Blacklines Contemporary Critical Writing By Indigenous Australians:

Blacklines Ian Anderson, Michele Grossman, 2003 Written by established and emerging Indigenous intellectuals from a variety of positions perspectives and places these essays generate new ways of seeing and understanding Indigenous Australian history culture identity and knowledge in both national and global contexts From museums to Mabo anthropology to art feminism to film land rights to literature the essays collected here offer provocative insights and compelling arguments around the historical and contemporary issues confronting Indigenous Australians today Blacklines Michele

Grossman, 2012 The Routledge Handbook of Tourism and the Environment Andrew Holden, David A. Fennell, 2013 This handbook explores and critically evaluates the debates and controversies inherent to tourism's relationship with nature especially pertinent at a time of major re-evaluation of our relationship with the environment as a consequence of the environmental problems we now face A Companion to Australian Aboriginal Literature Belinda Wheeler, 2013 This international collection of eleven original essays on Australian Aboriginal literature provides a comprehensive critical companion that contextualizes the Aboriginal canon for scholars researchers students and general readers Australian Aboriginal literature once relegated to the margins of Australian literary studies now receives both national and international attention Not only has the number of published texts by contemporary Australian Aboriginals risen sharply but scholars and publishers have also recently begun recovering earlier published and unpublished Indigenous works Writing by Australian Aboriginals is making a decisive impression in fiction autobiography biography poetry film drama and music and has recently been anthologized in Oceania and North America Until now however there has been no comprehensive critical companion that contextualizes the Aboriginal canon for scholars researchers students and general readers This international collection of eleven original essays fills this gap by discussing crucial aspects of Australian Aboriginal literature and tracing the development of Aboriginal literacy from the oral tradition up until today contextualizing the work of Aboriginal artists and writers and exploring aspects of Aboriginal life writing such as obstacles toward publishing questions of editorial control or the lack thereof intergenerational and interracial collaborations combining oral history and life writing and the pros and cons of translation into European languages Contributors Katrin Althans Maryrose Casey Danica Cerce Stuart Cooke Paula Anca Farca Michael R Griffiths Oliver Haag Martina Horakova Jennifer Jones Nicholas Jose Andrew King Jeanine Leane Theodore F Sheckels Belinda Wheeler Belinda Wheeler is Associate Professor of English at Claflin University Orangeburg SC

Rethinking Social Justice Tim Rowse, 2012 Culture Remaking Literary History Helen Groth, Paul Sheehan, 2009-10-02 History is always written wrong and so always needs to be rewritten George Santayana Enquiries into the relationship between literature and history continue to stir up intense critical and scholarly debate Alongside the new hybrid categories that have emerged out of this ferment life writing ficto criticism history from below and so on there has been a welter of new literary histories new ways of tracking the connections between the written word and the historically bound world This has resulted in renewed discussion about distinguishing the literary from the non literary about dialogues taking place between different national literatures and about ascertaining the relative status of the literary text in relation to other cultural forms Remaking Literary History seeks to clarify the diversity of issues and positions that have arisen from these debates Central to the book s approach is a rigorous and constructive questioning of the past across disciplinary boundaries This is carried out through four detailed and engrossing sections that explore the relationship between memory and forgetting what it means to be subject to history the upsurge of interest in trauma and redemption and the question of historical reinvention which demonstrates how the overwriting of history continues to reinvigorate the literary imagination As well as readers of literature and history Remaking Literary History will be of interest to students of literary theory legal studies and cultural and media studies

Narrative Life Neil Hooley, 2009-04-29 Indigenous education is one of the great challenges facing humanity in the historic quest for a democratic and peaceful future The 370 million Indigenous peoples of the world demand that the racist and colonial wrongs of the past be rectified and that they stand as equals in confronting the social political and cultural problems that surround us all Education offers a way forward whether concerned with the public good schooling for all citizens including universal primary education and expanding secondary education the education of women regardless of background the inclusion of local cultures literacy and numeracy for all as a democratic right and the provision of comprehensive education that enables both personal aspiration cultural satisfaction and economic pathways What this means is that all children no matter where they live no matter what their background or the colour of their skin should expect to have access to education of the highest quality This does not impose a particular style of education for local communities but respects that educational directions must be decided independently by countries themselves Within this general context there is also something most profound about Indigenous knowing of appreciating Indigenous perspectives and applying these across all knowledge across all subjects of a curriculum Rather than accepting the one often highly conservative and dominant view of knowledge teaching and learning for all schools Indigenous perspectives offer other insights and means of analysis reflection and critique These can open up fields of creative and critical learning for all children including the dispossessed marginalised and disenfranchised

