Middle Passages and the Healing Place of History Elizabeth Brown-Guillory, 2006 Middle Passages and the Healing Place of History Migration and Identity in Black Women's Literature brings together a series of essays addressing black women's fragmented identities and quests for wholeness The individual essays concern culturally specific experiences of blacks in select African countries England the Caribbean the United States and Canada They examine identity struggles by establishing the Middle Passage as the first site of identity rupture and the subsequent break from cultural and historical moorings In most cases the authors themselves have migrated from their places of origin to new spaces that present challenges Their narratives replicate the displacement engendered by their own experiences of living with the complexities of diasporic existence Their female characters many of whom participate in multiple border crossings work to define themselves within a hostile environment In nearly every essay the female characters struggle against multiple yokes of oppression giving voice to what it means to be black female poor old and alone The subjects migrations and journeys are analyzed as attempts to heal the displacement both physical and psychological that results from dislocation and relocation from the homeland imagined variously as Africa This volume reveals that black women across the globe share a common ground fraught with struggles but the narratives bear out that these women are not easily divided and that they stand upon each other's shoulders dispensing healing balms Black women's history and herstory commingle the trauma that ensued when Africans were loaded onto ships in chains continues to haunt black women and men too wherever they find themselves in this present moment of the Diaspora

West African Literatures Stephanie Newell, 2006 This study of West African literatures interweaves the analysis of fiction drama and poetry with an exploration of the broader political cultural and intellectual contexts within which West African writers work Anglophone literatures form the central focus of the book with comparative comments on vernacular literature francophone writing and oral literatures and detailed discussion of selected francophone texts in translation e.g. Senghor Tadjou Beyala Ba Sembene BOOK JACKET Transnational Yearnings Jenny

Burman, 2011-01-01 The global pathways that connect cities and nations are congested with people money and cultural transmissions Transnational Yearnings is about the migrations and uneven exchanges that bind postcolonial Jamaica to the diasporic city It is about the desires intimacies and power relations that at once inform and reflect transnational migration and the diasporization of urban space This innovative and provocative book maps out a new way to look at contemporary contact zones and global interconnections as it traces circuits of migration and leisure travel between the Caribbean and Toronto a city that has become for Jamaican Canadians both a place of promise and cultural vitality and a site of criminalization and exclusion through deportation Transnational Yearnings is an important addition to recent scholarship on Caribbean transnationalism and Canadian Caribbean relations one that paints a fuller portrait of Jamaican immigrants than we often see

Writing Africa in the Short Story Ernest Emenyonu, 2013 The success of the Caine Prize for African Writing and the growth of online publishing have played key roles in putting the short story in its rightful place within the study and criticism of African literature African writers have much more than the critics recognized the beauty and potency of the short story Always the least studied in African literature classrooms and the most critically overlooked genre in African literature today the African short story is now given the attention it deserves Contributors here take a close look at the African short story to re-define its own peculiar pedigree chart its trajectory critique its present state and examine its creative possibilities They examine how the short story and the novel complement each other or exist in contradistinction within the context of culture and politics history and public memory legends myths and folklore Ernest Emenyonu is Professor of Africana Studies at the University of Michigan Flint USA the editorial board is composed of scholars from US UK and African universities Nigeria HEBN Africa After Gender? Catherine M. critical discourses in a lively and engaged way revisiting nationalist debates as well as topical issues about the performance of gendered and raced identities within poetic discourse Newly available in paperback this book is groundbreaking reading for all those interested in postcolonialism Gender Studies Caribbean Studies and contemporary poetry Who Defines Me Eid Mohamed,Yasser Fouad Selim,2014-06-19 Who Defines Me Negotiating Identity in Language and Literature is a collection of insightful articles that represent an interdisciplinary study of identity The articles start from the premise that identity is and always has been unstable and mutable which is to say that identity is constructed and deconstructed and reconstructed only to be deconstructed and reconstructed again in turn to be deconstructed and reconstructed and so on ad infinitum Time and place are variables So too as Who Defines Me underscores are ethnicity religion politics and power race and color nationality gender culture language and socio economic status With all of these variables in mind Who Defines Me focuses on language and literature as the portal through which identity is explored The overarching rubrics under which the explorations are conducted are Arabs and Muslims race identity in America and language identity Decolonizing the Academy Carole Boyce Davies,Meredith Gadsby,Charles F. Peterson,Henrietta Williams,2003 Decolonizing the Academy asserts that the academy is perhaps the most colonized space At the same time the academy is a place of knowledge and transformation As we move into the 21st century it is becoming clear that the academy is one of the primary sites for the production and reproduction of ideas that serve the interests of colonising powers This collection of essays argues the possibility of re engaging the decolonizing process at the level of knowledge and asserts that this is an ongoing project worthy of being undertaken in a variety of fields Memory and the Archival Turn in Caribbean Literature and Culture Marta Fernández Campa,2023-04-15 This book discusses an archival turn in the work of contemporary Caribbean writers and visual artists across linguistic locations and whose work engages critically with various historical narratives and colonial and postcolonial records This refiguration opens a critical space and retells stories and histories previously occluded in by those records and in spaces of the public sphere Through poetics and aesthetics of fragmentation largely influenced by music and popular culture their work encourages contrapuntal ways of re thinking histories ways that interrogate the influence of colonial narratives in processes of silencing but also centre the knowledge found in oral histories and other forms of artistic archives outside official repositories Discussing literature and selected artwork by artists from Britain Cuba the Dominican Republic Haiti Puerto Rico and Trinidad and Tobago Memory and the Archival Turn in Caribbean Literature and Culture demonstrates the historiographical significance of artistic and cultural production Caribbean Women Writers ,2024-06-24 Joyce: Feminism / Post / Colonialism ,2021-11-15 James Joyce is located between and constructed within two worlds the national and international the political and cultural systems of colonialism and postcolonialism Joyce s political project is to construct a postcolonial contra modernity to write the incommensurable differences of colonial postcolonial and gendered subjectivities and in doing so to reorient the axis of power and knowledge What Joyce dramatizes in his hybrid writing is the political and cultural remainder of imperial history or patriarchal canons a remainder that resists assimilation into the totalizing narratives of modernity Through this remainder of both politics and the psyche Joyce reveals how a minority culture can construct political and personal agency Joyce Feminism Post Colonialism edited by Ellen Carol Jones bears witness to the construction of that agency tracing the inscription of the racial and sexual other in colonial nationalist and postnational representations deciphering the history of the possible Contributors are Gregory Castle Gerald Doherty Enda Duffy James Fairhall Peter Hitchcock Ellen Carol Jones Ranjana Khanna Patrick McGee Marilyn Reizbaum Susan de Sola Rodstein Carol Shloss and David Spurr

