Spatial Politics in the Postcolonial Novel Dr Sara Upstone, 2013-04-28 In her innovative study of spatial locations in postcolonial texts Sara Upstone adopts a transnational and comparative approach that challenges the tendency to engage with authors in isolation or in relation to other writers from a single geographical setting Suggesting that isolating authors in terms of geography reinforces the primacy of the nation Upstone instead illuminates the power of spatial locales such as the journey city home and body to enable personal or communal statements of resistance against colonial prejudice and its neo colonial legacies While focusing on the major texts of Wilson Harris Toni Morrison and Salman Rushdie in relation to particular spatial locations Upstone offers a wide range of examples from other postcolonial authors including Michael Ondaatje Keri Hulme J M Coetzee Arundhati Roy Tsitsi Dangarembga and Abdulrazak Gurnah The result is a strong case for what Upstone terms the postcolonial spatial imagination independent of geography though always fully contextualised Written in accessible and unhurried prose Upstone's study is marked by its respect for the ways in which the writers themselves resist not only geographical boundaries but academic categorisation The Luxury of Nationalist Despair A.J. Simoes da Silva, 2021-11-01 This book offers a timely critique of the work of the Barbadian novelist George Lamming examining the ways in which his novels exhibit the luxury of nationalist despair and exploring the tensions between his strongly voiced anti colonialism and his ambiguously articulated politics of self Although stressing the place occupied by Lamming and his work in the context of an anti colonial first generation of nation writing that has emerged in the formerly colonized world over the past half century the study also addresses the novelist's problematic reductive focus on a nationalist project that is ultimately deeply flawed in essence the result of an uneasy relationship between form and thesis Lamming's continued struggle with the novel as a genre especially with its ability to get beyond the cultural and political baggage of colonialism demonstrates the power of one of his most poignant assertions the colonial experience is a continuing psychic experience that has to be dealt with long after the actual situation formally ends Written from a postcolonial perspective the study draws also on contemporary feminist criticism in order to examine Lamming's characteristically simplistic depiction of female characters in terms of a greater willingness to embody the neocolonial The book starts by addressing the place Lamming's work occupies both within postcolonial writing at large and specifically within Caribbean literature Subsequent chapters provide close textual readings of Lamming's six novels paired in terms of their foregrounding of issues of race gender and class Despite a clear shift in Lamming's thematic focus on the rewriting of Caliban's project with his last novel offering a basis for a re imagining of the post colonial encounter there remains a perturbing inability to relinquish the privileged stance afforded the postcolonial intellectual in self imposed exile cultural much more than geographical The book represents an important contribution to criticism on the work of one of the most influential voices in postcolonial literature of the last fifty years

Exploring the Palace of the Peacock Joyce Sparer Adler, 2003 Annotation Wilson Harris Guyanese novelist poet and surveyor is known for his experimental and complex fiction His is a unique and vivid perspective and students of West Indian literature often find his fiction daunting but it is nevertheless richly rewarding Harris's voice is distinctive and unparalleled among West Indian writers and indeed as Joyce Sparer Adler shows through his novels he engages in the ongoing literary and philosophical dialogue of the ages Adler's essays on Harris originally published in various journals are collected here for the first time and now available to a wider audience The collection includes her previously unpublished essay on Harris's cross cultural dialogue with Melville and a substantial autobiographical essay by Wilson Harris BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved "What Countrey's This? Resisting Alterities ,2021-11-01 This volume of essays poetry and prose fiction records various attempts to read the fracture zones created by the discursive strategy of a democratic imagination where space and ideas are opened to new linguistic and literary insights Pride of place is taken by essays on the Caribbean writer Wilson Harris which explore the implications of his awareness of a polyphony of coexistent voices that dislodges the hegemony of Cartesian dualism This group of studies is rounded off with an interview with and searching testimony by Harris himself The further contributions take up the implications of the encounter with alterity strangers natives barbarians in order to underline not only wonder in the face of an unknown presence or the shame through which the subject discovers itself but also the resentment involved in the creation of demonized Others As the poet Charles Tomlinson states what we take to be otherness alterity can be readmitted into our literary consciousness and seen as part of the whole causing us to readjust our awareness of the possibilities of English These essays confirm that resistance is an interface of ambivalence between discursive worlds encouraging us to read the living network of a text contrapuntally Specific topics include Billy Bragg and New Labour Schopenhauer in Britain Objectivist poetry gender and sexual identity in Nancy Cunard in Scottish fiction multivocal discourse in South Africa specific forms of alterity in Jamaica Kincaid in the poetry of Edwin Morgan in allosemitism and the deculturalizing perils of globalization

