Book Of African Verse By Reed John And Wake Clive:

West African Poetry Robert Fraser, 1986-09-04 Previous studies of African poetry have tended to concentrate either on its political content or on its relationship to various European schools This book examines West African poetry in English and French against the background of oral poetry in the vernacular Do the roots of such poetry lie in Africa or in Europe In committing their work to writing do poets lose more than they gain Can the immediacy of oral performance ever be recovered Robert Fraser's account of two centuries of West African verse examines its subjugation to a succession of international styles from the heroic couplet to the austerity of experimental Modernism Successive chapters take us through the Negritude movement and the emergence of anglophone free verse in the 1950s to the rediscovery in recent years of the neglected springs of orality which is the subject of the concluding chapter The Oxford Guide to Literature in English

Translation Peter France, 2000 This guide highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the process of translating and the choices involved making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Hungarian Korean to Turkish For some works e g Virgil's Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available A Book of African Verse, Compiled and Ed. by John Reed, Clive Wake John Reed, Clive Wake, 1970 Translation, Rewriting, and the Manipulation of Literary Fame Andre Lefevere, 2016-10-26 Lefevere explores how the process of rewriting works of literature manipulates them to ideological and artistic ends so that the rewritten text can be given a new sometimes subversive historical or literary status Africa Writes Back James Currey, 2022-10-31 June 17 2008 is the fiftieth anniversary of the publication of Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart by Heinemann This publication provided the impetus for the foundation of the African Writers Series in 1962 with Chinua Achebe as the editorial adviser Africa Writes Back The African Writers Series and the Launch of African Literature captures the energy of literary publishing in a new and undefined field Portraits of the leading characters and the many consultants and readers providing reports and advice to new and established writers make Africa Writes Back a stand out book James Currey's voice and insights are an added bonus

Free-Lancers and Literary Biography in South Africa Stephen Gray, 2021-11-01

This collection is concerned with the problems and pleasures of writing literary biography in the context of South African writing. Stephen Gray's introduction outlines the choice faced by the researcher between writing revisionist history, la Strachey, and the personal bias the portraitist must take into account when conducting the retrieval, especially of lost and enigmatic figures. la Symons Concentrating on the unattached irregulars of the arts in South Africa, often the arts of their times, Gray stresses the value of the free lance figure in the formation of an evolving colonial and post colonial literature. Subjects included are Charles Maclean, alias John Ross, who recorded his experiences of the Zulu King Shaka in Natal's first captivity narrative; Douglas Blackburn, rated as the successor of Swift for his satires of the Anglo Boer War conflict; Beatrice Hastings, polymath journalist whose lovers included Katherine Mansfield and Amedeo Modigliani; Stephen Black, founder of indigenous South African drama in English; Edward Wolfe, the Bloomsbury painter who began as a child actor in the mining town of Johannesburg; Bessie Head, who became the Botswana based wise woman of African literature before her untimely death in 1986, yet never knew her own origins; Etienne Leroux, the Free State rancher who in Afrikaans wrote much banned postmodernist novels; Mary Renault, whose bestselling novels set in Ancient Greece peculiarly represented the shutdown of democracy in apartheid South Africa; Sipho Sepamla, stalwart of the Soweto Poetry school which came to prominence after the 1976 Soweto uprising; and Richard Rive, novelist, cultural commentator and liberation icon, murdered in his prime. The portrait gallery of the figures who have shaped and defined the role of literature in South Africa is both revealing and provocative, showing the route taken by some lesser known talents in their struggle to establish the rights of authors in an often indifferent or repressive state. British Books, 1912 General Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum, Department of Printed Books, 1965
