Black British Literature Mark Stein, 2004 In this fascinating book Mark Stein examines black British literature centering on a body of work created by British based writers with African South Asian or Caribbean cultural backgrounds Linking black British literature to the Bildungsroman genre this study examines the transformative potential inscribed in and induced by a heterogeneous body of texts Capitalizing on their plural cultural attachments these texts portray and purvey the transformation of post imperial Britain Stein locates his wide ranging analysis in both a historical and a literary context He argues that a cross cultural and interdisciplinary approach is essential to understanding post colonial culture and society The book relates black British literature to ongoing debates about cultural diversity and thereby offers a way of reading a highly popular but as yet relatively uncharted field of cultural production With the collapse of its empire with large scale immigration from former colonies and with ever increasing cultural diversity Britain underwent a fundamental makeover in the second half of the twentieth century This volume cogently argues that black British literature is not only a commentator on and a reflector of this makeover but that it is simultaneously an agent that is integral to the processes of cultural and social change Conceptualizing the novel of transformation this comprehensive study of British black literature provides a compelling analytic framework for charting these processes The Cambridge Introduction to Modern British Fiction, 1950-2000 Dominic Head, 2002-03-07 In this introduction to post war fiction in Britain Dominic Head shows how the novel yields a special insight into the important areas of social and cultural history in the second half of the twentieth century Head's study is the most exhaustive survey of post war British fiction available It includes chapters on the state and the novel class and social change gender and sexual identity national identity and multiculturalism Throughout Head places novels in their social and historical context He highlights the emergence and prominence of particular genres and links these developments to the wider cultural context He also provides provocative readings of important individual novelists particularly those who remain staple reference points in the study of the subject Accessible wide ranging and designed specifically for use on courses this is the most current introduction to the subject available An invaluable resource for students and teachers alike

Unity in Diversity Revisited? Barbara Korte, Klaus Peter Müller, 1998 Translation of Cultures Petra Wittke-Rüdiger, Konrad Gross, 2009 The contributors to this collection approach the subject of the translation of cultures from various angles Translation refers to the rendering of texts from one language into another and the shift between languages under precolonial retelling transcreation colonial domestication and postcolonial multilingual trafficking conditions

Growing up with Two Cultures. A Psychoanalytical Reading of "Anita and Me" by Meera Syal, 2023-03-02 Seminar paper from the year 2017 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1.3 University of Paderborn Anglistik Amerikanistik course Meera Syal language English abstract My term paper is aimed at finding out how Meena's identity changes throughout the book and how growing up with two cultures affects this process The analysis mainly sections into four parts The first step will be to explain Freud's fundamental theory including his significant technical terms After that I will explain how the English and Indian culture are presented in the novel Then I will transfer Freud's hypotheses to Meena's behaviour by finding appropriate examples in the novel In the end I will complete my work by summing up my findings as well as reflecting them Unreliable Truths Sissy Helff, 2013 While many people see home as the domestic sphere and place of belonging it is hard to grasp its manifold implications and even harder to provide a tidy definition of what it is Over the past century discussion of home and nation has been a highly complex matter with broad political ramifications including the realignment of nation states and national boundaries Against this backdrop this book suggests that home is constructed on the assumption that what it defines is constantly in flux and thus can never capture an objective perspective an ultimate truth Along these lines Unreliable Truths offers a comparative literary approach to the construction of home and concomitant notions of uncertainty and unreliable narration in South Asian diasporic women's literature from the UK Australia South Africa the Caribbean North America and Canada Writers discussed in detail include Feroza Jussawalla Suneeta Peres da Costa Meera Syal Farida Karodia Shani Mootoo Shobha D and Oonya Kempadoo With its focus on transcultural homes Unreliable Truths goes