of 1897 Bob Henderson the traveller captures our living history in its relationship to the land best expressed through the Norwegian quote nature is the true home of culture The diversity of fascinating content includes the ancient James Bay landmark the Wonderful Stone the mountain treks of naturalist Mary Schaffer Warren the west coast observations of George Vancouver practices such as dog sledding warm winter camping and canoeing that allow for heritage insights the trails of Dundas Ontario the exploits of missionary Gabriel Sagard the recluse Louis Gamache of Anticosti Island the abandoned gravesites along the coast of Newfoundland to name but a few As historian Michael Bliss once said We have to find a way to make history smell again Author Bob Henderson brings the fragrance of the past into the present and invites us to imagine and participate Like an enthused hummingbird too eager to land Bob Henderson leads a wide ranging tour of the vast garden of Canadian history and landscape Once entrusted with the scent of intrigue we are invited to follow these stories and trails deeper make them speak and inform our own travels and impressions Here are stepping stones and touchstones paths toward richer engagements via a storied and fabulous past Alexandra a log cabin set back in the woods had caught my eye Though very old it was in good shape there was no lock on the door A framed note beside it read Leave as you found it The interior was neat and tidy a complete set of blackened pots hung on the walls a small stack of kindling by the open door of a Findlay stove A perfect place I thought to myself As I turned to take in the rest of the cabin I saw before me Canada Yukon rivers Labrador fiords Prairie medicine wheels Superior s north shore portage and trail it was all there before me across space and time As I stood there ghosts emerged from the walls trappers cowboys ill fated explorers lucky canoeists all in the same room all eager to tell their stories Such is the nature of Bob Henderson s wonderful book Ian Tamblyn songwriter Watch for More Trails More Tales coming November 2014 Stories of Yellowstone Mark M. Miller,2014-12-02 Covering the time period from 1807 when John Colter first discovered the wonders of the Yellowstone Plateau to the 1920s when tourists sped between luxury hotels in their automobiles these tales of Wonderland come from the letters journals and diaries kept by early visitors and later tourists The earliest stories recount mountain men s awe at geysers hurling boiling water hundreds of feet into the air and their encounters with the native inhabitants of the region The latest stories reflect the civilizing of the park and reveal the golden age of tourist travel in the area Blazed Trail Stories Stewart Edward White,2020-03-31 I first met him one Fourth of July afternoon in the middle eighties The sawdust streets and high board sidewalks of the lumber town were filled to the brim with people The permanent population dressed in the stiffness of its Sunday best escorted gingham wives or sweethearts a dozen outsiders like myself tried not to be too conspicuous in a city smartness but the great multitude was composed of the men of the woods I sat chairtilted by the hotel watching them pass Their heavy woollen shirts crossed by the broad suspenders the red of their sashes or leather shine of their belts their short kersey trousers staggered off to leave a gap between the knee and the heavily spiked cork boots all these were distinctive enough of their class but most interesting to me were the eyes that peered from beneath their little round hats tilted rakishly askew They were all subtly alike those eyes Some were black some were brown or gray or blue but all were steady and unabashed all looked straight at you with a strange humorous blending of aggression and respect for your own business and all without exception wrinkled at the corners with a suggestion of dry humor In my half conscious scrutiny I probably stared harder than I knew for all at once a laughing pair of the blue eyes suddenly met mine full and an ironical voice drawled
