Book Of Gifts And Rarities:

Book of Gifts and Rarities Ahmad ibn al-Rashid Ibn al-Zubayr, 1996 This work is a translation and study of a ninth through fifteenth century manuscript Kit b al Had y wa al Tu af The manuscript furnishes a wealth of varied information offering insights into the period immediately preceding Islam and extending through the first four centuries of Islamic rule The Languages of Gift in the Early Middle Ages Wendy Davies, Paul Fouracre, 2010-09-02 This book is a collection of original essays on gift in the early Middle Ages from Anglo Saxon England to the Islamic world Focusing on the languages of gift the essays reveal how early medieval people visualized and thought about gift and how they distinguished between the giving of gifts and other forms of social economic political and religious exchange The same team largely that produced the widely cited The Settlement of Disputes in Early Medieval Europe Cambridge University Press 1986 has again collaborated in a collective effort that harnesses individual expertise in order to draw from the sources a deeper understanding of the early Middle Ages by looking at real cases that is at real people whether peasant or emperor The culture of medieval gift has often been treated as archaic and exotic in this book by contrast we see people going about their lives in individual down to earth and sometimes familiar ways Medieval Islamic Civilization Josef W. Meri, 2006 Examines the socio cultural history of the regions where Islam took hold between the 7th and 16th century This two volume work contains 700 alphabetically arranged entries and provides a portrait of Islamic civilization It is of use in understanding the roots of Islamic society as well to explore the culture of medieval civilization Islam and Tibet Anna Akasoy, Charles S. F. Burnett, Ronit Yoeli-Tlalim, 2011 The first encounters between the Islamic world and Tibet took place in the course of the expansion of the Abbasid Empire in the eighth century The significance of these interactions has been long ignored in scholarship These papers explore for the first time the multi layered contacts between the Islamic world Central Asia and the Himalayas from the eighth century until the present day in a variety of fields including art history history of science literature archaeology and anthropology The Emperor and the Elephant Sam Ottewill-Soulsby, 2025-09-23 A new history of Christian Muslim relations in the Carolingian period that provides a fresh account of events by drawing on Arabic as well as western sources In the year 802 an elephant arrived at the court of the Emperor Charlemagne in Aachen sent as a gift by the Abbasid Caliph Harun al Rashid This extraordinary moment was part of a much wider set of diplomatic relations between the Carolingian dynasty and the Islamic world including not only the Caliphate in the east but also Umayyad al Andalus North Africa the Muslim lords of Italy and a varied cast of warlords pirates and renegades The Emperor and the Elephant offers a new account of these relations By drawing on Arabic sources that help explain how and why Muslim rulers engaged with Charlemagne and his family Sam Ottewill Soulsby provides a fresh perspective on a subject that has until now been dominated by and seen through western sources The Emperor and the Elephant demonstrates the fundamental importance of these diplomatic relations to everyone involved Charlemagne and Harun al Rashid s imperial ambitions at home were shaped by their dealings abroad Populated by canny border lords who lived in multiple worlds the long and shifting frontier between al Andalus and the Franks presented both powers with opportunities and dangers which their diplomats sought to manage Tracking the movement of envoys and messengers across the Pyrenees the Mediterranean and beyond and the complex ideas that lay behind them this book examines the ways in which Christians and Muslims could make common cause in an age of faith Gifts in the Age of Empire Sinem Arcaç Casale, 2023-07-28 Explores the Safavid and Ottoman empires through the lens of gifts When the Safavid dynasty founded in 1501 built a state that championed Iranian identity and Twelver Shi'ism it prompted the more established Ottoman Empire to align itself definitively with Sunni legalism The political religious and military conflicts that arose have since been widely studied but little attention has been paid to their diplomatic relationship Sinem Arcaç Casale here sets out to explore these two major Muslim empires through a surprising lens gifts Countless treasures such as intricate carpets gilded silver cups and ivory tusk knives flowed from the Safavid to the Ottoman Empire throughout the sixteenth century While only a handful now survive records of these gifts exist in court chronicles treasury records poems epistolary documents ambassadorial reports and travel narratives Tracing this elaborate archive Casale treats gifts as representative of the complicated Ottoman Safavid coexistence demonstrating how their rivalry was shaped as much by culture and aesthetics as it was by religious or military conflict Gifts in the Age of Empire explores how gifts were no mere accessories to diplomacy but functioned as a mechanism of competitive interaction between these early modern Muslim courts The 'book' of Travels Palmira Johnson Brummett, 2009 The early modern era is often envisioned as one in which European genres both narrative and visual diverged indelibly from those of medieval times This collection examines a disparate set of travel texts dating from the thirteenth to the seventeenth centuries to question that divergence and to assess the modes themes and ethnologies of travel writing It demonstrates the enduring nature of the itinerary the variant forms of witnessing including imaginary maps the crafting of sacred space as a cautionary tale and the use of the travel narrative to represent the transformation of the authorial self Focusing on European travelers to the expansive East from the soft architecture of Timur's tent palaces in Samarqand to the ambiguities of sexual identity at the Mughal court these essays reveal the possibilities for cultural translation as travelers of varying experience and attitude confront remote and foreign or not so foreign space