beyond discussions of diaspora from an established postcolonial point of view and contributes with its investigation of transcultural unreliable narration to the representation of a global South Asian diaspora Poetic Justice Ian Cosgrove, 2009-07-30 A collection of tales from Stewart and Anita Stenhouse Love has never been stronger than theirs Anita and Me Anita and Me, 2002 Shared Waters Stella Borg Barthet, 2009 The present volume contains general essays on unequal African Western academic exchange the state and structure of postcolonial studies representing male violence in Zimbabwe's wars parihaka in the poetic imagination of Aotearoa New Zealand Middle Eastern Nigerian Moroccan and diasporic Indian women's writing community in post Independence Maltese poetry in English key novels of the Portuguese colonies the TV series The Kumars at No 42 fictional representations of India the North in western Canadian writing and a pedagogy of African Canadian literature As well as these there is a selection of poems from Malta by Daniel Massa Adrian Grima Norbert Bugeja Immanuel Mifsud and Maria Grech Ganado and essays providing close readings of works by the following authors and filmmakers Thea Astley George Elliott Clarke Alan Duff Francis Ebejer Lorena Gale Romesh Gunsekera Sahar Khalifah Anthony Minghella Michael Ondaatje Caryl Phillips Edgar Allan Poe Salman Rushdie Ghadah al Samman Meera Syal Lee Tamahori Contributors Leila Abouzeid Hoda Barakat Amrit Biswas Thomas Bonnici Stella Borg Barthet Ivan Callus Devon Campbell Hall Saviour Catania George Elliott Clarke Brian Crow Pilar Cuder Dominguez Bruna Czennia Hilary P Dannenberg Pauline Dodgson Katiyo Bernadette Falzon Daphne Grace Adrian Grima Kifah Hanna Janne Korkka T Vijay Kumar Chantal Kwast Greff Maureen Lynch Percopo Kevin Stephen Magri Isabel Moutinho Melanie A Murray Taiwo Olorunfoba Oju Gerhard Stolz Jes s Varela Zapata Christine Vogt William Patrons of Women Esther Hertzog, 2011-05-01 Assuming that women's empowerment would accelerate the pace of social change in rural Nepal the World Bank urged the Nepali government to undertake a Gender Activities Project within an ongoing long term water engineering scheme The author an anthropologist specializing in bureaucratic organizations and gender studies was hired to monitor the project Analyzing her own experience as a practicing development expert she demonstrates that the professed goal of women's empowerment is a pretext for promoting economic organizational goals and the interests of local elites She shows how a project intended to benefit women through teaching them literary and agricultural skills fails to provide them with any of the promised resources Going beyond the conventional analysis that positions aid givers vis vis powerless victimized recipients she draws attention to the complexity of the process and the active role played by the Nepalese rural women who pursue their own interests and aspirations within this unequal world The book makes an important contribution to the growing critique of development projects and of women's development projects in particular Performing Identities and Utopias of Belonging Teresa Botelho, Iolanda Ramos, 2014-07-08 Performing Identities and Utopias of Belonging consists of sixteen essays reflecting the current conflicted debate on the ontology constructiveness and affect of categories of ascribed social identity such as gender ethnicity race and nation in the context of British Irish and North American cultural landscapes They address the many ways in which these communities of belonging are imagined iterated performed questioned and deconstructed in literature cinema and visual culture they also support or counter claims about the enhanced value of social identity in the expression of the self in the light of the present debates that surround the contested post identity turn in cultural studies Significantly they also address the role of social identity in the field of utopian and dystopian thought focusing on the projection of imagined futures where alternative means of conceiving ascribed identity are conceptualized The contributions are shaped by a plurality of approaches and theoretical discourses and come from both established and emerging scholars and researchers from Europe and beyond The collection is structured in three sections the politics of un belonging deconstructing utopian and cultural paradigms and performing identities in the visual arts which organize the multidisciplinary discussions around specific nuclei of interrogations Cities on the Margin, on the Margin of Cities Philippe Laplace, Eric Tabuteau, 2003 The Owl Is Calling Tami Kent, 2010-11-05 The Owl is Calling is based on a true story It is about a family that is enduring physical mental and drug abuse like so many other families in the world The book was written so other people don't feel alone when reading the book And the author thought it was a story to be told The story ends in tragedy
