Blackfly Season:

Tales of the Seasons Sharr Dee, 101-01-01 Tales of the Seasons is a poetic journey that brings the year's four seasons and more vividly to life through first person storytelling. Each season is portrayed as a unique character with its own voice, personality, and emotional landscape, offering readers an intimate perspective on the rhythm of nature. Spring speaks of renewal and blooming joy; Summer exudes energy and brightness; Autumn reflects on change and nostalgia; and Winter whispers of stillness and quiet beauty. The book also explores lesser-known seasons like Fishing Season and Festival Season, showing how nature's cycles deeply influence human culture and daily life. By personifying the seasons, the stories turn familiar transitions into immersive narratives, encouraging readers to experience nature's changes as heartfelt conversations. Written in a warm, accessible style, Tales of the Seasons aims to inspire a deeper appreciation for the natural world, reminding us that the seasons are more than weather—they're living stories shaping life on Earth. Erratic North Mark

Frutkin, 2008-08-15 In geology, an erratic is a boulder or rock formation transported some distance from its original source, as by a glacier. In award-winning novelist Mark Frutkin's case, his movement from his native Cleveland, Ohio, was instigated by his wish to protest and resist the U.S. military draft during the Vietnam War, and his destination was Canada. An estimated 50,000 to 100,000 American Vietnam War draft resisters sought sanctuary in Canada. Many of these men stayed, became Canadian citizens, and have made significant contributions to the country, including writers such as William Gibson, George Fetherling, Keith Maillard, and Jay Scott; musicians Jesse Winchester and Jim Byrnes; children's performer Eric Nagler; and radio personality Andy Barrie. Although this first nonfiction work by Mark Frutkin looks back at the circumstances and culture of the late 1960s and early 1970s that prompted the author to relocate to Canada, Erratic North is about many other things. It's also a lyrical meditation about returning to nature in the bush country of Quebec and an account of the crucible that forged one writer. Tying everything together, though, is the overarching theme of the book: a contemplation of humanity's embrace of war and violence and the countervailing impulse to resist that embrace, specifically as seen in the experience of Frutkin himself, his grandfather Simon, who escaped Tsarist Russia and its military in the 1890s, and Louis Drouin, the Quebec farmer Frutkin bought his original farm from and who resisted conscription in World War II. River of Mountains Peter Lourie, 2023-11-15 Lourie completed his trip. It took him three weeks and marked the first time anyone has traveled from the source of the Hudson to the mouth in a single vessel. The Hudson proved to be a very changeable river. It includes seven locks and nine power dams. The northern half is a true river with strong current, but the lower half is tidal, a sunken river from the days of glaciers. In its first 165 miles, it drops more than 4,000 feet to Albany. The second half falls no more than a foot. Lourie's account of his trip is a fresh look at one of America's great and complex waterways, one of the few in fact that still contains its historical and biological species of fish. It is also the longest inland estuary in the world. Henry Hudson called it the great river of the mountains. Nowadays, too often, the Hudson is stereotyped as a ruined, polluted industrial river. Its glorious past is compared to its present neglect In River of Mountains Peter Lourie combines the Hudson s rich history and descriptions of some of the region s most impressive landscape with the residents of its mill towns the loggers commercial fishermen and barge pilots all of whom are proof that the river is still a thriving vital waterway So come with Peter Lourie on his trip come explore with him from a canoe one of this country s great rivers join him in his wonderful adventure Fifty Down Fifty to Go Dan Belch,2013-05 Fifty Down Fifty To Go is a collection of stories infused with humourous anecdotes drawn from the author s experiences growing up in a small town in rural Ontario It is ripe with hilarious characters and adventures mixed with a healthy dose of thought provoking morals intermingled with observations of the changes that have evolved in our North American society during this short period of our history This book has a broad appeal to all those who claim to be baby boomers and share a sense of humour about our shared experiences Sit back enjoy reminisce Consuming Desires Roger Rosenblatt,2006-12 Consider this paradox Ecologists estimate that it would take three planets Earth to provide an American standard of living to the entire world Yet it is that standard of living to which the whole world aspires In Consuming Desires award winning writer and social commentator Roger Rosenblatt brings together a brilliant collection of thinkers and writers to shed light on the triumphs and tragedies of that disturbing paradox The book represents a captivating salon offering a rich and varied dialogue on the underlying roots of consumer culture and its pervasive impact on ourselves and the world around us Each author offers a unique perspective their layers of thoughts and insights building together to create a striking multifaceted picture of our society and culture Jane Smiley probes the roots of consumerism in the emancipation of women from household drudgery afforded by labor saving devices and technological innovation Alex Kotlowitz describes the mutual reinforcement of fashion trends as poor inner city kids and rich suburban kids strive to imitate each other Bill McKibben discusses the significance and the irony of defining yourself not by what you buy but by what you don t buy The essays range widely but two ideas are central to nearly all of them that consumption is driven by yearning and desire often unspoken seemingly insatiable and that what prevents us from keeping our consumptive impulse in check is the western concept of self the solitary and restless self entitled to all it can pay for As Rosenblatt explains in his insightful introduction Individualism and desire are what makes us great and what makes us small Freedom is our dream and our enemy The essays touch on these paradoxes and while all are too nuanced and graceful to preach easy reform they give an idea of what reform means where it is possible and in some cases where it may not be as desirable as it appears In the Spirit Monica Graham,2025-09-19 The wonder of a human hand the tenacity of trillium the restorative power of a hymnal these topics and many more are explored in this thought provoking collection of 80 spiritual essays from author journalist Monica Graham Taken from the best of the Chronicle Herald column of the same name In the Spirit explores with wit and wonder our human relationship with spirituality and religion With a journalist s curiosity Graham asks the tough questions on a variety of subjects from the implications of declining church membership to Sunday shopping to the merits of curiosity and acceptance in faith but urges readers gently to come to their own conclusions Whether we pray out loud or in silence at the pub or the pew this collection boldly holds each of us accountable to and responsible for our own spirituality however we may choose to practice
