Heinemann, Antonette M. Zeiss, 2012-12-06 The idea of teamwork in health care emerged at several times during the 20th century as the result of shifts in the nature and demands of health care and societal needs Examples include medical and surgical teams serving the military in World War II primary care teams staffing Community Health Centers created by President Johnson's War On Poverty and geriatric care teams established to serve the rapidly growing number of aging citizens Collaborative teamwork surfaced as a rational solution to health care needs but political and economic consensus to support widespread implementation was lacking The increasing complexity of providing health care seemed best served by the skills and efforts of interdisciplinary teams but such care was viewed as expensive so evaluation of its effectiveness became essential There were major problems in conducting such evaluation however First no clear theory guided the concept and practice of teamwork Early attempts to employ theoretical constructs explaining the behavioral and organizational phenomena of teamwork borrowed from theories of group dynamics communication organizational development and general systems Further few reliable validated instruments existed to evaluate team process function or effectiveness The best early efforts at research and evaluation came from academic centers funded by the Office of Interdisciplinary Programs of the Bureau of Health Professions 1975-78 and from the Veterans Affairs Interprofessional Team Training Development Program The Knowledge Management Yearbook 2000-2001 John A. Woods, James W. Cortada, 2000 An anthology and reference for people who are seeking to implement knowledge management techniques It covers the nature of knowledge and its management knowledge based strategies knowledge management and organizational learning and knowledge tools techniques and processes Blackwell Handbook of Social Psychology Rupert Brown, Sam Gaertner, 2008-04-15 This volume will provide an authoritative state of the art overview of the field of intergroup processes The volume is divided into nine major sections on cognition motivation emotion communication and social influence changing intergroup relations social comparison self identity methods and applications Provides an authoritative state of the art

Researching Educational Governance: Realizing UN 2030 Agenda and Beyond H.C. Pokhriyal, B.S. Nagi, M.C. Sati, Padmakar Mishra, R.P. Juyal and A.S. Khullar,2023-01-01 Achieving the lofty Goal 4 of the UNSDGs which aims to ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all will require the entire education system to be reconfigured a fact as aptly underlined in the National Education Policy 2020 of India This would essentially entail putting in place a very effective educational governance devised and formulated on the basis of cutting edge research outputs Three Volumes of the present book is a modest yet maiden attempt to comprehend and unfold the blending of diverse research methodologies and amply demonstrate through empirical findings that innovative policies and interventions curated on the basis of this approach of research can ensure quality education Governance emerges as one of the core areas for research Therefore Volume I provides a wide canvas of governance in general and educational governance in particular for research along with a unique opportunity to elaborate both the theory and practice of Quantitative Qualitative and Participatory Methodologies in researching governance that is the frontier challenge looking for suitable answers Volume II uniquely comprehends multiple aspects of quality in dynamic and wider perspectives as perceived by the primary stakeholders including community Refreshing insight into the quality perspectives of educational governance will facilitate the researchers to explore innovative interventions in respective areas of human development Community is the third constituent of governance along with the state and the market Therefore Volume III explores a futuristic vision of community governance leading to quality education Also an attempt has been made to critically appraise the provisioning of community governance including the local self governments as well as free and compulsory elementary education The Book is a live comprehension of the conceptual framework of research and methods along with handling of research problems at the ground It is like explaining how to by giving suitable case studies conducted by the authors on educational governance It is hoped that the three Volumes will be an exciting learning experience that would enable us to address researching challenges over which the public policy makers researchers development administrators planners and students may build their concepts logical structures and planned interventions facilitating the achievement of effective educational governance at micro level ensuring quality education in the coming decades

Reclaiming the Future Jane Kelsey, 2000-01-01 The vision of a global future spread through the world like wildfire in the last decade exhilarating for some alarming for others apparently inexorable for all As free market advocates would have it there is no alternative Reclaiming the Future tells a different story that globalization is not inevitable invincible or intrinsically good The deregulated global economy has proved highly unstable The pursuit of unending growth is unsustainable and the social damage that free markets cause is provoking an international backlash Jane Kelsey explores the impact of globalization on the New Zealand economy Her account of foreign investment and free trade policies the role of the transnationals and the challenges posed by global agreements and networks will open the eyes of readers Reclaiming the Future opens wide the debate New Zealanders are seeking for the direction of their country in the twenty first century
