Horak, 2019-05-01 In the 1920s Los Angeles enjoyed a buoyant homegrown Spanish language culture comprised of local and itinerant stock companies that produced zarzuelas stage plays and variety acts After the introduction of sound films Spanish language cinema thrived in the city s downtown theatres screening throughout the 1930s 1940s and 1950s in venues such as the Teatro El ctrico the California the Roosevelt the Mason the Azteca the Million Dollar and the Mayan Theater among others With the emergence and growth of Mexican and Argentine sound cinema in the early to mid 1930s downtown Los Angeles quickly became the undisputed capital of Latin American cinema culture in the United States Meanwhile the advent of talkies resulted in the Hollywood studios hiring local and international talent from Latin America and Spain for the production of films in Spanish Parallel with these productions a series of Spanish language films were financed by independent producers As a result Los Angeles can be viewed as the most important hub in the United States for the production distribution and exhibition of films made in Spanish for Latin American audiences In April 2017 the International Federation of Film Archives organized a symposium Hollywood Goes Latin Spanish Language Cinema in Los Angeles which brought together scholars and film archivists from all of Latin America Spain and the United States to discuss the many issues surrounding the creation of Hollywood s Cine Hispano The papers presented in this two day symposium are collected and revised here This is a joint publication of FIAF and UCLA Film Television Archive

The Reopening of the American Mind James W. Vice,2021-11-15 The Reopening of the American Mind On Skepticism and Constitutionalism explores the connection of moderate skepticism with attachment to constitutionalism through the thought of five writers The features of this skepticism were concisely delineated by James Madison in the 37th Federalist as a recognition of the complexity of political matters the limitations of human reason and the shortcomings of language The position was first articulated by Cicero who connected it with the idea of a mixed or republican constitution developed by trial and error over generations Cicero was influential in the world of David Hume Edmund Burke and Madison The skeptical constitutional connection found its most articulate recent advocate in Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter and underlay his advocacy of judicial restraint Current events have revived interest in the primacy of the legislative branch in balancing interests and rights in the States as laboratories for democracy and in an experimental approach to the solution of social problems in what might be called a reopening of the American mind The five central chapters explore the skeptical constitutional connection and the spirit of moderation in these political thinkers Without an appreciation of this tradition of avoiding dogmatism people will continue to demand simple answers to complex problems The book is not however primarily a tract for the times but a reflection on the on going search for a more civil world an educator with many years of experience in directing English as a Second Language ESL and cross cultural programs Kathleen Gripman spotted a troubling gap in the educational preparation of many students Learning the essentials of American history is a critical educational milestone but most overviews of America s story are designed for reading levels beyond the ability of most English Language Learners Gripman decided to fill that gap with the richly illustrated and fun to read book American History Made Easy The book begins with the meeting of European and native cultures in what is now the U S after the voyage of Christopher Columbus in 1492 The story continues through the American Revolution the expansion of the nation in the 1800s the Civil War and key events in America s most recent century of challenges and triumphs To make students studying easier the book also includes lots of supplemental materials among them study questions the text of the U S Constitution a list of American authors and recommended reading a glossary and an index Gripman had the perfect qualifications to meet this challenge as a successful business owner supervising ESL educators in southeast Michigan and as a developer of some of the literacy training materials used in her programs Gripman also had lived overseas including five years of service in Europe with the U S Navy She designed her overview of American history for the millions of English Language Learners ELL including English as a Second Language students who are studying each year across the United States The book can be used either in a classroom or for self study Between these covers Gripman narrates the essential chapters of American history written at an intermediate reading level and accompanied by original black and white sketches and charts to deepen reader recall In selecting the chapters to include she drew on the questions frequently asked on exams and certification tests that immigrants commonly encounter making the book a practical way to prepare for testing Most importantly Gripman decided not to distill America s story into a series of dry facts to be memorized Writing in an engaging narrative style her book also is ideal for any reader who wants an overview of the essentials of American history

American Dictionary of Printing and Bookmaking Wesley Washington Pasko,1894 Brewing and Liquor Interests and German Propaganda United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary,1919 Teaching and Supporting English Learners: A Guide to Welcoming and Engaging Newcomers Eugenia Mora-Flores,Stephanie Dewing,2022-12-16 Learn how to best support English learners and address the needs of newcomers This professional book provides step by step strategies for teachers of ELs Written by Eugenia Mora Flores and Stephanie Dewing this book offers practical tips to help teachers bring English language instruction into any classroom With this meaningful resource teachers will meet English learners diverse needs and make newcomers feel safe and welcome Inventing the New Negro Daphne Lamothe,2013-03-01 It is no coincidence Daphne Lamothe writes that so many black writers and intellectuals of the first half of the twentieth century either trained formally as ethnographers or worked as amateur collectors of folklore and folk culture In Inventing the New Negro Lamothe explores the process by which key figures such as Zora Neale Hurston Katherine Dunham W E B Du Bois James Weldon Johnson and Sterling Brown adapted ethnography and folklore in their narratives to create a cohesive collective and modern black identity Lamothe explores how these figures assumed the roles of self reflective translators and explicators of African American and African diasporic cultures to Western largely white audiences Lamothe argues that New Negro writers ultimately shifted the presuppositions of both literary modernism and modernist anthropology by making their narratives as much about ways of understanding as they were about any quest for objective knowledge In critiquing the ethnographic framework within which they worked they confronted the classist racist and cultural biases of the dominant society and challenged their readers to imagine a different set of relations between the powerful and the oppressed Inventing the New Negro combines an intellectual history of one of the most important eras of African American letters with nuanced and original readings of seminal works of literature It will be of interest not only to Harlem Renaissance scholars but to anyone who is interested in the intersections of culture literature folklore and ethnography
