Arcady In Australia The Evocation Of Australia In Nineteenth Century English Literature:

Arcady in Australia Coral Lansbury, 1970 This provocative book examines the vision of Australia in nineteenth century English literature The industrial revolution destroyed the myth of an idyllic rural way of life in England and writers like Charles Dickens Bulwer Lytton and Charles Reade created it anew in the improbable environment of Australia The popular image of Australia in English literature was Arcadian in turn it dominated the thought and traditions of writing in Australia The man who supplied the material for English writers was Samuel Sidney he was for a time regarded as an expert on Australia although he had never set foot in the antipodes and all his material was second hand His influence on the literature of the period and consequently on Australia has received scant attention Sidney s influence is fully examined the book also offers entirely new material on Wakefield Dickens Lytton and Reade It provides a new and challenging interpretation of literature and social history in both England and Australia Arcady in Australia Coral Lansbury (romancière), 1970

Domesticity, Imperialism, and Emigration in the Victorian Novel Diana C. Archibald, 2002 The Cambridge History of Australian Literature Peter Pierce, 2009-09-17 Draws on scholarship from leading figures in the field and spans Australian literary history from colonial origins indigenous and migrant literatures as well as representations of Asia and the Pacific and the role of literary culture in modern Australian society Australian Dictionary of Biography, Volume 19 Melanie Nolan, 2021-03-09 Volume 19 of the Australian Dictionary of Biography ADB contains concise biographies of individuals who died between 1991 and 1995 The first of two volumes for the 1990s it presents a colourful montage of late twentieth century Australian life containing the biographies of significant and representative Australians The volume is still in the shadow of World War II with servicemen and women who enlisted young appearing but these influences are dimming and there are now increasing numbers of non white non male non privileged and non straight subjects The 680 individuals recorded in volume 19 of the ADB include Wiradjuri midwife and Ngannawal Elder Violet Bulger Aboriginal rights activist poet playwright and artist Kevin Gilbert and Torres Strait Islander community leader and land rights campaigner Eddie Mabo HIV AIDS child activists Tony Lovegrove and Eve Van Graffhorst have entries as does conductor Stuart Challender the first Australian celebrity to go public about his HIV AIDS condition in 1991 The arts are as always well represented including writers Frank Hardy Mary Durack and Nene Gare actors Frank Thring and Leonard Teale and arts patron Ian Potter We are beginning to see the effects of the steep rise in postwar immigration flow through to the ADB Artist Joseph Stanislaw Ostojka Kotkowski was born in Poland Pilar Moreno de Otaegui co founded the Spanish Club of Sydney Chinese restaurateur and community leader Ming Poon Dick Low migrated to Victoria in 1953 Often we have a dearth of information about the domestic lives of our subjects politician Olive Zakharov however bravely disclosed at the Victorian launch of the federal government s campaign to Stop Violence Against Women in 1993 that she was a survivor of domestic violence in her second marriage Take a dip into the many fascinating lives of the Australian Dictionary of Biography Mid-Victorian Imperialists Edward

Beasley,2004-08-02 This is an empirical study of just where in Victorian culture the ideology of imperialism left clear traces of itself The well written investigations bring to life how certain men thought about the British Empire between the 1830s and 1868

The Oxford Encyclopedia of British Literature David Scott Kastan,2006-03-03 From folk ballads to film scripts this new five volume encyclopedia covers the entire history of British literature from the seventh century to the present focusing on the writers and the major texts of what are now the United Kingdom and the Republic of Ireland In five hundred substantial essays written by major scholars the Encyclopedia of British Literature includes biographies of nearly four hundred individual authors and a hundred topical essays with detailed analyses of particular themes movements genres and institutions whose impact upon the writing or the reading of literature was significant An ideal companion to The Oxford Encyclopedia of American Literature this set will prove invaluable for students scholars and general readers For more information including a complete table of contents and list of contributors please visit www.oup.com/us/eb1

Settler Colonialism in Victorian Literature Philip Steer,2020-01-16 A transnational study of how settler colonialism remade the Victorian novel and political economy by challenging ideas of British identity

The Australian People James Jupp,2001-10 Australia is one of the most ethnically diverse societies in the world today From its ancient indigenous origins to British colonisation followed by waves of European then international migration in the twentieth century the island continent is home to people from all over the globe Each new wave of settlers has had a profound impact on Australian society and culture The Australian People documents the dramatic history of Australian settlement and describes the rich ethnic and cultural inheritance of the nation through the contributions of its people It is one of the largest reference works of its kind with approximately 250 expert contributors and almost one million words Illustrated in colour and black and white the book is both a comprehensive encyclopedia and a survey of the controversial debates about citizenship and multiculturalism now that Australia has attained the centenary of its federation

