Fundamental Concepts of Children's Literature Research Hans-Heino Ewers, 2009-06-15

In this book Ewers provides students and professors with a new system of categorization for a differentiated description of children's literature

In the early 1970s Swedish children's literature scholar G te Kingberg worked to establish a system of scientific terminology for international use but these terms are now somewhat antiquated

This book offers a much needed update systematically analyzing the field and articulating its key definitions terms and concepts

International in scope this study touches on subjects including the distribution of primers and textbooks the means by which children's books are evaluated and classified and the ways in which children's literature can find an adult audience

Also discussed are the system of symbols norms concepts and discourses that have evolved during the past two centuries leading to an investigation of how authors and publishers have endeavored to make literature appropriate for children and of what it means to accommodate children's needs wishes and values Throughout Ewers provides concrete examples and clear definitions of terms so that any scholar interested in children s literature will find this book approachable insightful and one that crosses cultural boundaries

Ethics and Children's Literature Claudia Mills, 2016-05-13 Exploring the ethical questions posed by in and about children s literature this collection examines the way texts intended for children raise questions of value depict the moral development of their characters and call into attention shared moral presuppositions The essays in Part I look at various past attempts at conveying moral messages to children and interrogate their underlying assumptions What visions of childhood were conveyed by explicit attempts to cultivate specific virtues in children What unstated cultural assumptions were expressed by growing resistance to didacticism How should we prepare children to respond to racism in their books and in their society Part II takes up the ethical orientations of various classic and contemporary texts including prosaic ethics in the Hundred Acre Wood moral discernment in Narnia ethical recognition in the distant worlds traversed by L Engle and virtuous transgression in recent Anglo American children s literature and in the emerging children s literature of 1960s Taiwan Part III s essays engage in ethical criticism of arguably problematic messages about our relationship to nonhuman animals about war and about prejudice The final section considers how we respond to children s literature with ethically focused essays exploring a range of ways in which child readers and adult authorities react to children s literature Even as children s literature has evolved in opposition to its origins in didactic Sunday school tracts and moralizing fables authors parents librarians and scholars remain sensitive to the values conveyed to children through the texts they choose to share with them
