The Canadian Short Story Reingard M. Nischik, 2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada's flagship genre It continues to attract the country's most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood Mavis Gallant Alice Munro Carol Shields and many others Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre's beginnings through the twentieth century A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre's development in Canada the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story Reingard M Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance Germany The BBC National Short Story Award 2019 Lucy Caldwell, Lynda Clark, Jacqueline Crooks, Tamsin Grey, Jo Lloyd, 2019-09-06 Including the winning story The Invisible by Jo Lloyd A young boy takes delight in his mother's ability to shapeshift from one animal to another only realising how odd she is when it comes to parents evening The values of a small farming village are challenged by talk of a well heeled community living on the other side of the lake that only one person can see A writer researching the life of a 19th century child custody reformer discovers all too many parallels between that century and ours The stories shortlisted for the 2019 BBC National Short Story Award with Cambridge University variously explore the sanctity of the home and family and the instinct to defend what's closest to us Against a backdrop of danger or division characters sometimes struggle like the 15 year old charged with looking after her siblings whilst her mother works through the night and sometimes succumb like the young woman who allows herself to be manipulated by an older richer man But in each case these stories demonstrate what Nikki Bedi argues in her introduction short stories are not a warm up act they're the main event Bright examples of what it means to write short fiction and to write it well STORGY As ever the BBC National Short Story Award has an intriguing shortlist The winner is an entirely beguiling story Daily Mail Modernism, Postmodernism, and the Short Story in English, 2012-01-01 How can the short story help to redefine modernism postmodernism and their interrelationship What is the status of the short story in modern literary history These are the central questions that the essays collected in this volume try to answer from different perspectives through readings of short fiction in English and accounts of the genre's theorisations The essays by a group of international scholars tackle theoretical issues that are central in approaches to both movements such as periodisation autonomy high vs popular literature totality vs fragmentation surface vs depth otherness representation and above all the subject and its vicissitudes Because it blends theory based arguments into the approaches to the short fiction of mainly canonical authors Joyce Woolf Lewis Ballard Carter Rushdie or Wallace Modernism Postmodernism and the Short Story in English is of interest not only to readers and scholars of the short story but also to those coming from the fields of literary theory and literary history *The Complete Works of F.
