New Drugs in Cancer Chemotherapy S.K. Carter, Y. Sakurai, H. Umezawa, 2013-03-09 The Analog Potential in Cancer Chemotherapy in the United States and Japan S K Carter Northern California Cancer Program 1801 Page Mill Road Building B Suite 200 USA Palo Alto CA 94304 The bilateral collaborative program in cancer research between Japan and the United States is one of the oldest programs of this type It is sponsored in the United States by the National Cancer Institute 1 while in Japan the sponsoring organization is the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science Annual symposia concerning treatment have been held and in recent years they have been published 2 3 Drug development in both Japan and the United States has evolved over the years to an increasing emphasis on second generation compounds This has come about as a result of the initial successes of chemotherapy development Many active structures have been uncovered and the armamentarium of the medical and pediatric oncologist has grown dramatically The uncovering of an active structure provides an opportunity for analog synthesis and attempts at elucidating structure activity relationships It is hoped that the therapeutic index of active structures can be improved so as to achieve superior clinical results

Structure-Activity Relationships of Anti-Tumour Agents D.N. Reinholdt, T.A. Connors, H.M. Pinedo, K.W. van de Poll, 2012-12-06 The Workshop series of the Koningin Wilhelmina Fonds is a feature of the interest of this Foundation to promote research and education in the field of cancer aiming to improve prognosis of the cancer patient For almost a century surgery has now been the main treatment modality for the cancer patient During the past 50 years radiation therapy has developed as a second important modality of treatment However neither of the two modalities are able to cure the majority of cancer patients as the disease is so often metastasized at presentation Cancer chemotherapy is a modality which does have the potential to cure patients with this advanced stage of disease In recent years the three modalities have been combined more and more and here is one of the reasons why the perspectives for the cancer patient have improved so much In addition certain types of cancers such as testicular carcinoma childhood tumors choriocarcinoma non Hodgkin lymphomas and others can now indeed often be cured by chemotherapy alone even if the disease is advanced The combination of drugs and the use of new drugs have greatly contributed to this development There are two main groups of new drugs analogs and new structures A great number of analogs of conventional structures have been developed during the past ten years A typical example of this group is adriamycin which is an analog of daunomycin

Muggia, 2012-12-06 As in CANCER CHEMOTHERAPY 1 this volume brings to the reader highlights in three different areas of cancer therapeutics new concepts and models drug classes and clinical settings Topics were chosen because of their timeliness or probable current impact in cancer treatment Authors were selected on the basis of their ability to provide a critical overview of specific subjects and their involvement in original work I shall review the aims of this second volume and then elaborate on the scope of its contents The principal aim of the volumes on cancer chemotherapy in the Cancer Treatment and Research series as stated in the preface to the first volume is to assemble in a concentrated form selected ingredients of chemotherapeutic progress These ingredients are to include concepts in therapeutic strategy pre clinical studies development of major classes of compounds identification of new directions and of landmarks of clinical progress Thus we do not foresee overlap with series which provide an yearly update of chemotherapy in an encyclopedic manner or reviews of cancer chemotherapy Unlike those publications our volumes are not intended to seek a place in shelves as a reference manual It is this Editor's hope that persons representing various biomedical disciplines will seek the Cancer Treatment and Research chemotherapy volumes to survey advances in the field at regular intervals Cancer in Children P.A. Voute, A. Barrett, H.J.G. Bloom, J. Lemerle, M.K. Neidhardt, 2012-12-06 Cancer in Children is the first volume in this new series sponsored by the DICC on the treatment of cancer The editors and authors feel strongly that more standardization is needed on a worldwide basis in cancer therapy This of course is only possible if experts from all countries subscribe to a joint policy of making their treatment designs available to practising oncologists all over the world Current Treatment of Cancer will discuss all the equipment and methods now in use in cancer therapy It will cover all types of cancer thus providing the reader with comprehensive information on cancer management The appearance of a book on paediatric oncology as the first in the series is intentional in recent decades there has been a tremendous improvement in the treatment of cancer in children and there is hope for even further success in this fight We are convinced that this book and the series it is introducing will help us to make a concerted response to the challenge of cancer Transition Metal Complexes as Drugs and Chemotherapeutic Agents N. Farrell, 2012-12-06 When this book was first conceived as a project the expanding interest in the clinical use of platinum and gold complexes made a survey of the relevant biological properties of metal complexes timely and appropriate This timeliness has not diminished during the gestation and final publication of the manuscript The introduction contains an explanation of the layout and approach to the book which I wrote as an overall survey of the wide variety of biological properties of metal complexes Hopefully the reader will see the parallels in mechanisms and behavior even in different organisms The writing was considerably helped by the enthusiasm and confidence totally unearned on my part in the project of Professor Brian James and owe him my special thanks I also owe a great debt of gratitude to my colleagues and especially to Eucler Paniago of the Universidade Federal de Minas Gerais for their comprehension and for the initial leave of absence which allowed me to begin the project To those who read some or all of the manuscript and made suggestions Bernhard Lippert Kirsten Skov and Tom Tritton as well as the editor's reviewer I am also grateful As usual the final responsibility for errors or otherwise rests with the author

