Gerges,2018-04-03 How the conflict between political Islamists and secular leaning nationalists has shaped the history of the modern Middle East In 2013 just two years after the popular overthrow of Hosni Mubarak the Egyptian military ousted the country's first democratically elected president Mohamed Morsi of the Muslim Brotherhood and subsequently led a brutal repression of the Islamist group These bloody events echoed an older political rift in Egypt and the Middle East the splitting of nationalists and Islamists during the rule of Egyptian president and Arab nationalist leader Gamal Abdel Nasser In Making the Arab World Fawaz Gerges one of the world's leading authorities on the Middle East tells how the clash between pan Arab nationalism and pan Islamism has shaped the history of the region from the 1920s to the present Gerges tells this story through an unprecedented dual biography of Nasser and another of the twentieth century Arab world's most influential figures Sayyid Qutb a leading member of the Muslim Brotherhood and the father of many branches of radical political Islam Their deeply intertwined lives embody and dramatize the divide between Arabism and Islamism Yet as Gerges shows beyond the ideological and existential rhetoric this is a struggle over the state its role and its power Based on a decade of research including in depth interviews with many leading figures in the story Making the Arab World is essential reading for anyone who wants to understand the roots of the turmoil engulfing the Middle East from civil wars to the rise of Al Qaeda and ISIS Towards an Islamic

Rejwan,2009-02-17 What is an Arab Though many in the West would answer that question with simplistic stereotypes the reality is far more complex and interesting Arabs themselves have been debating Arab identity since pre Islamic times coming to a variety of conclusions about the nature and extent of their Arabness Likewise Westerners and others have attempted to analyze Arab identity reaching mostly negative conclusions about Arab culture and capacity for self government To bring new perspectives to the question of Arab identity Iraqi born scholar Nissim Rejwan has assembled this fascinating collection of writings by Arab and Western intellectuals who try to define what it means to be Arab He begins with pre Islamic times and continues to the last decades of the twentieth century quoting thinkers ranging from Ibn Khaldun to modern writers such as al Ansari Haykal Ahmad Amin al Azm and Said Through their works Rejwan shows how Arabs have grappled with such significant issues as the influence of Islam the rise of nationalism the quest for democracy women's status the younger generation Egypt's place in the Arab world Israel's role in Middle Eastern conflict and the West's cultural invasion By letting Arabs speak for themselves Arabs in the Mirror refutes a prominent Western stereotype that Arabs are incapable of self reflection or self government On the contrary it reveals a rich tradition of self criticism and self knowledge in the Arab world      The Economic Development Process in the Middle East and North Africa Alessandro Romagnoli,Luisa Mengoni,2013-11-12 Offering a comprehensive analysis of the development of economies in the Middle East and North Africa over the past half century this book charts the progress of these countries through an examination of an Islamic model of economic development reform processes and economic integration Far from being a simple process economic development in the Middle East and North Africa is dependent on the interaction of a set of changing systems including international relations the political regime economy and society By analysing these interdependent factors The Economic Development Process in MENA seeks to provide answers to the most pressing issues facing the economies in this area Providing an interpretation of regional development in light of dialectics between state and society this book will be of value to students and scholars with an interest in the Middle East Economics and International Relations      AF Press Clips ,1972-07