Australian Fiction as Archival Salvage Frances A. Johnson, 2015-11-16 Australian Fiction as Archival Salvage examines key developments in the field of the Australian postcolonial historical novel from 1989 to the present In parallel with this analysis A Frances Johnson undertakes a unique study of in kind creativity reflecting on how her own nascent historical fiction has been critically and imaginatively shaped and inspired by seminal experiments in the genre by writers as diverse as Kate Grenville Mudrooroo Kim Scott Peter Carey Richard Flanagan and Rohan Wilson Mapping the postcolonial novel against the impact of postcolonial cultural theory and Australian writers intermittent embrace of literary postmodernism this survey is also read against the post millennial history and culture wars which saw politicizations of national debates around history and fierce contestation over the ways stories of Australian pasts have been written A Companion to Australian Literature Since 1900 Nicholas Birns, Rebecca McNeer, 2007 A fresh twenty first century look at Australian literature in a broad inclusive and multicultural sense The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Memory Sharon Deane-Cox, Anneleen Spiessens, 2022-05-29 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Memory serves as a timely and unique resource for the current boom in thinking around translation and memory The Handbook offers a comprehensive overview of a contemporary and as yet unconsolidated research landscape with a four section structure which encompasses both current debate and future trajectories Twenty four chapters written by leading and emerging international scholars provide a cross sectional snapshot of the diverse angles of approach and case studies that have thus far driven research into translation and memory A valuable far reaching range of theoretical empirical reflective comparative and archival approaches are brought to bear on translational sites of memory and mnemonic sites of translation through the examination of topics such as traumatic postcolonial cultural literary and translator memory This Handbook is key reading for advanced undergraduates postgraduates and researchers in translation studies memory studies and related areas Southern Imagining Elleke Boehmer, 2025-12-30 A new compass for global reading looking at the world from the far southern latitudes A northern viewpoint is most often the default while the south the far southern latitudes occupied by Australia New Zealand Argentina and southern Africa among others seems far away and ignorable In Southern Imagining Elleke Boehmer offers an alternative perspective using literary scientific and cultural material to explore how we look at the world from the south Reading she argues is a transformative means of reversing our usual planetary orientation and rearranging our perceptual geography Boehmer examines writing from across southern continents and islands considering how we imaginatively inhabit the farthest reaches of our planet Creators ranging from the Portuguese epic poet Lu s de Cam es to Samuel Taylor Coleridge Charles Darwin Katherine Mansfield Jorge Luis Borges and ancient Indigenous storytellers capture the edgy and austere experiences of the far south For Boehmer imaginative work stimulates and shapes our phenomenological understanding Southerners often see themselves as far away from where things count as outsiders internalising the wider global sense of their relative insignificance Conversely when northerners read or hear legends narratives songs and poems from the south it is as if they are located in the south at least for the duration of the reading or listening Boehmer suggests that the south tilted world map re centred through song and story invites us to claim a more involved sense of belonging to our planet both its north and its south The writers of the south disrupt conventional ways of seeing and invite us to inhabit our globe differently The Aboriginal Story of Burke and Wills Ian Clark, Fred Cahir, 2013-07-22 The Aboriginal Story of Burke and Wills is the first major study of Aboriginal associations with the Burke and Wills expedition of 1860 61 A main theme of the book is the contrast between the skills perceptions and knowledge of the Indigenous people and those of the new arrivals and the extent to which this affected the outcome of the expedition The book offers a reinterpretation of the literature surrounding Burke and Wills using official correspondence expedition journals and diaries visual art and archaeological and linguistic research and then complements this with references to Aboriginal oral histories and social memory It highlights the interaction of expedition members with Aboriginal people and their subsequent contribution to Aboriginal studies The book also considers contemporary and multi disciplinary critiques that the expedition members were on the whole deficient in bush craft especially in light of the expedition s failure to use Aboriginal guides in any systematic way Generously illustrated with historical photographs and line drawings The Aboriginal Story of Burke and Wills is an important resource for Indigenous people Burke and Wills history enthusiasts and the wider community This book is the outcome of an Australian Research Council project Murray River Country Jessica K. Weir,2009 This book discusses the water crisis from a unique perspective the intimate stories of love and loss from the perspectives of Aboriginal people who know the inland rivers as their traditional country These experiences bring a fresh narrative to contemporary water debates about living in the Murray Darling Basin and how we should look to more sustainable ways to live in Australia as our approach to water is changing in the face of water scarcity drought climate change and water mismanagement This book brings new insights to these issues by focusing our attention on what Indigenous people from along the Murray are experiencing saying and doing New Horizons in International Comparative Literature Cao Shunqing,Theo D'haen,Yang Qing,Zhai Lu,Zhou Shu,Li Shen,Xia Tian,2024-04-17 Bringing together 16 articles by renowned scholars from around the globe this volume offers a multi dimensional view of comparative and world literature Drawing on the scope of these scholars collective intellects and insights it connects disparate research contexts to illuminate the multi dimensional views of related areas as we step into the third decade of the 21st century The book will be of particular interest to scholars working in comparative literary and cultural studies and to readers interested in the future of literary studies in a cross culturized world

