Zartman,2015-07-24 This volume first published in 1988 analyses the process of stabilisation amongst the Arab states a process that has contradicted all predictions of impending disintegration and impending collapse Although there were some cases of disintegration there are evidently mechanisms at work that helped consolidate the majority of Arab states and the Arab state system Revolutions as in Iran or the Sudan or political collapse and disintegration as in Lebanon have been highly visible but nevertheless exceptions This collection Volume Three in the Nation State and Integration in the Arab World research project carried out by the Istituto Affari Internazionali focuses on the problem of explaining the stability and persistence of the state in the Arab world Postcolonialism and Social Theory in Arabic Dietrich Jung,Florian

Zemmin,2024-09-12 Since Edward Said s publication of Orientalism in 1978 so called Western social theory and its claim to universal analytical validity has been exposed to severe criticism Scholars from the field of postcolonial studies were most vocal in criticizing the Eurocentric nature of the conceptual apparatus of the social sciences Indeed contemporary social theory almost exclusively refers to the historical experiences of Western Europe and North America Yet what is the alternative to these Eurocentric frameworks Many postcolonial critics use very few non English sources and tend to focus on the deconstruction of European and American theories The chapters of this volume provide a turn of perspective The authors critically reflect upon the concepts of so called Western social theory by engaging with social science literature and social theory in Arabic Questions addressed include What are the concepts themes and historical narratives in contemporary Arabic social theory In which ways do Arab social theorists provide us with alternatives to the conceptual apparatuses employed by so called Western social theory To what extent are Arab and Western social theories entangled with each other Ethnic

Stratification and Economic Inequality around the World Max Haller in collaboration,Anja Eder,2016-03-03 The modern world is characterised by pervasive economic inequalities Strong economic growth in some developing countries has contributed to a degree to a reduction in the levels of inequality between nations yet inequality within nations remains high and in some cases continues to increase Ethnic Stratification and Economic Inequality around the World investigates the reasons for these striking differences exploring the coincidence and interaction between economic stratification and ethnic differentiation Drawing on extensive international survey and statistical data the author develops a new theory and concrete hypotheses concerning the conditions which lead toward extreme inequality and those which tend toward greater equality A systematic examination of the interaction between class structures social stratification and ethnic differentiation this book sheds light on the manner in which the resulting social structures produce different levels of economic inequality offering a fivefold typology of patterns of ethnic stratification which can be applied to present day world regions Drawing on the work of Max Weber to provide a rigorous investigation of inequality around the world it demonstrates what sociology as a science of social reality can significantly contribute to our understanding of global economic stratification The book is relevant for a wide social scientific audience particularly for sociologists economists and political scientists working in a comparative perspective

The Republic of Yemen Marta Colburn, 2002 The Muslim World Book Review, 1989 Development, Change, and Gender in Cairo Diane Singerman, Homa Hoodfar, 1996 The authors of these rich ethnographic essays demonstrate that the Egyptian household plays a crucial if largely overlooked role into the dynamics of political economic and social change While Western social scientists have assumed that employment outside the home improves women's autonomy and economic status economic liberalization in Egypt is shown here to have worsened the economic situation of women and undermined their authority within the household The collection explains why such everyday issues as unemployment government subsidies gender relations housing political participation educational mobility and the standard of living have become increasingly politicized at the household level a development that has direct implications in the context of Islamist challenges to the state

Global Rebellion Mark Juergensmeyer, 2008 This is an indispensable book in helping us understand the new world disorder that seems to be overtaking us Juergensmeyer points out that much of the world neither understands nor finds attractive the idea of a secular state He helps us see that religious nationalism is a fact of life that will be with us for a long time to come Deconstructing any simple notion of fundamentalism he shows us how it is possible to live with religious nationalism constructively without demonizing it That is a major achievement Robert Bellah coauthor of Habits of the Heart For years Mark Juergensmeyer has served as a kind of Cassandra figure warning us all about the rise of religious violence the global reach of religious nationalism and the challenges posed by new religious identities to the secular nation state Now that the world is finally listening Juergensmeyer remains our best guide in unraveling the complex interplay between religion and politics in the modern world Global Rebellion once again demonstrates why Juergensmeyer is the foremost authority on the global sociology of religion This is an awe inspiring work by arguably the most important thinker on the subject Reza Aslan author of No god but God: The Origins, Evolution and Future of Islam Islam, Motor Or Challenge of Modernity Georg Stauth, 1998 In this first volume of the Yearbook of Sociology of Islam Georg Stauth brought together Islamologists and Sociologists who explore Islam and modern applications of Islamic thought as a way of demonstrating in a variety of social fields the ambiguity of the effective use of religious ideas and specifically Islamic models of social order to promote change Far away from being apologetic this collection of papers intends to show that the transcendental visions of Islam have been used as a foundational matrix for an indigenized Islamic Sociology as much as they played an important role in the modern restructuration of local symbolic and political orders Analysis and discourse are privileged components in the scientific part of both the Islamic and the Western world Accordingly this volume attempts to contribute to the ongoing dialogue among sociologists about the effective history of exchange between Islamic visions and modernity Contributors Mona Abaza Mohammed Arkoun Friedemann Bittner Fanny Colonna Shmuel N Eisenstadt Peter Heine Armando Salvatore Reinhard Schulze Georg Stauth Karin Werner Sami Zubaida Editor Georg Stauth teaches sociology at the University of Bielefeld Germany