Anxieties of Empire and the Fiction of Intrigue Yumna Siddiqi,2008 Focusing on late nineteenth and twentieth century stories of detection policing and espionage by British and South Asian writers Yumna Siddiqi presents an original and compelling exploration of the cultural anxieties created by imperialism She suggests that while colonial writers use narratives of intrigue to endorse imperial rule postcolonial writers turn the generic conventions and topography of the fiction of intrigue on its head launching a critique of imperial power that makes the repressive and emancipatory impulses of postcolonial modernity visible Siddiqi devotes the first part of her book to the colonial fiction of Arthur Conan Doyle and John Buchan in which the British regime's preoccupation with maintaining power found its voice The rationalization of difference pronouncedly expressed through the genre's strategies of representation and narrative resolution helped to reinforce domination and in some cases allay fears concerning the loss of colonial power In the second part Siddiqi argues that late twentieth century South Asian writers also underscore the state's insecurities but unlike British imperial writers they take a critical view of the state's authoritarian tendencies Such writers as Amitav Ghosh Michael Ondaatje Arundhati Roy and Salman Rushdie use the conventions of detective and spy fiction in creative ways to explore the coercive actions of the postcolonial state and the power dynamics of a postcolonial New Empire Drawing on the work of leading theorists of imperialism such as Edward Said Frantz Fanon and the Subaltern Studies historians Siddiqi reveals how British writers express the anxious workings of a will to maintain imperial power in their writing She also illuminates the ways South Asian writers portray the paradoxes of postcolonial modernity and trace the ruses and uses of reason in a world where the modern marks a horizon not only of hope but also of economic military and ecological disaster

Feminism and Empire Clare Midgley, 2007-09-28 Feminism and Empire establishes the foundational impact that Britain's position as leading imperial power had on the origins of modern western feminism Based on extensive new research this study exposes the intimate links between debates on the woman question and the constitution of colonial discourse in order to highlight the centrality of empire to white middle class women's activism in Britain The book begins by exploring the relationship between the construction of new knowledge about colonised others and the framing of debates on the woman question among advocates of women's rights and their evangelical opponents Moving on to examine white middle class women's activism on imperial issues in Britain topics include the anti slavery boycott of Caribbean sugar the campaign against widow burning in colonial India and women's role in the foreign missionary movement prior to direct employment by the major missionary societies Finally Clare Midgley highlights how the organised feminist movement which emerged in the late 1850s linked promotion of female emigration to Britain's white settler colonies to a new ideal of independent English womanhood This original work throws fascinating new light on the roots of later imperial feminism and contemporary debates concerning women's rights in an era of globalisation and neo imperialism

D.H. Lawrence's Australia David Game, 2016-03-09 The first full length account of D H Lawrence's rich engagement with a country he found both fascinating and frustrating D H Lawrence's Australia focuses on the philosophical anthropological and literary influences that informed the utopian and regenerative visions that characterise so much of Lawrence's work David Game gives particular attention to the four novels and one novella published between 1920 and 1925 what Game calls Lawrence's Australian period shedding new light on Lawrence's attitudes towards Australia in general and more specifically towards Australian Aborigines women and colonialism He revisits key aspects of Lawrence's development as a novelist and thinker including the influence of Darwin and Lawrence's rejection of eugenics Christianity psychoanalysis and science While Game concentrates on the Australian novels such as Kangaroo and The Boy in the Bush he also uncovers the Australian elements in a range of other works including Lawrence's last novel Lady Chatterley's Lover Lawrence lived in Australia for just three months but as Game shows it played a significant role in his quest for a way of life that would enable regeneration of the individual in the face of what Lawrence saw as the moral collapse of modern industrial civilisation after the outbreak of World War I

Pathologies of Travel, 2016-08-22 The essays in this volume which range across Europe America and

Africa and from the 18th to the 20th centuries argue that the experience of travel and the business of representing that experience involved an obligatory engagement with the disturbing perception that travel's pleasures were inseparable from its dangers and ennui. Despite the confidence of some medical authorities in their recommendations of the therapeutic benefits to be derived from change of air as a way of restoring a state of health such opinions failed to establish a consensus either amongst those who followed such peripatetic prescriptions or amongst the medical professions in general. Mad doctors and climatologists alike were forced to adopt an essentially partisan stance in arguing their case for such recommendations and were confronted by rival practitioners who could marshal counter case histories which demonstrated diametrically opposed conclusions concerning the advisability of travel. To this extent the history of travel and its pathologies is a particularly revealing instance of the way medical thinking was dependent on localised studies which might do more to challenge the universal applicability of generally accepted theories than they did to confirm their diagnostic reliability. The essays collected here not only contribute to our understanding of the conception and application of a variety of medical ideas showing how they depended on beliefs about climate and corporeal constitution as well as often inconsistent data or reports culled from travellers and geographically dispersed case histories but also open up illuminatingly complex perspectives on the uncertainties and dangers of the phenomenon of modern travel.