The Cambridge History of Australian Literature Peter Pierce,2009-09-17 Draws on scholarship from leading figures in the field and spans Australian literary history from colonial origins indigenous and migrant literatures as well as representations of Asia and the Pacific and the role of literary culture in modern Australian society Indigenous and Minority

Placenames Ian D. Clark,Luise Hercus,Laura Kostanski,2014-08-01 This book showcases current research into Indigenous and minority placenames in Australia and internationally Many of the chapters in this volume originated as papers at a Trends in Toponymy conference hosted by the University of Ballarat in 2007 that featured Australian and international speakers The chapters in this volume provide insight into the quality of toponymic research that is being undertaken in Australia and in countries such as Canada Finland South Africa New Zealand and Norway The research presented here draws on the disciplines of linguistics geography history and anthropology The book includes meticulous studies of placenames in central NSW and the Upper Hunter region Gundungurra cave names western Arnhem Land Northern Cape

York Peninsula and Mount Wheeler in Queensland saltwater placenames around Mer in the Torres Strait and the Kaurna in South Australia

Cultural Memory and Literature Diane Molloy, 2015-10-20 Cultural memory involves a community's shared memories the selection of which is based on current political and social needs A past that is significant to a national group is reimagined by generating new meanings that replace earlier certainties and fixed symbols or myths This creates literary syncretisms with moments of undecidability The analysis in this book draws on Renate Lachmann's theory of intertextuality to show how novels that blur boundaries without standing in for history are prone to intervene in cultural memory A brief overview of Aboriginal politics between the 1920s and the 1990s in relation to several novels provides historical and political background to the links between and problems associated with cultural memory testimony trauma and Stolen Generations narratives which are discussed in relation to Sally Morgan's My Place and Doris Pilkington's Rabbit Proof Fence There follows an analysis of novels that respond to the history of contact between Aboriginal and settler Australians including Kate Grenville's historical novels The Secret River The Lieutenant and Sarah Thornhill as examples of a traditional approach David Malouf's Remembering Babylon charts how language and naming defined our early national narrative that excluded Aboriginal people Intertextuality is explored via the relation between Thea Astley's The Multiple Effects of Rainshadow Chloe Hooper's The Tall Man and the Royal Commission into Aboriginal Deaths in Custody Kim Scott's Benang from the Heart and That Deadman Dance and Alexis Wright's Carpentaria reflect a number of Lachmann's concepts syncretism dialogism polyphony Menippean satire and the carnivalesque Suggested is a new way of reading novels that respond to Australia's violent past beyond trauma studies and postcolonial theory to re-imagine a different syncretic past from multiple perspectives

Midwifery Sally Pairman, Sally K. Tracy, Carol Thorogood, Jan Pincombe, 2010 Midwifery Preparation for Practice 2e is the only text which reflects the historical and socio-political environment in which midwives in Australia and New Zealand practice In addition it is the only text which incorporates the philosophy and standards endorsed by New Zealand and Australian Colleges of Midwives while also focusing on the partnership between midwives with women and the woman-centred model of midwifery care The second edition has built on the existing philosophy and structure of Midwifery Preparation for Practice though with a greater emphasis on the development of critical thinking and researching skills Key chapters have been re-written to reflect recent changes in government legislation while current research and pertinent examples are included throughout the text This new edition is supported by a comprehensive suite of resources for both Instructors and Students using the Evolve website as a platform These ancillaries will re-enforce the critical thinking elements for students with interactive case studies and scenario-based learning exercises as well as the multiple choice questions

Made to Matter Fiona Probyn-Rapsey, 2013 Most members of the Stolen Generations had white fathers or grandfathers Who were these white men This book analyses the stories of white fathers men who were positioned as key players in the plans to assimilate Aboriginal people by breeding out the colour The plan to breed out the colour ascribed enormous power to white sperm and white paternity to elevate uplift and disperse Aboriginality in whiteness to blank out to aid cultural forgetting The policy was a cruel failure not least because it conflated skin colour with culture and assumed that Aboriginal women and their children would acquiesce to produce future whites It also assumed that white men would comply as ready appendages administering whiteness through marriage or white sperm This book attempts to put textual flesh on the bodies of these white fathers and in doing so builds on and complicates the view of white fathers in this history and the histories of whiteness to which they are biopolitically related
