Neuropsychological Foundations of Conscious Experience Jason W. Brown,2010-06 Neuropsychological Foundations of Conscious Experience retraces the growth of microgenetic theory from its beginnings in neuropsychology and aphasia in relation to other genetic models of cognition The account of the mind brain state and subjective time and change is explored in relation to psychoanalytic concepts of the unconscious as well as philosophical ideas on intentionality subjectivity and truth In a final chapter the theory aims to elucidate creative thinking and mystical experience The primary aim is to aid the reader to see the progression from clinical studies to theoretical speculation in a way that condenses more extensive and technical writings This book should appeal to both lay and professional readers with an interest in these topics It is the author s contention that microgenetic theory is the only available and fully coherent account of the mind that covers not only clinical disorders but normal cognition and metapsychological issues relating to an evolutionary brain model Jason W Brown for over 30 years Clinical Professor of Neurology at New York University is best known for his microgenetic theory The theory began with observations on language disorders and neuropsychological studies and was extended to problems in process theory especially that of time change and related issues in philosophy of mind The author lectures widely on various topics and has published 8 books and over 200 articles

The Anthropology of Magic Susan Greenwood,2020-05-28 Magic is arguably the least understood subject in anthropology today Exotic and fascinating it offers us a glimpse into another world but it also threatens to undermine the foundations of anthropology due to its supposed irrational and non scientific nature Magic has thus often been explained away by social or psychological reduction The Anthropology of Magic redresses the balance and brings magic as an aspect of consciousness into focus through the use of classic texts and cutting edge research Suitable for student and scholar alike The Anthropology of Magic updates a classical anthropological debate concerning the nature of human experience A key theme is that human beings everywhere have the potential for magical consciousness Taking a new approach to some perennial topics in anthropology such as shamanism mythology witchcraft and healing the book raises crucial theoretical and methodological issues to provide the reader with an engaging and critical understanding of the dynamics of magic Join the live discussion on Facebook

The Power of Religious Societies in Shaping Early Modern Society and Identities Rose-Marie Peake,2025-10-01 The Power of Religious Societies in Shaping Early Modern Society and Identities studies the value system of the French Catholic community the Filles de la Charit or the Daughters of Charity in the first half of the seventeenth century An analysis of the activities aimed at edifying morality in the different strata of society revealed a Christian anthropology with strong links to medieval traditions The book argues that this was an important survival strategy for the Company with a disconcerting religious identity the non cloistered lifestyle of its members engaged in charity work had been made unlawful in the Council of Trent Moreover the directors Louise de Marillac and Vincent de Paul also had to find ways to curtail internal resistance as the sisters rebelled in quest of a more contemplative and enclosed vocation
