Ann Arbor In The 20th Century:

Ann Arbor in the 19th Century Grace Shackman,2001-09-18 Ann Arbor has never been a typical college town typical industrial town or typical agricultural center The city was founded in 1824 by John Allen and Elisha Rumsey Settlers from the Eastern U S of British origin were soon followed by Germans who brought with them many practical skills With the opening of the University of Michigan campus in 1841 still more people came from across the country to teach and learn Ann Arbor in the 19th Century A Photographic History details the growth of the city when residents built houses and businesses organized a government and established churches schools a university and newspapers in over 190 photographs Early residents would recognize the photograph of Okemos nephew of Pontiac Chief of the Ottawa who made regular visits to Ann Arbor before the Native Americans were banished to Kansas by the federal government Another fascinating photo shows Henry Otto s Band whose family was responsible for much of the music at official events However much of 19th century Ann Arbor would still be recognizable to today s residents

Ann Arbor in the 20th Century Grace Shackman,2002-09-25 Ann Arbor began the 20th century as a modest manufacturing and farm trading center with a small co existing university community By the end of the century Ann Arbor had developed into a cosmopolitan city home to people from all over the world Ann Arbor in the 20th Century details the important developments that occurred over a period of 100 years as residents witnessed the growth of its neighborhoods schools shopping areas and social services Enormous changes to the physical landscape of the town brought about by innovations in architecture the influence of industry and entertainment and the transition from horse drawn vehicles to automobiles are all documented through this collection of photographs Images of famous visitors such as Carrie Nation railing against alcohol and President Kennedy introducing the Peace Corps are included period of Chinese attitudes toward nuclear weapons the immediate post Hiroshima Nagasaki period and the Korean War It also provides an account of US actions and attitudes during this period and China's response

The National Register of Historic Places , A School in Every Village Elizabeth R. VanderVen, 2012-02-28 In the early 1900s the Qing dynasty implemented a nationwide school system as part of a series of institutional reforms to shore up its power A School in Every Village recounts how villagers and local state officials in Haicheng County enacted orders to establish rural primary schools from 1904 to 1931 Although the Communists contemporary observers and more recent scholarship have all depicted rural society as feudal and backward and the educational reforms of the early twentieth century a failure Elizabeth VanderVen draws on untapped archival materials to reveal that villagers capably integrated foreign ideas and models into a system that was at once traditional and modern Chinese and Western Her portrait of education reform not only challenges received notions about the modernity tradition binary in Chinese history it also addresses topics central to scholarly debates on modern China including state making gender and the impact of global ideas on local society