Annual Report - National Cancer Institute, Division of Cancer Treatment National Cancer Institute (U.S.). Division of Cancer Treatment, Cancer in Adolescents and Young Adults Archie Bleyer, Ronald Barr, Lynn Ries, Jeremy Whelan, Andrea Ferrari, 2016-11-17 This is the second edition of the only book to be devoted exclusively to the total cancer picture in adolescents and young adults AYA now expanded from the age range 15-29 to that of 15-39 years For each of the diverse spectrum of cancers encountered in the AYA group the epidemiology natural progression diagnostic approaches and treatment options are described with special emphasis on strategies for early detection and prevention Comparison is made with management of both younger and older patients and model programs are presented that address common diagnostic staging treatment and psychosocial shortcomings in the AYA group Detailed attention is also paid to principles and practices of care with consideration of psychosocial and quality of life issues social support systems rehabilitation late effects insurance and economic aspects of health care among other topics The authors make compelling arguments for integrated strategies that allow young adults to benefit from the combined expertise of pediatric and adult oncologists in systems that identify both the complex disease and the social issues specific to this population The proposed models of care include relationships with other specialties that do not specifically target this age group i.e. infectious disease endocrinology pulmonary medicine nephrology gastroenterology thoracic and abdominal surgery urology otolaryngology and neurosurgery New patterns of communication are advocated and endorsed as essential for productive interaction involving these specialties References are extensive and are oriented toward users in pediatric hematology oncology medical oncology radiation oncology surgical oncology gynecologic oncology oncology nursing psycho-oncology social work epidemiology public health and health services research The contributing authors are from the United States the United Kingdom Canada Italy France Israel Switzerland and Australia Germany Japan and the Netherlands

Head and Neck Oncology Gregory T. Wolf, 2012-12-06 Where do you begin to look for a recent authoritative article on the diagnosis or management of a particular malignancy The few general oncology textbooks are generally out of date Single papers in specialized journals are informative but seldom comprehensive these are more often preliminary reports on a very limited number of patients Certain general journals frequently publish good in depth reviews of cancer topics and published symposium lectures are often the best overviews available Unfortunately these reviews and supplements appear sporadically and the reader can never be sure when a topic of special interest will be covered Cancer Treatment and Research is a series of authoritative volumes which aim to meet this need It is an attempt to establish a critical mass of oncology literature covering virtually all oncology topics revised frequently to keep the coverage up to date easily available on a single library shelf or by a single personal subscription We have approached the problem in the following fashion First by dividing the oncology literature into specific subdivisions such as lung cancer genitourinary cancer pediatric oncology etc Second by asking eminent authorities in each of these areas to edit a volume on the specific topic on an annual or biannual basis Each topic and tumor type is covered in a volume appearing frequently and predictably discussing current diagnosis staging markers all forms of treatment modalities basic biology and more

Cytochrome P-450 Paul Ortiz De

Monetllano,2013-06-29 Major advances have been made in recent years in clarifying the molecular properties of the cytochrome P 450 system These advances stem in practical terms from the generally recognized importance of cytochrome P 450 in the metabolism of drugs and in the bioactivation of xenobiotics to toxic products The fascinating multiplicity and differential regulation of cytochrome P 450 isozymes and their ability to catalyze extraordinarily difficult chemical transformations have independently drawn many chemists and biochemists into the P 450 circle Progress in the field from a technical point of view has been propelled by the development of reliable procedures for the purification of membrane bound enzymes by the growing repertoire of molecular biological techniques and by the development of chemical models that mimic the catalytic action of P 450 As a result our understanding of the P 450 system is moving from the descriptive pharmacological level into the tangible realm of atomic detail The rapid progress and multidisciplinary character of the cytochrome P 450 field which cuts across the lines that traditionally divide disciplines as diverse as inorganic chemistry and genetics have created a need for an up to date evaluation of the advances that have been made It is hoped that this book with its molecular focus on the cytochrome P 450 system will alleviate this need The authors of the individual chapters have strived to emphasize recent results without sacrificing the background required to make their chapters comprehensible to informed nonspecialists
