The Black Watch and the King's Enemies Bernard Fergusson, 1950 The Black Watch and the King's Enemies.
By Bernard Fergusson, Etc. [A History of the Black Watch During the Second World War.]. Great Britain. Army.
Infantry. Infantry Regiments. Black Watch (Royal Highlanders), Bernard Edward FERGUSSON (Baron Ballantrae.), 1950

Washington's Crossing David Hackett Fischer, 2006-02-01 Six months after the Declaration of Independence the American Revolution was all but lost Yet as David Hackett Fischer recounts in this riveting history George Washington and many other Americans refused to let the Revolution die On Christmas night as a howling nor easter struck the Delaware Valley he led his men across the river and attacked the exhausted Hessian garrison at Trenton killing or capturing nearly a thousand men A second battle of Trenton followed within days The Americans held off a counterattack by Lord Cornwallis's best troops then were almost trapped by the British force Under cover of night Washington's men stole behind the enemy and struck them again defeating a brigade at Princeton The British were badly shaken In twelve weeks of winter fighting their army suffered severe damage their hold on New Jersey was broken and their strategy was ruined History of the King's Regiment (Liverpool) 1914-1919 Volume I Everard Wyrall, 2012-09-03 Volume I of III This is an impressive history by the most prolific author of Great War divisional and regimental histories a fine tribute to a regiment that contributed 49 battalions to the nation's war effort 26 of them served overseas including the 2nd Battalion which was in India in August 1914 and remained there throughout the war It is also a tribute to the author who died in 1933 before he could finish the third volume the final few chapters were completed by Capt W Synge of the 1st Battalion All 23 front line battalions served on the Western Front one of them 14th in Salonika as well The Roll of Honour lists 14 200 dead six VCs were won one of them by an officer Capt O A Reid attached to another regiment and 58 Battle Honours were awarded This work is set out in chronological order each volume dealing with a specific period and ending with the Roll of Honour for that period and citations for any VC Dates are in the margin and so is the identification of the battalion involved in the action being described Volume 1 carries the story from mobilization to the end of 1915 by which time fourteen battalions had joined the Old Contemptibles of the 1st Battalion in the BEF and one of these had gone on to Salonika It has a very useful appendix listing every battalion and where it served and when As it may be imagined there is plenty of detail in a history so generous with space as this with its three volumes and the narrative is supported with clear maps A Bibliography of Regimental Histories of the British Army Arthur S. White, 2013-02-04 This is one of the most valuable books in the armoury of the serious student of British Military history It is a new and revised edition of Arthur White's much sought after bibliography of regimental battalion and other histories of all regiments and Corps that have ever existed in the British Army This new edition includes an enlarged addendum to that given in the 1988 reprint It is quite simply indispensable Alamein Jon Latimer, 2002 It also changed the way the British Army fought using concentrated artillery on a scale not seen since 1918 to break through Axis defences built in depth BOOK JACKET A History of Modern Urban Operations Gregory Fremont-Barnes, 2019-11-21 This book investigates the complexities of modern urban operations a particularly difficult and costly method of fighting and one that is on the rise Contributors examine the lessons that emerge from a range of historical case studies from nineteenth century precedents to the Battle of Shanghai Stalingrad German town clearance Mandalay and Berlin during World War II and from the Battle of Algiers to the Battle for Fallujah in 2004 Each case study illuminates the features that differentiate urban operations from fighting in open areas and the factors that contribute to success and failure The volume concludes with reflections on the key challenges of urban warfare in the twenty first century and beyond

King's African Rifles Malcolm Page, 2011-03-30 This comprehensive and complete history charts the story of the East Africans from their formation in 1902 through to the drawdown of the British Empire Soldier Whatever one may think about the rights and wrongs of colonial rule it is hard to deny that during the first half of the 20th century those African countries which then came under British administration enjoyed a period of stability which most now look back upon with a profound sense of loss Paradoxical though it may seem one of the bulwarks of that stability was each country's indigenous army Trained and officered by the British these forces became a source of both pride and cohesion in their own country none more so than the King's African Rifles founded in 1902 and probably the best known of the East African forces In this the first complete history of the East African forces Malcolm Page who himself served in the Somaliland Scouts for a number of years has had access to much new material while researching the history of each unit from its foundation to the time of independence Historians in several fields will be grateful to him for having put on record this very important period in the annals of both Great Britain and East Africa while the memories of many who served there were still fresh and they themselves will perhaps be most grateful of all for this lasting tribute to the men they served and who served them for in that shared sense of duty lay the true spirit of East African Forces

