Arab Industrialization In Israel Ethnic Entrepreneurship In The Periphery:

Arab Industrialization in Israel Izhak Schnell, Michael Sofer, Israel Drori, 1995-10-30 This study focuses on the obstacles that Arab entrepreneurs must overcome in their attempt to industrialize and to integrate into Israel's larger economy

The Israeli Economy from the Foundation of the State through the 21st Century Paul Rivlin, 2010-11-15 This book analyzes the development of the Israeli economy in its historical context. It shows how the ideology of the dominant group in the Zionist movement led to the development of agriculture thus meeting the preconditions for successful industrialization. Remarkable if uneven growth has taken place with increasing allocations for defense. Regional isolation led to the emphasis on high quality exports for developed markets that has stimulated the technological base. Israel has benefited from mass immigration and increased access to foreign capital factors that have transformed the economy. The book includes chapters on the development of the Jewish community in Palestine during the British Mandate, macroeconomic developments and economic policy, globalization and high technology, defense, the economics of the Arab minority, Israeli settlements and relations with the Palestinians and the role of religion. It concludes with an examination of the socioeconomic divisions that have widened as the economy has grown

Facing Barriers Vered Kraus, Yuval P. Yonay, 2018-03-22 Analyzes the labor experience of Israeli Palestinian women arguing that state policies and widespread discrimination hinder their labor force participation and success

The Seam Line Israel Drori, 2000 Many Arab communities in Israel's Galilee region are home to export oriented textile factories owned by multinational corporations whose Jewish managers employ local Arab and Druse women as seamstresses and low level work supervisors. Based on five years of ethnographic research this book explores how these managers and workers negotiate the terms and meanings of factory work integrating work culture with the norms and values of the host towns in order for employment arrangements to succeed. The entrance of industrial corporations into developing areas of the world particularly in those industries employing primarily women has generated tension between traditional familial and social roles and the demands of industrial working life. In Israel these tensions are further complicated by the social and political dynamics of Arab Jewish conflict as well as the strictly demarcated roles of women and men in traditional Arab society. The resolution of these tensions on the shop floor shapes the social relations of production, the factories management systems, family life in the industrial towns and individual status and autonomy. The negotiation involves unequal power relations manifested in a dual patriarchal structure, the Arab cultural practice of male domination of women as well as the formal management system of the textile concern which dictates the nature of relationships between Jewish managers and Arab women workers. To meet their business goals the managers must cooperate with the community that provides their workforce adapting its norms and appropriating its worldview. The managers are constrained by the strict social rules of Arab and Druse society and respond by attempting to harness and manipulate local family values to foster personal commitment furthering production goals through paternal control. The consequence of this paternalism is a workforce that relates to the organization as family identifies with its goals and internalizes feelings of loyalty However the workforce also uses the plant as the arena for developing self awareness and enhancing personal independence and status within the family The seamstresses emerge as active shapers of the organizational culture forcing the managers to adapt to and comply with their personal needs and perceptions of work Journal of Palestine Studies ,1996 Devoted exclusively to the Arab Israeli conflict and Palestinian affairs A forum for study of the region and peaceful resolution to the conflict analysis of current developments in the peace process the latest historical scholarship and cultural and societal trends

Ethnic Conflict and Protest in Tibet and Xinjiang Ben Hillman,Gray Tuttle,2016-04-05 Despite more than a decade of rapid economic development rising living standards and large scale improvements in infrastructure and services China s western borderlands are awash in a wave of ethnic unrest not seen since the 1950s Through on the ground interviews and firsthand observations the international experts in this volume create an invaluable record of the conflicts and protests as they have unfolded the most extensive chronicle of events to date The authors examine the factors driving the unrest in Tibet and Xinjiang and the political strategies used to suppress them They also explain why certain areas have seen higher concentrations of ethnic based violence than others Essential reading for anyone struggling to understand the origins of unrest in contemporary Tibet and Xinjiang this volume considers the role of propaganda and education as generators and sources of conflict It links interethnic strife to economic growth and connects environmental degradation to increased instability It captures the subtle difference between violence in urban Xinjiang and conflict in rural Tibet with detailed portraits of everyday individuals caught among the pressures of politics history personal interest and global movements with local resonance Southern Economic Journal ,1997 Contains section Book reviews Socioeconomic Inequality in

Israel Nabil Khattab,Sami Miaari,Haya Stier,2016-04-29 This volume addresses different aspects and areas of inequality in Israel a country characterized by high levels of economic inequality poverty and social diversity The book expands on the mechanisms that produce and maintain inequality and the role of state policies in influencing those mechanisms State Practices and Zionist Images David A. Wesley,2013-01-01 Although the Israeli state subscribes to the principles of administrative fairness and equality for Jews and Arabs before the law the reality looks very different Focusing on Arab land loss inside Israel proper and the struggle over development resources this study explores the interaction between Arab local authorities their Jewish neighbors and the agencies of the national government in regard to developing local and regional industrial areas The author avoids reduction to simple models of binary domination revealing instead a complex multi dimensional field of relations and ever shifting lines of political maneuver and confrontation He examines the prevailing concept of ethnic traditionalism and argues that the image of Arab traditionalism erects imaginary boundaries around the Arab localities making government incursion disappear from view while underpinning and rationalizing the exclusion of the Arab towns from development planning Moreover he shows how images of environmental protection mesh with and support such exclusion The study includes a chronology of events tables maps and photographs This revised paperback edition with a new epilogue brings accounts of Arab land loss and struggles for economic development up to date The author also deals with the challenges of life and research in Israel and examines the possibilities of sharing the land as the homeland of both Jews and Palestinians

Stratification in Israel Moshe Semyonov,2019-01-22 Until recently issues surrounding ethnic linked inequality whether between Jews and Arabs or between Jewish ethnic groups have dominated research on stratification in Israel to the exclusion of other dimensions Rapidly growing inequality in Israeli society and its intergenerational persistence however have generated several new trends in research The chapters included in this volume represent the range and depth of recent developments in the study of social stratification mobility and inequality Although they address a variety of issues they have in common a focus on the institutional mechanisms that govern the allocation of rewards

Ethnic Frontiers and Peripheries Oren Yiftachel,2019-03-12 The idea for editing this book originated during an international conference titled Regional Development The Challenge of the Frontier held in December 1993 at the Dead Sea and which was organized by the Negev Center for Regional Development at Ben Gurion University of the Negev In this conference we noticed that little has been said about the impact of Israel s complex mosaic of ethnic groups on the shaping of the country s social and spatial frontiers We have therefore endeavored to bring together a number of perspectives on the evolution of ethnic frontiers in Israel and the role they play in shaping the cultural landscape of this country Yet we later realized that frontier is too limited a term and that it may through various processes have turned into a mosaic of spatial social economic and political peripheries More specifically we attempted to present the process of frontier development as perceived by Israel s ethnic and national minorities We therefore invited contributions from various other Israeli experts on these issues geographers sociologists anthropologists and political scientists which have now become the main body of chapters in this book We trust that they are representative of the main dimensions of the subject
