

A jaguar is walking through a dense, lush Amazon rainforest. The scene is filled with vibrant green foliage, including large trees and thick undergrowth. Sunlight filters through the canopy, creating a dappled light effect. The jaguar is in the lower center of the frame, moving towards the right. The overall atmosphere is serene and majestic.

Bowker Consortium of University Film Centers,1986 Internet Links for Science Education Karen C. Cohen,2012-12-06 Science teachers come in many varieties but they share a common goal to nurture learners Over the past decade we have learned a great deal about how to do this effectively Of all this new and some not so new knowledge what strikes me as most important is that learning occurs best within a context Still as obvious as that may seem it is relatively rare in our high school science classrooms The problem of course is that it is not easy to create a learning experience with hands on relevance to the science under discussion Science teachers in addition to not having the the time for the most part do not have the expertise or readily available resources The solution lies in finding ways to bring scientists into the teaching learning equation Scientists teamed with teachers and their students represent a very real and rich opportunity to involve students in real science as practiced Imagine a research book that gives examples of honest science research experiences for science oriented students What s more imagine a book that includes examples where students are collaborating with scientists from all over the world on research projects in person or via the Internet Internet Linksfor Science Education does just that It explores the role of the Internet and technol ogy in working student scientist partnerships Transforming Education for Sustainability María S. Rivera Maulucci,Stephanie Pfirman,Hilary S. Callahan,2023-06-20 This book investigates how educators and researchers in the sciences social sciences and the arts connect concepts of sustainability to work in their fields of study and in the classrooms where they teach the next generation Sustainability with a focus on justice authenticity and inclusivity can be integrated into many different courses or disciplines even if it is beyond their historical focus The narratives describe sustainability education in the classroom the laboratory and the field broadly defined and how the authors navigate the complexities of particular sustainability issues such as climate change water quality soil health biodiversity resource use and education in authentic ways that convey their complexity the sociopolitical context and their hopes for the future The chapters explore how faculty engage students in learning about sustainability and the ways in which working at the edge of what we know about sustainability can be a significant source of engagement motivation and challenge The authors discuss how they create learning experiences that foster democratic practices in which students are not just following protocols but have a stake in creative decision making collecting and analysing data and posing authentic questions They also describe what happens when students are not just passively receiving information but actively analysing debating dialoguing arguing from evidence and constructing nuanced understandings of complex socioscientific sustainability issues The narratives include undergraduate student perspectives on what it means to engage in sustainability research and learning how students navigate the complexities and contradictions inherent in sustainability issues what makes for authentic empowering learning experiences and how students are encouraged to persevere in the field This is an open access book The New York Times Guide to the Best Children's Videos Kids First!,1999-11 The only guide you ll need for choosing the best videos and CD ROMs for your family INCLUDES More than 1000 entries of kid tested and adult approved videos currently available Listings organized by age from infancy to adolescence as recommended by child development specialists A wide range of categories with special attention to gender and ethnicity Educatioinal Instructional Fairy Tales Family Literature and Myth Special Interest Foreign Language Holiday Music How To and Nature Review ratings in a clear easy to read format Evaluations by panels of adults and children Outstanding programs from independents and major studios Ordering information running times and suggested retail prices Evaluations of more than 100 CD ROMs 500 recommended feature films for the family and more The Software

Encyclopedia 2000 Bowker Editorial Staff,2000-05 The Media, Animal Conservation and Environmental Education John Blewitt,2013-10-31 Natural History filmmaking has a long history but the generic boundaries between it and environmental and conservation filmmaking are blurred Nature environment and animal imagery has been a mainstay of television campaigning organisations and conservation bodies from Greenpeace to the Sierra Club with vibrant images being used effectively on posters leaflets and postcards and in coffee table books media releases short films and viral emails to educate and inform the general public However critics suggest that wildlife film and photography frequently convey a false image of the state of the world s flora and fauna The environmental educator David Orr once remarked that all education is environmental education and it is possible to see all image based communication in the same way The Media Animal Conservation and Environmental Education has contributions from filmmakers photographers researchers and academics from across the globe It explores the various ways in which film television and video are and can be used by conservationists and educators to encourage both a greater awareness of environmental and conservation issues and practical action designed to help endangered species This book is based on a special issue of the journal Environmental Education Research
