book provides a comprehensive critical introduction to Media Studies. An analysis of race that is integrated into all chapters. Articles on Cultural Studies that are accessible to undergraduates. An extensive bibliography and section on media resources. Expanded coverage of queer representations in mass media. A new section on the violence debates. A new section on the Internet. Together with new section introductions, these provide a comprehensive critical introduction to mass media studies.

Equity Planning for School Leaders Todd M. Mealy, Heather Bennett, 2023-11-20 This second edition offers strategies, tips and guidance on how to promote equitable student growth across content areas. The essays in this book complement the work of school board members, administrators and community stakeholders in school districts with diverse student populations. Authors offer both empirically based and auto-ethnographic accounts about equity policy frameworks, school counseling, resource officers in urban schools, trauma-informed practices and bias disruptors. Each of the 12 essays provides templates for educators and administrators across age ranges and institution types. As demographics grow more diverse, school leaders will look for ideas to improve campus policy and practice. The contributors to this work deliver actionable steps across departments.

Tenderheaded Michaela Angela Davis, 2025-10-07 The compelling memoir that explores race, cultural representation, Black media's legacy, privilege and identity from VIBE's founding fashion editor and CNN correspondent Michaela Angela Davis. As VIBE's founding fashion editor and a CNN correspondent, Michaela Angela Davis has been at the forefront of cultural shifts, working alongside iconic figures like Diana Ross, Prince and Beyoncé. Her memoir is a celebration of Black media's vibrant history and a critical examination of its challenges and erasure in mainstream narratives. In Tenderheaded, Davis journeys back through her career as both a celebration and an interrogation of Black media, exploring the difficult truth of how historically Black media titles and brands have had such mighty culture-shifting starts then disappeared or limped along in mainstream obscurity Her story is one of self discovery and liberation as she navigates the complexities of identity politics sexism and racism within the media industry Her career has been a tapestry of glamorous adventures from the bustling streets of 1980s New York City to the exotic markets of Morocco all while styling some of the most influential figures in music and culture Yet beneath the surface of this dazzling world lies a poignant narrative of struggle and resilience Tenderheaded is not just a memoir it is a cultural manifesto that questions the legacy of Black media and the stories of Black women that remain untold Davis s narrative is both a romance and a tragedy reflecting her American life and the broader story of American media