Sir Stuart Hare, 2013-01-04 The fourth volume in the unit history of the K R R C details its activities in the last years of the 19th century and the opening decade of the 20th principally the 1899 1902 Boer War The history describes the reforms which slowly replaced the amateurish army of the 19th century with the trained professional force which went to war in 1914 reforms which were hastened by the shock of the Boer War Earlier in Africa the Corps Third Battalion took part in the 1879 Zulu War and the first Boer War of 1881 including the Battle of Majuba Hill under Sir George Colley The 2nd Battalion fought in the Second Afghan War of 1878-1880 under General Roberts and the Third Battalion fought in the Egyptian campaign of 1882 and in the Sudan in 1884. The Fourth Battalion took part in colonial campaigns in India and Burma in the 1890s. The Corps took part in the major campaigns of the Boer War under Sir Redvers Buller including the Siege of Ladysmith and under Roberts and Kitchener in the later mopping up period of guerrilla warfare against the Boer commandos. The Battle Honours of the Second World War 1939-1945 and Korea 1950-1953 Compiled from official records, Terry Cave, 2012-03-29. In February 1925 the War Office published an Army Order listing the battle honours awarded for the Great War and although this was announced as the final list there were subsequent revisions and minor amendments. No such list was published after WWII but an unofficial Record was published in 1958 by the War Office with a limited distribution which included the Korean War battle honours and this is that list with 651 actions. This Record covers only British including British Gurkha Regiments and Colonial Regiments. In most cases there is a brief summary of the operations with an indication of the troops involved and these include Commonwealth troops though the question of their Battle Honours is one for the Commonwealth Government concerned and the Sovereign. There were a good many errors in the list: typographical, grammatical, misspelling of place names, dates and order of battle. In some cases there was confusion between those battle honours which were selected to be carried on the Colours and those which were simply awarded. Strange new regiments appeared: Highlanders Light Infantry a persistent favourite, King's Own Yeomanry Light Infantry, the K A R R R C London Irish Fusiliers, London Irish Buffs, Queen's Own Nigeria Regiment, an unauthorised Queen's Own and the Royal West Kent Regiment to name some of them. Place names also caused some trouble and in some of the brief descriptions of the engagements or actions there were order of battle mistakes such as the confusion between the 12th Frontier Force Regiment and 13th Frontier Force Rifles, two different regiments of the old Indian Army. The index contained scores of place names that had nothing to do with anything; this has been pruned drastically so that it contains only those places for which a battle honour was awarded. Every effort has been made to eliminate errors and present a corrected version and a number of sources was used, the most important of which was H C B Cook's The Battle Honours of the British and Indian Armies 1662-1982, a magnificent piece of work. Other valuable works included Orders of Battle Second World War 1939-1945 by H F Joslen, Commonwealth Divisions 1939-1945 by Malcolm A Bellis, A Register of the Regiments and Corps of the British Army by Arthur Swinson, Regiments and Corps of the British Army by Ian S Hallows and Handbook of British Regiments by Christopher Chant.

The King's African Rifles - Volume 2 Lieutenant-Colonel H. Moyse-Bartlett, 2012-02-13. This is a regimental history with a difference, one that is bound up with the history of the British Empire in Africa and the extension and development of British rule in the territories of Somaliland, British East Africa (redesignated Kenya from July 1920), Uganda, Nyasaland and after 1918 Tanganyika (previously German East Africa). These were the territories that were the recruiting grounds for the KAR to which officers from the British Army were seconded there were no permanent commissions in the KAR unlike the Indian Army which had its own officer structure No regiment has ever been more intimately connected with the territory through which it marched and fought or with the peoples from which it was recruited It was a unique regiment The author has arranged the book in five parts The Campaigns of the Early Regiments The Consolidation of the Regiment 1901 1914 The East Africa Campaign 1914 1918 Internal Security and Reorganization 1914 1939 and The War of 1939 1945 The story begins with the political background to the British administration in East and Central Africa up to the close of the nineteenth century During the last decade of that century three regiments were formed which were the forerunners of the K A R The Central African Regiment The Uganda Rifles and the East African Rifles These saw action in various expeditions and campaigns in Mauritius Somaliland The Ashanti War The Gambia Expedition Expeditions against the Nandi and others On 1 January 1902 the King s African Rifles came into being incorporating the original regiments as battalions six battalions 1st and 2nd Central Africa 3rd East Africa 4th and 5th Uganda and 6th Somaliland Battalions The total strength was returned as 4 683 officers and men including 104 British officers For the new regiment the main operations before WWI were the campaigns against the Mad Mullah of Somaliland involving four expeditions he wasn t finally seen off until 1920 During the Great War there were 21 battalions and at peak strength in July 1918 the K A R numbered 1 193 officers 1 497 British NCOs and 30 658 Africans casualties amounted to 5 117 with a further 3 039 died of disease The regiment s part in the campaign against von Lettow Vorbeck in East Africa is fully described The regiment was again in action during WWII taking part in three separate campaigns the defeat of the Italians in Somalia and Abyssinia the occupation of Madagascar against the opposition of the Vichy French and the reconquest of Burma when for the first time K A R battalions fought outside the continent of Africa This must be one of the best regimental histories ever written Congressional Record United States. Congress, The Congressional Record is the official record of the proceedings and debates of the United States Congress It is published daily when Congress is in session The Congressional Record began publication in 1873 Debates for sessions prior to 1873 are recorded in The Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States 1789 1824 the Register of Debates in Congress 1824 1837 and the Congressional Globe 1833 1873 History of the Scottish Highlands Sir John Scott Keltie, 1887
