Translated, with an Introd., by George Boas* Saint Bonaventure (Cardinal), 1953 The Destruction of Jerusalem, or Titus and Vespasian Kara L. McShane, Mark J. B. Wright, 2021-10-29 Within the English fall of Jerusalem tradition nearly all scholarly attention has gone to Siege of Jerusalem which has enjoyed critical and pedagogical attention of late Michael Livingston's 2004 edition with the Middle English Texts Series MIP drew attention to the text and Adrienne Williams Boyarin has recently published a new translation with Broadview Press that appears in the Broadview Anthology of British Literature's medieval volume and as a stand alone volume With this edition of the Destruction of Jerusalem we hope to bring the poem which is extant in more copies than Siege into the conversation METS MIP is precisely the right series and press to publish Destruction The work would complement METS volumes such as The King of Tars Richard Coeur de Lion and Crusades romances such as Three Middle English Charlemagne Romances Indeed given METS's broad offerings in Middle English romance the series is a natural home for Destruction Destruction would be of tremendous value particularly in courses focused on Crusades world While postmodern thinkers religious and secular alike have generally sought to respond to the hubris of Western thought by humbling our presumptuous claims to knowledge D C Schindler shows in this book that only a robust confidence in reason can allow us to remain genuinely open both to God and to the deep mystery of things Drawing from both contemporary and classical theologians and philosophers Schindler explores the basic philosophical questions concerning truth knowledge and being and proposes a new model for thinking about the relationship between faith and reason The reflections brought together in this book bring forth a dramatic conception of human knowing that both strengthens our trust in reason and opens our mind in faith
