The Annotated Old Four Legs: The story of the coelacanth Mike Bruton, 2017-11-01 When the famous South African fish scientist Professor JLB Smith published Old Fourlegs The Story of the Coelacanth in 1956 he created an international sensation After all this 400 million year old fish known only from fossil remains was thought to have become extinct around 66 million years ago JLB Smith's dramatic account of the discovery of the first and second coelacanths in 1938 and 1952 turned him into a cult figure and put South African science on the world map His book was eventually published in six English editions and translated into nine foreign languages Mike Bruton's The Annotated Old Fourlegs includes a facsimile reprint of the original book to which he has added notes and images in the margins that provide an interesting and revealing commentary on Smith's text as well as new introductory and explanatory chapters that bring the coelacanth story up to date

Untranslatability Goes Global Suzanne Jill Levine, Katie Lateef-Jan, 2017-07-06 This book promotes interdisciplinary dialogue about untranslatability and its implications within the context of globalization It examines at the pragmatics of translation practice the role of the translator

s voice and the translator as author in specific literary works and case studies across a variety of genres and traditions across regions

Masters of Mathematics Robert A. Nowlan, 2017-05-13 The original title for this work was Mathematical Literacy What Is It and Why You Need it The current title reflects that there can be no real learning in any subject unless questions of who what when where why and how are raised in the minds of the learners The book is not a mathematical text and there are no assigned exercises or exams It is written for reasonably intelligent and curious individuals both those who value mathematics aware of its many important applications and others who have been inappropriately exposed to mathematics leading to indifference to the subject fear and even loathing These feelings are all consequences of meaningless presentations drill rote learning and being lost as the purpose of what is being studied Mathematics education needs a radical reform There is more than one way to accomplish this Here the author presents his approach of wrapping mathematical ideas in a story To learn one first must develop an interest in a problem and the curiosity to find how masters of mathematics have solved them What is necessary to be mathematically literate It s not about solving algebraic equations or even making a geometric proof These are valuable skills but not evidence of literacy We often seek answers but learning to ask pertinent questions is the road to mathematical literacy Here is the good news new mathematical ideas have a way of finding applications This is known as the unreasonable effectiveness of mathematics

Textual Confrontations Alfred J. Mac Adam, 1987-03 In this masterful experiment in truly comparative literary criticism Alfred J Mac Adam establishes Latin America s place in the Western literary tradition By juxtaposing Latin American and Anglo American texts he shows how Latin American literature has gone beyond the context of Hispanic letters to borrow from exploit and finally extend the Western tradition Mac Adam describes the changes that have taken place in Latin American literature since the time of Modernismo roughly 1880 1920 when Spanish American writers tried to update their literary language by imitating foreign mostly French literature Since then as he demonstrates Latin American writing has achieved a pioneering status by means of a different kind of imitation parody whereby it gives back to the former centers of Western culture their own writing now distorted and reshaped into something new

"Dating Egyptian Literary Texts" Gerald Moers, 2013 A central issue of Egyptological research is the question of dating the original composition of religious or literary texts Very prominent is a lively debate about the date of composition of a number of literary texts traditionally dated to the Late First Intermediate Period or the Early Middle Kingdom but known only from New Kingdom manuscripts Over the last years several attempts have been made to date the production of some of these texts much closer to their first physical appearance More recently the discussion has heated up considerably with contributions that argue for a New Kingdom origin of Merikare Neferti and Amenemhet a reassessment based on conceptions of Egyptian cultural history or on linguistic analysis On the other hand there is an equally strong tendency to retain at least the early datings or to propose even earlier ones for some literary and many more religious texts This volume presents both overviews and in depth case studies of current Egyptological dating practices and methods While giving the state of the art of dating Egyptian literary texts the book also addresses important methodological issues to provide a basis for future research The British Library general catalogue of printed books to 1975 British Library,1982 Nineteenth-Century Literature Criticism Russel Whitaker,2004-07 Presents literary criticism on the works of nineteenth century writers of all genres nations and cultures Critical essays are selected from leading sources including published journals magazines books reviews diaries broadsheets pamphlets and scholarly papers Criticism includes early views from the author s lifetime as well as later views including extensive collections of contemporary analysis The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1982