D. H. Lawrence's Australia Dr David

Game, 2015-08-28 In this first full length account of D H Lawrence's rich engagement with a country he found both fascinating and frustrating Game examines how Australia informed the utopian and regenerative visions that characterize so much of Lawrence's work. He sheds new light on Lawrence's attitudes towards Australian Aborigines, women and colonialism and revisits key aspects of Lawrence's development as a novelist and thinker.

Religious Categories and the Construction of the Indigenous Christopher Hartney, Daniel Tower, 2016-10-18 This volume significantly advances the academic debate surrounding the taxonomy and the categorisation of indigenous religion. Developing approaches from leading scholars in the field this edited volume provides the space for established and rising voices to discuss the highly problematic topic of how indigenous religion can be defined and conceptualised. Constructing the Indigenous highlights the central issues in the debate between those supporting and refining current academic frameworks and those who would argue that present thinking remains too dependant on misunderstandings that arise from definitions of religion that are too inflexible and from problems caused by the World Religion paradigm. This book will prove essential reading for those that wish to engage with contemporary discussions regarding the definitions of religion and their relations to the indigenous category. Contributors are Zoe Alderton, Steve Bevis, James L Cox, Christopher Hartney, Graham Harvey, Milad Milani, Björn Ola Tafjord, Daniel J Tower, Garry W Trompf and Jack Tsonis.

Place and Progress in the Works of Elizabeth Gaskell Lesa Scholl, Emily

Morris, 2016-03-09 Critical assessments of Elizabeth Gaskell have tended to emphasise the regional and provincial aspects of her writing but the scope of her influence extended across the globe. Building on theories of space and place the contributors to this collection bring a variety of geographical industrial psychological and spatial perspectives to bear on the vast range of Gaskell's literary output and on her place within the narrative of British letters and national identity The advent of the railway and the increasing predominance of manufactory machinery reoriented the nation's physical and social countenance but alongside the excitement of progress and industry was a sense of fear and loss manifested through an idealization of the country home the pastoral retreat and the agricultural south In keeping with the theme of progress and change the essays follow parallel narratives that acknowledge both the angst and nostalgia produced by industrial progress and the excitement and awe occasioned by the potential of the empire Finally the volume engages with adaptation and cultural performance in keeping with the continuing importance of Gaskell in contemporary popular culture far beyond the historical and cultural environs of nineteenth century Manchester

A Talent(ed) Digger, 2022-05-20 Anna Rutherford has been the most dynamic ambassador of Australian culture in Europe More than any other single person she has been instrumental in spreading interest in Commonwealth and post colonial studies Wherever she has been in the world she has brought people together in friendship and intellectual endeavour This volume ranges widely over the areas Anna has promoted as teacher editor and publisher

An Historical Geography of Modern Australia Joseph Michael Powell, 1991-04-04 This is a substantial study immediately established itself as essential reading for all those with a serious interest in Australian studies

Gold Seeking David Goodman, 1994 The brave independence of the roaring days the camaraderie of the gold fields jolly diggers on a spree these are the images that have come down to us of the gold era of the 1850s in Australia and California But these images were largely shaped decades later by writers such as Henry Lawson and Bret Harte they speak of later nostalgia rather than the experience of the time In this study of the contemporary response to the discoveries of gold in Victoria and California David Goodman argues that people at the time were apprehensive about gold rushing and the kind of society it seemed to prefigure In the chaos of the gold rushes individual self interest seemed to be all that could motivate people to any exertion And it was only the economic rationalists of the day those who believed in political economy and its promise that out of the confusion of individual self interest would come some sort of social order who could wholeheartedly endorse the gold rushes as events This is a history of the ways people talked about gold As the first full length cultural history of the gold rushes on two continents it examines the meanings of gold at the time and the narratives which were told about social disruption It locates the deeper underlying themes in the response to gold It also looks at the ways in which the dominant later memories of gold were shaped And it is about national differences about the construction of distinctive national cultures out of materials common to the British world This book should be read not only by Australian and American historians but by anyone with an interest in the cultural history of modernity
