Hymns and Hymnody: Historical and Theological Introductions, Volume 2 Mark A. Lamport, Benjamin K. Forrest, Vernon M. Whaley, 2019-05-24 Hymns and the music the church sings in worship are tangible means of expressing worship And while worship is one of if not the central functions of the church along with mission service education justice and compassion and occupies a prime focus of our churches a renewed sense of awareness to our theological presuppositions and cultural cues must be maintained to ensure a proper focus in worship Hymns and Hymnody Historical and Theological Introductions is a sixty chapter three volume introductory textbook describing the most influential hymnists liturgists and musical movements of the church This academically grounded resource evaluates both the historical and theological perspectives of the major hymnists and composers who have impacted the church over the course of twenty centuries Volume 1 explores the early church and concludes with the Renaissance era hymnists Volume 2 begins with the Reformation and extends to the eighteenth century hymnists and liturgists Volume 3 engages nineteenth century hymnists to the contemporary movements of the twenty first century Each chapter contains these five elements historical background theological perspectives communicated in their hymns compositions contribution to liturgy and worship notable hymns and bibliography The mission of Hymns and Hymnody is 1 to provide biographical data on influential hymn writers for students and interested laypeople and 2 to provide a theological analysis of what these composers have communicated in the theology of their hymns We believe it is vital for those involved in leading the worship of the church to recognize that what they communicate is in fact theology This latter aspect we contend is missing yet important in accessible formats for the current literature The Sung

Theology of the English Particular Baptist Revival Joseph V. Carmichael, 2020-12-21 Anne Steele 1717-1778 originally wrote her hymns to be sung in the Baptist congregation pastored by her father. The foremost female contemporary of hymn writing giants Charles Wesley, John Newton, and William Cowper, her hymns are infused with spiritual sensitivity, theological depth, and raw emotion. She eventually published her hymns under the pseudonym Theodosia, which means God's Gift. She believed God had given her a gift to share. Steele's work was warmly received in her own day. Pastor and publishing pioneer of the modern English hymnal, John Rippon, included more than fifty of her hymns in the various topical sections of his wildly successful Selection of Hymns. Rippon's hymnal was popular on both sides of the Atlantic but was especially influential during the nineteenth-century revival and renewal of English Particular Baptists. This book introduces Steele's hymns in the context of her life and times and of Rippon's hymnal. It illustrates that Steele's approach to hymn writing is a model of biblical spirituality. Each hymn, as printed in Rippon's hymnal and thus sung by congregations and used as devotional literature, is considered. The sung theology of these congregations is a gift to the church, universal and worth rediscovering in the twenty-first century.

1 and 2 Thessalonians Through the Centuries Anthony C. Thiselton, 2020-06-22 This unique commentary on Paul's early letters by an outstanding New Testament specialist provides a broad range of original perspectives of how people have interpreted and been influenced by Paul's first two letters. Addresses questions concerning the content, setting, and authenticity of the two Thessalonian letters, drawing on responses from leading scholars, poets, hymn writers, preachers, theologians, and biblical scholars throughout the ages. Offers new insights into issues they raise concerning feminist biblical interpretation. Provides a history of two-way influences as exemplified by Ulrich Luz, Hans Robert Jauss, and Hans Georg Gadamer. Written by Anthony Thiselton, a leading commentator on the Greek New Testament.

Theology Inspiring Doxology--The Hymnody of Anne Dutton and Anne Steele Holly M. Farrow, 2025-09-15 From beginning to end, the hymnic voices of eighteenth-century British hymnwriters Anne Dutton and Anne Steele join the Psalmist in declaring, "Thy statutes have been my songs in the house of my pilgrimage" (Ps 119:54, KJV). With their consistent witness and faithfulness to the themes of Scripture, their hymns display an unswerving devotion to both truth and praise theology, inspiring doxology. Through an examination of poetic language and biblical content, this book explores how the hymns of Dutton and Steele illustrate a closely interwoven relationship between theology and doxology that is revealed and bound together by the word of God. The purpose of the study is to highlight the fact that biblically faithful theological reflections of the mind, paired with doxological engagement of the heart, enable the church to present a more complete and more excellent offering to God. This study is the first book-length comparison of the hymns of Dutton and Steele; together, the three extensive appendices present their published hymns in one volume, complete with all Scripture references provided by the hymnists themselves. The church would benefit greatly if these hymns were rediscovered, studied further, and sung once again for their scriptural integrity and doxological message of hope in Christ.

Gospel as Work of Art David Brown, 2024-03-07 A lushly illustrated magisterial exploration of the imaginative truth of the gospel In the modern academy truth and imagination are thought to be mutually exclusive But what if truth can spring from other fonts like art literature and invention The legacy of the Enlightenment favors historical and empirical inquiry above all other methods for searching for truth But this assumption constrains our theological explorations Though the historicity of Jesus's life death and resurrection is important it is not the only thing that matters For instance is John's Gospel any less true than the Synoptics just because it's less historically accurate David Brown challenges us to expand our understanding of the gospel past source criticism and historical Jesus studies to include works of imagination Reading Scripture in tandem with works of art throughout the centuries Brown reenvision the gospel as an open text Scholars of theology and biblical studies freed from literalism will find new avenues of revelation in Gospel as Work of Art This volume includes over one hundred color illustrations

Victorian Verse Lee Behlman, Olivia Loksing Moy, 2023-08-04 Victorian Verse The Poetics of Everyday Life casts new light on nineteenth century poetry by examining the period through its popular verse forms and their surrounding social and media landscape The volume offers insight into two central concepts of both the Victorian era and our own status and taste and how cultural hierarchies then and now were and are constructed and broken By recovering the lost diversity of Victorian verse the book maps the breadth of Victorian writing and reading practices illustrating how these seemingly minor verse genres actually possessed crucial social functions for Victorians particularly in education leisure practices the cultural production of class and the formation of individual and communal identities The essays consider how major Victorian poets such as the Pre Raphaelites were also committed to writing and reading minor verse further troubling the clear cut notions of canonicity by examining the contradictions of value

Anglican clergy and implicitly began to permeate and shape popular Christianity to the extent that even some of spiritualism's harshest critics made use of its colourful imagery This study sets one significant aspect of Christian doctrine alongside an attractive alternative and provides a fascinating example of the negotiation of belief the way in which in the interface between Church and culture religious belief came to be refreshed and redefined GEORGINA BYRNE is an ordained Anglican priest and currently Director of Ordinands for the Diocese of Worcester and a Residentiary Canon at Worcester Cathedral
