Appreciation Post Tara Ward,2024-04-30 What does an art history of Instagram look like In this text Tara Ward addresses this question to show that Instagram is best understood as a structure of the visual which includes not just the process of looking but what can be seen and by whom Tracing the platform s own mythology for how it will be integrated into users lives Appreciation Post highlights the ways the constraints imposed by the experience of viewing limit the kinds of selves that can be presented on it showing how the proliferation of technical knowledge especially amongst younger women has produced a revitalization of the myth of the masculine genius and a corresponding reinvigoration of masculine audience for art Ward prompts contemplation of the meaning of various aspects of Instagram and the deliberate choices on the part of actual Instagrammers exploring what it is like to scroll through images on a phone the skill involved in taking an Instagram worthy picture and the desires created by following influencers This approach reveals how Instagram is shifting long established ways of interacting with images and makes an argument for art history s value as a way of understanding the contemporary world and the visual nature of identity today Natural Gas Bypass United States. indigenous to North America and to Australia involved creative constructions concoctions of primary examples in order to establish and give authority to academic theories and definitions Rather than damning these examples as bad scholarship this book considers them to be encounters engendering creative constructions that are distinctive to academia yet their potential for harm must be understood Most important to the book is a persistent development of perspectives and strategies for understanding and approaching encounters in order to assure the appreciation of difference is accompanied by the potential for creativity and innovation Specific perspectives and strategies are related to naming moving gesture and play and particularly relevant to religion the development of an aesthetic of impossibles Since these historical examples engage highly relevant present concerns the distinction of real and fake truth and lie map and territory the threading essays show how these more or less classic examples might contribute to appreciating these contemporary concerns that are generated in the presence of difference