Hidden Mutualities Michael Mitchell,2006-01-01 Hidden mutualities link the work of major postcolonial writers with Christopher Marlowe s drama of the Faustian pact the manipulation of the material world in exchange for the soul written as the scientific world view was emerging which accompanied the imperial expansion of Europe and has determined the economic and social structures of the colonial and postcolonial world This fascinating study brings together researches in widely different fields to show how Doctor Faustus reflects a Gnostic Hermetic tradition marginalized within the dominant European power structures Rediscovered in the Renaissance and combined with occult arts such as alchemy and magic this living tradition informs the work of Magus figures such as Pico della Mirandola Marcilio

Ficino Trithemius Johannes Reuchlin Agrippa of Nettesheim Paracelsus and John Dee who are reflected in the Faust tradition and in Prospero in Shakespeare's The Tempest. The second part investigates the dual legacy of the Magus: A counterpoint between a law governed objective material world and an occult visionary pursuit of the divine potential of the human imagination is traced through the examples of Johan Kepler Robert Fludd Isaac Newton William Blake Rudyard Kipling Aleister Crowley W B Yeats Wolfgang Pauli and C G Jung. In the third part textual analysis reveals how attention to these Faustian themes opens new and exciting critical perspectives in appreciating the works of postcolonial writers in particular Dimetos by Athol Fugard Disappearance by David Dabydeen Omeros by Derek Walcott and the novels of Wilson Harris.

Twentieth-century Caribbean and Black African Writers Bernth Lindfors, Reinhard Sander, 1992 Essays on the post colonial Anglophone writers from Africa and the Caribbean and their works Historical Thought and Literary Representation in West Indian Literature Nana Wilson-Tague, 1998 This text is an exploration of how history has been perceived constructed and used in the fiction poetry and drama of the Caribbean. Nana Wilson Tague shows how in turn the literature has broadened the definitions of history to include deeper currents and hidden influences. The book raises questions about gender and history and the ways in which women's experiences have mediated their portrayal of the past. The author also explores the complex role of Africa in the imagination of West Indian writers. North America University Press of Florida Caribbean University of the West Indies Press Representing Scotland in Literature, Popular Culture and Iconography A. Riach, 2004-12-10 This fascinating new study is about cultural change and continuities. At the core of the book are discrete literary studies of Scotland and Shakespeare Walter Scott R L Stevenson Arthur Conan Doyle the modern Scottish Renaissance of the 1920s and more recent cultural and literary phenomena. The central theme of literature and popular representation recontextualises literary analysis in a broader multi faceted picture involving all the arts and the changing sense of what the popular might be in a modern nation. New technologies alter forms of cultural production and the book charts a way through these forms from oral poetry and song to the novel and includes studies of paintings classical music socialist drama TV film and comic books. The international context for mass media cultural production is examined as the story of the intrinsic curiosity of the imagination and the intensely local aspect of Scotland's cultural self representation unfolds. The Cumulative Book Index, 1973 A world list of books in the English language Independence 10, 1976

WILSON HARRIS : A VISION OF ONENESS S N Vikram Raj URS, 2015-08-01 It has been a painstaking study of collecting information and various interpretations from different sources. The preoccupation of Harris is to explore and discover the buried truth in the Individual psyche. I have attempted to show the wholeness of Man which is the major concern of Harris. His creative insights into the The unknown modes of being are profound. He tries to suggest an alternative vision of Reality to the upheavals and raging conflicts of the twentieth century. I have drawn parallels and comparisons to the Indian tradition of The Upanishads to argue that Man strives after the indivisible whole. I have not included his recent novels such as
