Genius in the Shadows William Lanouette, 2013-09-01 Well known names such as Albert Einstein Enrico Fermi J Robert Oppenheimer and Edward Teller are usually those that surround the creation of the atom bomb One name that is rarely mentioned is Leo Szilard known in scientific circles as father of the atom bomb The man who first developed the idea of harnessing energy from nuclear chain reactions he is curiously buried with barely a trace in the history of this well known and controversial topic Born in Hungary and educated in Berlin he escaped Hitler s Germany in 1933 and that first year developed his concept of nuclear chain reactions In order to prevent Nazi scientists from stealing his ideas he kept his theories secret until he and Albert Einstein pressed the US government to research atomic reactions and designed the first nuclear reactor Though he started his career out lobbying for civilian control of atomic energy he concluded it with founding in 1962 the first political action committee for arms control the Council for a Livable World Besides his career in atomic energy he also studied biology and sparked ideas that won others the Nobel Prize The Salk Institute for Biological Studies in La Jolla California where Szilard spent his final days was developed from his concepts to blend science and social issues

Mediterranean Identities Borna Fuerst-Bjeliš, 2017-11-08 What is the Mediterranean The perception of the Mediterranean leans equally on the nature culture history lifestyle and landscape To approach the question of identity it seems that we have to give importance to all of these There is no Mediterranean identity but Mediterranean identities Mediterranean is not about the homogeneity and uniformity but about the unity that comes from diversities contacts and interconnections The book tends to embrace the environment society and culture of the Mediterranean in their multiple and unique interconnections over the millennia contributing to the better understanding of the essential human environmental interrelations The choice of 17 chapters of the book written by a number of prominent scholars clearly shows the necessity of the interdisciplinary approach to the Mediterranean identity issues The book stresses the most serious concerns of the Mediterranean today threats to biodiversity risks and hazards mostly the increasing wildfires and finally depletion of traditional Mediterranean practices and landscapes as constituent parts of the Mediterranean heritage