Women's Lives/Women's Times Trev Lynn Broughton, Linda Anderson, 1997-05-23 Women's Lives Women's Times reflects the growing interest in life writing as a basis for both feminist theorizing and women centered education It discusses the many ways in which the study of autobiography can contribute to the theory practice and politics of women's studies as curriculum and to feminist theory more generally This volume is concerned with the application of theory to text particularly with the assumptions and discourses of postmodernism but also in exploring how general theories of the subject do not always fit comfortably with the specifics of autobiographical writing It also recognizes the challenge women's autobiography offers to theory taking us in its complex weave of the personal the political and the theoretical beyond the usual generic and disciplinary boundaries

Rewriting the Return of Africa Anne M. François, 2011-08-16 Rewriting The Return to Africa Voices of Francophone Caribbean Women Writers examines the ways Guadeloupean women writers Maryse Condé Simone Schwarz Bart and Myriam Warner Vieyra demystify the theme of the return to Africa as opposed to the its masculinist version by Négritude male writers from the 1930s to 1960s Négritude a cultural and literary movement drew much of its strength from the idea of a mythical or cultural reconnection with the African past allegorized as a mother figure In contrast these women writers of the post colonial era who are to large extent heirs of Négritude differ sharply from their male counterparts in their representation of Africa In their novels the continent is not represented as a propitious mother figure but a disappointing father figure This study argues that these women writers subversion of the metaphorical figure of Africa and its transformation is tied to their gender The women novelists are indeed critical of a female allegorization of the land that is reminiscent of a colonial or nationalist project and a simplistic representation of motherhood that does not reflect the complexities of the Diaspora's relation to origins and identity Unlike the primary male writers of the Négritude movement they carefully gendered the notion of return by choosing female protagonists who made their way back to the Motherland in search of identity I argue that writing is a more suitable space for the female subject seeking identity because it allows her to have a voice and become subject rather than object as that was the case with the Négritude writers The women writers shattering of the image of Mother Africa and subsequently that of Father Africa highlights the complex relationship between Africa and the Diaspora from a female point of view It shifts the identity quest of the characters towards the Caribbean which emerges as the real problematic mother a multi faceted fragmented figure that reflects the constitutive clash that occurred in the archipelago between Europe Africa and the Americas where the issues of race gender class culture ethnicity history and language are very complex      Towards a Transcultural Future: Literature and Society in a 'Post'-Colonial World 2 ,2005-01-01 This second collection complementing ASNEL Papers 9 1 covers a similar range of writers topics themes and issues all focusing on present day transcultural issues and their historical antecedents Topics treated Preparing for post apartheid in South African fiction Maori culture and the New Historicism Danish New Zealand acculturation linguistic approaches to void women s overcoming in Southern African writing new post apartheid approaches to literary studies Afrikanerdom postmodern psychoanalytic interpretations of Indian religion and identity transcultural identity in the encounter with London Malaysian Nigerian Pakistani hypertextual postmodernism fictionalized multiculturalism and female madness in Australian fiction myopia and double vision in colonial Australia Native American fiction and poetry Chinese Canadian and Japanese Canadian multiculturalism the postcolonial city African American identity and postcolonial Africa Johannesburg as locus of literary and dramatic creativity theatre before and after apartheid the black experience in England Writers discussed Lalithambika Antherjanam Ayi Kwei