Annotated Texts for Translation Christina Schäffner, Uwe Wiesenmann, 2001-01-01 This text presents a functionalist approach to translation as a framework for dealing with recurring translation problems in a number of genres On the basis of illustrative sample texts the decisions taken in the production of the target texts are commented on in view of the specified translation assignments

Song Translation: Lyrics in Contexts Johan Franzon, Annjo K. Greenall, Sigmund Kvam, Anastasia Parianou, 2021-02-01 Song Translation Lyrics in Contexts grew out of a project dedicated to the translation of song lyrics The book aligns itself with the tradition of descriptive translation studies Its authors scholars from Finland Great Britain Greece Italy Norway and Sweden all deal with the translation of song lyrics in a great variety of different contexts including music and performance settings inter cultural perspectives and historical backgrounds On the one hand the analyses demonstrate the breadth and diversity of the concept of translation itself on the other they show how different contexts set up conditions that shape translational practices and products in different ways The book is intended for translation studies scholars as well as for musicologists students of language and or music and practicing translators in short anybody interested in this creative and fascinating field of translational practice

A Companion to Translation Studies Piotr Kuhiwczak, Karin Littau, 2007-01-01 A Companion to Translation Studies is the first work of its kind It provides an authoritative guide to key approaches in translation studies All of the essays are specially commissioned for this collection and written by leading international experts in the field The book is divided into nine specialist areas culture philosophy linguistics history literary gender theatre and opera screen and politics Each chapter gives an in depth account of theoretical concepts issues and debates which define a field within translation studies mapping out past trends and suggesting how research might develop in the future

Researching Language, Text and Technology in Translation Tengku Sepora Tengku Mahadi, 2022-11-03 With the intention to show to the world the rigor of translation research Researching Language Text and Technology in Translation came forward with a collection of recent translation studies focusing on the aspects of language text and technology in relation to translation There is a total of seven studies with the first chapter presenting the validity of translation research while the rest portraying many different topics such as the difference between human and machine translation when translating the memoir of Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad the translation of cultural humor for animated comedies a look into the colonial perspective when it comes to translating literature from the east and various other topics that are both interesting and bring many different cultures around the world into view This book can benefit academics students particularly research and graduate students translators and those who are interested in language and translation It is hoped that its casual yet educational content can open minds and stimulate ideas among its readers especially in the terms of translation and of how it connects the world together

Translating the European House Stefan Baumgarten, Chantal Gagnon, 2016-08-17 This anthology of papers written by Christina Schäffner brings together a selection of articles on the theme of translation and politics Written from the perspective of translation studies and critical discourse analysis it provides an overview of the textual and ideological factors that determine processes of translation within the arena of international politics The selected articles afford a fascinating insight into the dynamics of intercultural exchange against the backdrop of European politics from the fall of the Berlin Wall to debates on EU enlargement By taking a context sensitive approach to linguistic description this book will be of interest to scholars in various adjacent fields of research such as applied linguistics intercultural communication studies media studies political science and the sociology of globalisation as well as to relevant higher education programmes around the world The discipline of translation studies has made its mark by conceptualising translation as a form of cross cultural communication that transcends asymmetrical relations of power foregrounding issues such as colonial domination cultural hegemony and ideology To date however there has been no compelling evidence of the linguistic implications of transnational political communication and little research has been done to help us to understand how political discourse at the international level presupposes translation Featuring a wealth of examples from political text and talk each article here links contextual features to the linguistic choices of political actors By moving beyond national and cultural boundaries these analyses help the reader to get to grips with the discursive implications of power politics and to open up a new debate for a novel area of studies that might be termed cross cultural political discourse analysis