The Oliphant Avinoam Shalem, 2004-08-01 Setting a group of medieval carved ivory horns in the specific artistic and historical context in which they were manufactured used and re-used this book presents a mine of information for the study of medieval history The first chapters explore such technical aspects as the cutting and carving of oliphants and also the broader issues of the morphology of ivory and its availability in the Mediterranean basin in the Middle Ages On the basis of specific carving methods and varying vocabulary of motifs the oliphants are organized into groups and their probable sites of production are suggested The core of this volume however is the attempt to place them in their specific historical context The purpose of their mass production namely their patronage and original function is explored but also their reception and new functions in the church treasuries of Latin Europe is broadly discussed Prefacing the Image David J. Roxburgh, 2001 thirty eight women who were as the title suggests consorts to those in power most of them concubines of the early Abbasid caliphs and wives of latter day caliphs and sultans This slim but illuminating volume is one of the few surviving texts by Ibn al Sa i d 674 H 1276 AD Ibn al Sa i was a prolific Baghdadi scholar who chronicled the academic and political elites of his city functions regularly followed specific strategies rituals and symbols of communication This is true for religious as well as for secular images One can recognize these strategies and rituals through analyzing the patterns that occur in the varieties of image construction image space image messages and their perception This book contains contributions by international

 Hilsdale, 2014-02-20 The Late Byzantine period 1261 1453 is marked by a paradoxical discrepancy between economic weakness and cultural strength The apparent enigma can be resolved by recognizing that later Byzantine diplomatic strategies despite or because of diminishing political advantage relied on an increasingly desirable cultural and artistic heritage This book reassesses the role of the visual arts in this era by examining the imperial image and the gift as reconceived in the final two centuries of the Byzantine Empire In particular it traces a series of luxury objects created specifically for diplomatic exchange with such courts as Genoa Paris and Moscow alongside key examples of imperial imagery and ritual By questioning how political decline refigured the visual culture of empire Cecily J Hilsdale offers a more nuanced and dynamic account of medieval cultural exchange that considers the temporal dimensions of power and the changing fates of empires Global Gifts Zoltán Biedermann, Anne Gerritsen, Giorgio Riello, 2018 Global Gifts considers the role that the circulation of material culture played in the establishment of early modern global diplomacy The Fatimids

Tales Things Tell Finbarr Barry Flood, Beate Fricke, 2023-11-21 How can we understand the past in the absence of written records Pre modern histories of cross cultural exchange pose a particular problem for medieval historians They are marked by the long distance mobility of concepts individuals and materials and many of them cannot be reconstructed from the standard source texts on which historians usually depend They exist without named makers both outside and beyond official documents and court chronicles The same is true of artisans responsible for crafting objects whose circulation and reception defined aesthetic economic and technological networks that may not have conformed to political or sectarian boundaries Authored by two leading medieval historians of the Middle East Africa and Europe Object Lessons addresses the gaps in medieval sources and modern scholarship arguing for the archival value of objects images and monuments Flood and Fricke examine six case studies that focus on the twelfth and thirteenth centuries From the stone carvings at the churches of Lalibela Ethiopia which have no textual documentation to medicinal bowls from Iraq for which some data can be gathered from unassociated but contemporary sources these studies show how imagery and objects traveled across continents The authors connect the histories of medieval Europe Africa and west Asia and raise significant questions about out of place objects and how in the absence of substantial archival material we might write their histories While there have been many publications on the histories of global circulation most of them focus on the early modern period in Europe By moving away from histories with abundant written archival material Object Lessons ventures far beyond the narratives of Europe and into complex cross cultural and intercontinental histories of objects and images

The Emperor and the World Alicia Walker, 2012-04-30 Byzantine imperial imagery is commonly perceived as a static system In contrast to this common portrayal this book draws attention to its openness and responsiveness to other artistic traditions Through a close examination of significant objects and monuments created over a 350 year period from the ninth to the thirteenth century Alicia Walker shows how the visual articulation of Byzantine imperial power not only maintained a visual vocabulary inherited from Greco Roman antiquity and the Judeo Christian tradition but also innovated on these artistic precedents by incorporating styles and forms from contemporary foreign cultures specifically the Sasanian Chinese and Islamic worlds In addition to art and architecture this book explores historical accounts and literary works as well as records of ceremonial practices thereby demonstrating how texts ritual and images operated as integrated agents of imperial power Walker offers new ways to think about cross cultural interaction in the Middle Ages and explores the diverse ways in which imperial images employed foreign elements in order to express particularly Byzantine meanings

Emperor's Hand Timothy Dawson,2015-09-30 As absolute as Hitler s control over the German war machine was it depended on the ability judgment and unquestioning loyalty of the senior officers charged with putting his ideas however difficult into effect Top military historian James Lucas examines the stories of fourteen of these men all of different rank from varied backgrounds and highly awarded they exemplify German military prowess at its most dangerous Among his subjects are Eduard Dietl the commander of German forces in Norway and Eastern Europe Werner Kampf one of the most successful Panzer commanders of the war and Kurt Meyer commander of the Hitler Youth Division and one of Germany s youngest general officers The author one of the leading experts on all aspects of German military conduct of the Second World War offers the reader a rare look into the nature of the German Army a curious mix of individual strength petty officialdom and pragmatic action Global Trade in the Early Medieval World Toslima Khatun,2025-02-18 Exploring the movement of peoples perfumes and spices across vast distances in this period of medieval history across Asia the Middle East and Europe this book examines the role of Arab merchants in trade between and among the Caliphal and Carolingian elites The study of the trade in perfumes and spices highlights the relationship between the South Asian subcontinent and the Caliphate It is shown that the societies involved in this intercontinental maritime trade intermingled through the demand for goods and products which allowed for the transmission of ideas and learning Crucially the Eurasian end of these trading routes were tapping into pre existing networks of trade as there is evidence that there were links of trade between East Asia and the near and Middle East as early as the seventh century B H first century A D Thus the book challenges the Eurocentric worldview which fails to take into account that the Europeans in the late medieval period came into a pre existing trading network This book will be of interest to readers in economic history as well as the history of trade globalisation South Asia the Middle East and the Medieval world
