Unlocking the Church William Whyte, 2017-09-29 The Victorians built tens of thousands of churches in the hundred years between 1800 and 1900 Wherever you might be in the English speaking world you will be close to a Victorian built or remodelled ecclesiastical building Contemporary experience of church buildings is almost entirely down to the zeal of Victorians such as John Henry Newman Henry Wilberforce and Augustus Pugin and their ideas about the role of architecture in our spiritual life and well being In Unlocking the Church William Whyte explores a forgotten revolution in social and architectural history and in the history of the Church He details the architectural and theological debates of the day explaining how the Tractarians of Oxford and the Ecclesiologists of Cambridge were embroiled in the aesthetics of architecture and how the Victorians profoundly changed the ways in which buildings were understood and experienced No longer mere receptacles for worship churches became active agents in their own rights capable of conveying theological ideas and designed to shape people s emotions These church buildings are now a challenge their maintenance repair or repurposing are pressing problems for parishes in age of declining attendance and dwindling funds By understanding their past unlocking the secrets of their space there might be answers in how to deal with the legacy of the Victorians now and into the future