Armah J M Coetzee Tsitsi Dangarembga Helen Darville Lauris Edmond Buchi Emecheta Yvonne du Fresne Hiromi Goto Patricia Grace Rodney Hall Joy Harjo Bessie Head Gordon Henry Jr Christopher Hope Ruth Praver Jhabvala Hanif Kureishi Keri Hulme Lee Kok Liang Bill Manhire Zakes Mda Mike Nicol Michael Ondaatje Alan Paton Ravinder Randhawa Wendy Rose Salman Rushdie Sipho Sepamla Atima Srivastava Meera Syal Marlene van Niekerk Yvonne Vera Fred Wah Contributions by Ken Arvidson Thomas Br ckner David Callahan Eleonora Chiavetta Marc Colavincenzo Gordon Collier John Douthwaite Dorothy Driver Claudia Dupp Robert Fraser Anne Fuchs John Gamgee D C R A Goonetilleke Konrad Gross Bernd Herzogenrath Susanne Hilf Clara A B Joseph Jaroslav Ku n r Chantal Kwast Greff M Z Malaba Sigrun Meinig Michael Meyer Mike Nicol Obododimma Oha Vincent O Sullivan Judith Dell Panny Mike Petry Jochen Petzold Norbert H Platz Malcolm Purkey St phanie Ravillon Anne Holden R nning Richard Samin Cecile Sandten Nicole Schr der Joseph Swann Andr Viola Christine Vogt William Bernard Wilson Janet Wilson Brian Worsfold Creative writing by Katherine Gallagher Peter Goldsworthy Syd Harrex Mike Nicol      Hip Hop's Inheritance Reiland Rabaka,2011-03-31 Hip Hop s Inheritance arguably offers the first book length treatment of what hip hop culture has literally inherited from the Harlem Renaissance the Black Arts movement the Feminist Art movement and 1980s and 1990s postmodern aesthetics By comparing and contrasting the major motifs of the aforementioned cultural aesthetic traditions with those of hip hop culture all the while critically exploring the origins and evolution of black popular culture from antebellum America through to Obama s America Hip Hop s Inheritance demonstrates that the hip hop generation is not the first generation of young black and white folk preoccupied with spirituality and sexuality race and religion entertainment and athletics or ghetto culture and bourgeois culture Taking interdisciplinarity and intersectionality seriously Hip Hop s Inheritance employs the epistemologies and methodologies from a wide range of academic and organic intellectual activist communities in its efforts to advance an intellectual history and critical theory of hip hop culture Drawing from academic and organic intellectual activist communities as diverse as African American studies and women s studies postcolonial studies and sexuality studies history and philosophy politics and economics and sociology and ethnomusicology Hip Hop s Inheritance calls into question one dimensional and monodisciplinary interpretations or rather misinterpretations of a multidimensional and multivalent form of popular culture that has increasingly come to include cultural criticism social commentary and political analysis

Subjects That Matter Namita Goswami,2019-08-23 In this ambitious book Namita Goswami draws on continental philosophy postcolonial criticism critical race theory and African American and postcolonial feminisms to offer postcoloniality as a model for philosophical practice Moving among and between texts traditions and frameworks including the work of Gayatri Spivak Theodor Adorno Barbara Christian Paul Gilroy Neil Lazarus and Hortense Spillers among others she charts a journey that takes us beyond Eurocentrism by understanding postcoloniality as the pursuit of heterogeneity that is of a non antagonistic understanding of difference Recognizing that philosophy feminism and postcolonial theory share a common concern with the concept of heterogeneity Goswami shows how postcoloniality empowers us to engage more productively the relationships between these disciplines Subjects That Matter confronts the ways Eurocentrism an identity politics that considers difference as inherently oppositional relegates minority traditions to a diagnostic and or corrective standpoint to prevent their general implications from playing a critical and transformative role in how we understand subjectivity and agency Through unexpected often surprising and thought provoking analytic connections and continuities this book s interdisciplinary approach reveals a postcolonial pluralism that expands philosophical resources confounds and limits our habitual disciplinary lexicons and opens up new areas of inquiry
