are all issues commonly discussed by today's media. This book brings together a variety of perspectives on the study of childhood: how this has been treated historically and how such a concept is developing as we move into the next century. The book is divided into five main sections: part one sets the scene and provides the reader with an overview of attitudes towards childhood; part two surveys the contribution of literature from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries; part three examines educational issues such as children's play, language acquisition and spiritual development; part four looks at the representation of children in film, television and other mass media; part five offers further help for study and research. This book draws on a number of academic disciplines including education, literature, theology, language studies and history. It will be of particular use to those on Childhood studies courses and all those studying for a teacher qualification. Teachers of children aged between 4-12 years old will find its contribution to their continuing professional development extremely helpful.

Moments of Reflection Jean Howarth, Mike Walton, 1995. This collection of readings is designed for use in tutor group or year group assemblies and is based around 39 weekly themes which comply with the 1988 Education Act. The themes include spiritual awareness, living as a family, healing, friendship, human rights and inter-cultural harmony. Soul Matters Mabel Aghadiuno, Jas Kalsi, 2017-11-22. In recent years many have come to believe that Western medicine has lost contact with holistic conceptions of health as encompassing physical, emotional, intellectual, social and spiritual dimensions. Spiritual may imply religious or faith-based values or experience but also non-material factors such as an appreciation of natural beauty, art, music, moral values or beliefs from which a person draws meaning and a sense of transcendence. Equally many people are unaware of a spiritual dimension to life and health until illness or trauma strikes. However, coming to terms with life events, deriving meaning from them and incorporating them into their life philosophy may then be experienced as a deep spiritual crisis with ramifications in their wider health and implications for the health professionals who treat them. This book considers the meaning of holistic health care and explores the spiritual dimension of health through the narratives of fictional and non-fictional patients. It discusses how to discern when a patient's distress has a spiritual dimension, the implications of this for health professionals and ways in which spiritual factors can be addressed and discussed within healthcare. When it comes to questions about meaning and purpose such as 'what is the point of all this?' or 'why is this happening to me?' when we meet patients in the depths of despair at the prospect of imminent death, when we ourselves feel hopeless and overwhelmed in the face of an avalanche of human suffering, then we begin to struggle. We do not know what we could do nor even what we should do. Our professional training doesn't help. We are stuck. With this beautiful book Mabel Aghadiuno comes to our rescue. Christopher Dowrick in his Foreword. La puissance de la prière Jean Lafrance, 1992. The Life of Love: An Invitation: Fifty-two Reflections on Emotional and Spiritual Healing Sharon Southwell, 2014-10-26. Is love the place where psychological observation and spiritual wisdom about healing meet? If love is associated with healing of all sorts, how do I more consciously set about to grow in love, seeking healing for myself and for my neighbours, community and world How do I encourage others in their journeys into love Drawing on a broad Christian heritage a deep respect for the insights of other religious and spiritual traditions and two decades of work in welfare and clinical settings psychologist Sharon Southwell encourages spiritual seekers of all backgrounds to consider these questions for themselves Structured in 52 Reflections each followed by Invitations The Life of Love invites you to grow in love by embracing life giving connection to yourself to others your community to art nature and to your ultimate context whether you experience this as God or as some other immanent or transcendent spiritual connection L'expérience de l'Esprit Walter J.
