Approaches To Teaching The Works Of Dh Lawrence

M. Elizabeth Sargent, Garry Watson

Approaches To Teaching The Works Of Dh Lawrence:

Approaches to Teaching the Works of D.H. Lawrence M. Elizabeth Sargent, Garry Watson, 2001 Lawrence's forceful language imagery and rhythms can make readers feel they are being attacked or challenged These essays describe ways to encourage students to read his works more closely accurately and sensitively and to learn how to complicate their reading

Approaches to Teaching the Works of Flannery O'Connor Robert Donahoo, Marshall Bruce Gentry, 2019-09-01 Offers pedagogical techniques for teaching the works of Flannery O'Connor including considerations of race whiteness class religion disability gender technology the environment and the post World War II period Gives syllabus suggestions for undergraduate and graduate courses in American literature Southern literature creative writing and women's studies D. H. Lawrence, Ecofeminism and Nature Terry Gifford, 2022-09-30 Shortlisted for the ASLE UKI Prize for Best Academic Monograph This is the first ecocritical book on the works of D H Lawrence and also the first to consider the links between nature and gender in the poetry and the novels In his search for a balanced relationship between male and female characters what role does nature play in the challenges Lawrence offers his readers How far are the anxieties of his characters in negotiating relationships that might threaten their sense of self derived from the same source as their anxieties about engaging with the Other in nature Indeed might Lawrence's metaphors drawn from nature actually be the causes of human actions in The Rainbow for example The originality of Lawrence's poetic and narrative strategies for challenging social attitudes towards both nature and gender can be revealed by new approaches offered by ecocritical theory and ecofeminist readings of his books This book explores ecocritical notions to frame its ecofeminist readings from the difference between the Other and otherness in The White Peacock and Lady Chatterley's Lover otherness in the poetry of Birds Beasts and Flowers psychogeography in Sea and Sardinia emergent ecofeminism in Sons and Lovers land and gender in The Boy in the Bush gender dialogics in Kangaroo human animality in Women in Love trees as tests in Aaron's Rod to radical animism in The Plumed Serpent Finally three late tales provide a reassessment of ecofeminist insights into Lawrence's work for readers in the present context of the Anthropocene The Forgotten Film Adaptations of D.H. Lawrence's Short Stories Jason Mark Ward, 2016-07-11 This book looks beyond fidelity to emphasize how each adaptation of D H Lawrence's short stories functions as a creative response to a text foregrounding the significance of its fluidity transtextuality and genre The adaptations analysed range from the first to the most recent and draw attention to the fluidity of textual sources the significance of generic conventions and space in film the generic potentialities latent within Lawrence's tales and the evolving nature of adaptation By engaging with recent advances in adaptation theory to discuss the evolving critical reception of the author's work and the role of the reader this book provides a fresh forward looking approach to Lawrence studies Approaches to Teaching the Novels of Henry Fielding Jennifer Preston Wilson, Elizabeth Kraft, 2015-12-01 Offers pedagogical techniques for teaching Henry Fielding's novels bringing considerations of epic comedy romance religion law politics class gender narrative voice style formalism historicism and book history into the college classroom Includes information on editions reference works biographies and online resources Gives syllabus suggestions for undergraduate and graduate courses

The Complete Poems of D.H. Lawrence David Herbert Lawrence,1994 Lawrence first put together the collection of his poems in 1928 They are arranged chronologically to make up a biography of an emotional and inner life

D. H. Lawrence's Language of Sacred Experience C. Burack,2005-11-20 This book demonstrates how D H Lawrence s prophetic ambitions impelled him to create novels that would radically transform the consciousness of his readers Charles Burack argues that Lawrence s major novels beginning with The Rainbow are structured as religious initiation rites that attempt to break down the reader s normative mindset and to evoke new numinous experiences of self and world Through careful analysis of narrative structure literary technique and sacred discourses Burack shows that Lawrence tries to initiate the reader into his own version of religious vitalism Unlike most initiations that conclude with powerful affirmations Lawrence s novels generally end with an attempt to subvert the formation of new religious dogmas and to encourage sacred erotic exploration

Shapes of Openness Matthew Leone,2010-01-08 Bakhtin and Lawrence share remarkable affinities Bakhtinian dialogism is effectively a philosophy of potentiality and Lawrence or at least the Lawrence who authored Women in Love may well be its High Priest Both thinkers address questions of unity newness and the creative process In this study they enter into complementary genuinely Bakhtinian dialogue one in which The word in language is half someone else s One surprising result of this comparative examination is that some prevalent deeply damaging biases about Lawrence are undermined Is he a misogynist or is he essentially as he seems evidently to fear in Women in Love and rather consistently elsewhere an over compensating momma s boy Here Bakhtinian theory is used as a means of testing pertinent criticism of Lawrence and it provides a detailed conceptual basis for the readings of his fiction that follow Is Women in Love a Bakhtinian open totality How is dialogic openness as opposed to modernist indeterminacy a form shaping ideology of comic interrogation Is Women in Love not only open ended and unresolved but also about its open endedness or unfinalizability In methods and meanings in forming depths and explicit surfaces this study explores the sum and substance of the novel s dialogicality and finds that the shape of its dialogic openness is interrogative Indeed in Women in Love characters are identified by the self shaping questions they ask How much do you love me asks Gudrun of Gerald whose What do women want at the bottom like Ursula s Do you really love me have surprisingly revelatory depths Birkin s ludicrously encompassing and apocalyptic Is our day of creative life finished not only expresses a fundamental authorial narrative intention it simultaneously and self correctively mocks itself for so doing and does so in ways that may well suggest intuitive insights into the nature of Bakhtinian carnival laughter In large measure character in the Bakhtinian framework appropriated by this study is essentially a question personified one that is made to walk and talk so to speak within the intersecting chronotopes or time space zones of the novel Such ambulatory interrogations then either connect or fail to do so with other characters as questions in living conversation Women in Love achieves a polyphonic or dialogic openness one that Lawrence in his later fictions cannot always sustain Subsequent to it univocal simplifying organizations in his work supervene In his later fictions dialogic process collapses into a stenographic report upon completed dialogue over which the travel writer the poet or the messianic martyr preside There are nevertheless even in his later works happy exceptions to this diminution of dialogic vitality Lawrence's consummate dialogic openness of thought and expression can be discerned in the ambivalent laughter of The Captain's Doll of St Mawr and of The Man Who Loved Islands In these retrospective variations on earlier themes laughing openness of vision takes new unfinalizable or open shapes Publishers Trade List R R Bowker Publishing, 2001

The Cinema of Mike Leigh Garry Watson, 2004 A keen observer of British manners and mores Mike Leigh has been hailed as a celebrator of ordinary people Comparing and contrasting all his films from Bleak Moments and High Hopes through Naked the Oscar nominated Secrets and Lies and Topsy Turvy to All or Nothing Garry Watson considers this claim examining both their influence and their effect Through careful textual detail and wider social and literary comparison with the works of Charles Dickens and T S Eliot he argues ultimately for the artistic and cultural significance of Leigh's work as one of Britain's most respected film makers
