Anna Searching For Anna In Literary History:

Literature and the Writer, 2016-08-09 Literature and the Writer was first conceived with the hope the essays would shed light on several dimensions of the authorial craft It was the hope of the editor that the selected essays would examine not only writers choice of vocabulary but also their deliberate selection of grammatical constructions and word order and their seamless weaving together of plots and imagery Moreover the analyses would also draw attention to how the writing process impacts the development of characters and the formulation of thematic strands in fiction Thus a wide variety of authors are deliberately selected to give the text depth writers of popular fiction as well as modern classics are included and contrasts are established between traditional writers and those who prefer to follow experimental trends Modernists are set against postmodernists absurdists vs realists minority ethnicities vs majority cultures and dominant genders appear in contrast to subordinated ones Clearly the major tenet of the collection is that the writing profession provides an unending dilemma that deserves to be explored in more detail as readers try to determine how authorial voices confuse while simultaneously elucidating their audience how texts are constructed by authors and yet deconstructed by the very words they choose to include how silence functions as inaudible yet audible discourse and how authorial self concept shapes not only itself but is also echoed in the fictional characters writers who appear in the texts Let Me Continue to Speak the

We Heal from Memory C. Steele, 2016-04-30 Through an examination of the poetry of Anne Sexton Audre Lorde and Gloria Anzald a We Heal From Memory paints a vivid picture of how our culture carries a history of traumatic violence child sexual abuse the ownership and enforcement of women s sexuality under slavery the transmission of violence through generations and the destruction of non white cultures and their histories through colonization According to Cassie Premo Steele the poetry of Sexton Lorde and Anzald a allows us to witness and to heal from such disparate traumatic events Jamaica Kincaid Lizabeth Paravisini-Gebert,1999-09-30 With the publication of her novel Annie John in 1985 Jamaica Kincaid entered the ranks of the best novelists of her generation Her three autobiographical novels Annie John Lucy and Autobiography of My Mother and collection of short stories At the Bottom of the River touch on the universal theme of coming of age and the female adolescent s need to sever her ties to her mother This angst is couched in the social landscape of post colonial Antigua a small Caribbean island whose legacy of racism affects Kincaid s protagonists Her fiction rewrites the history of the Caribbean from a West Indies perspective and this milieu colors the experiences of her characters Following a biographical chapter Paravisini Gebert traces the development of Kincaid s craft as a writer Each of the novels and the collection of short stories is discussed in a separate chapter that includes sections on plot character theme and an alternate critical approach from which to read the novel such as feminist A complete primary and secondary bibliography and lists of selected reviews of Kincaid s work complete the study African American Literature and the Classicist Tradition T. Walters,2007-10-29 This is a groundbreaking study exploring the significant relationship between western classical mythology and African American women s literature A comparative analysis of classical revisions by eighteenth and nineteenth century Black women writers Phillis Wheatley and Pauline Hopkins and twentieth century writers Gwendolyn Brooks Toni Morrison and Rita Dove reveals that Black women writers revise specific classical myths for artistic and political agency The study demonstrates that women rework myth to represent mythical stories from the Black female perspective and to counteract denigrating contemporary cultural and social myths that disempower and devalue Black womanhood Through their adaptations of classical myths about motherhood Wheatley Ray Brooks Morrison and Dove uncover the shared experiences of mythic mothers and their contemporary African American counterparts thus offering a unique Black feminist perspective to classicism The women also use myth as a liberatingspace where they can speak the unspeakable and empower their subjects as well as themselves Jane Austen Laurence W. Mazzeno,2011 A comprehensive look at the academic criticism of Jane Austen from her time down to the present Among the most important English novelists Jane Austen is unusual because she is esteemed not only by academics but by the reading public Her novels continue to sell well and films adapted from her works enjoy strong box officesuccess The trajectory of Austen criticism is intriguing especially when one compares it to that of other nineteenth century English writers At least partly because she was a woman in the early nineteenth century she was longneglected by critics hardly considered a major figure in English literature until well into the twentieth century a hundred years after her death Yet consequently she did not suffer from the reaction against Victorianism thatdid so much to hurt the reputation of Dickens Tennyson Arnold and others

How she rose to prominence among academic critics and has retained her position through the constant shifting of academic and critical trends is a story worth telling as it suggests not only something about Austen's artistry but also about how changes in critical perspective can radically alter a writer's reputation Laurence W Mazzeno is President Emeritus of Alvernia University Reading Pennsylvania

Receptions of antiquity has been written by friends of Freddy Decreus in honour of his career and in celebration of his thought

Women's Ethical Coming-of-Age Agnes Toloczko Cardoni, 1998 This work examines Tillie Olsen's four short stories in Tell Me A Riddle and her novel fragment Yonnondio From the Thirties in terms of the ethical development of the adolescent female characters The study uses the ethics of responsibility and care as identified by Carol Gilligan to investigate each young female character's struggle to grow to make her place in the world and to remain in relationship with herself and others The book contextualizes the exclusion of the ethics of care from the literary canon and argues for inclusion of multiple ethical modes
