Urban Archaeology, Municipal Government and Local Planning Sherene Baugher, Douglas R. Appler, William Moss, 2017-07-28

Improving the relationship between archaeology and local government represents one of the next great challenges facing archaeology specifically archaeology done in urban settings Not only does local government have access to powerful legal tools and policy mechanisms that can offer protection for privately owned archaeological sites but because local government exists at the grassroots level it is also often closer to people who have deep knowledge about the community itself about its values and about the local meaning of the sites most in need of protection This partnership between archaeology and local government can also provide visibility and public programming for heritage sites This book will explore the experiences both positive and negative of small and large cities globally We have examined programs in the Commonwealth of Nations formerly known as the British Commonwealth and in the United States These countries share similar perspectives on preservation and heritage although the approaches these cities have taken to address municipal archaeology reveals considerable diversity The case studies highlight how these innovative partnerships have developed and explain how they function within local government Engaging with the political sphere to advocate for and conduct archaeology requires creativity flexibility and the ability to develop collaborative partnerships How these archaeological partnerships benefit the community is a vital part of the equation Heritage and tourist benefits are discussed Economic challenges during downturns in the economy are analyzed The book also examines public outreach programs and the grassroots efforts to protect and preserve a community's archaeological heritage

Introduction to Archaeology Tammy Stone,2014-08-11 The Archaeologist's Manual for Conservation Bradley A. Rodgers,2007-05-08 This is a Foreword by an archaeologist not a conservator but as Brad Rodgers says Conservation has been steadily pulled from archaeology by the forces of specialization p 3 and hewantstoremedy that situation through this manual He sees this work as a call to action for the non professional conservator permitting curators conservators and archaeologists to identify artifacts that need professional attention and allow these professionals to stabilize most artifacts in their own laboratories with minimal intervention using simple non toxic procedures p 5 It is the mission of Brad's manual to bring conservation back into archaeology p 6 The degree of success of that goal depends on the degree to which archaeologists pay attention to and put to use what Brad has to say because as he says The conservationist archaeologist is responsible to make preparation for an artifact's care even before it is excavated and after its storage into the foreseeable future a tremendous responsibility p 10 The manual is a combination of highly technical as well as common sense methods of conserving wood iron and other metals ceramics glass and stone organics and composites a far better guide to artifact conservation than was available to me when I first faced that archaeological challenge at colonial Brunswick Town North Carolina in 1958 a challenge still being faced by archaeologists today The stage of conservation in 1958 is in dramatic contrast to the procedures Brad describes in this manual conservation has indeed made great progress For instance a common procedure then was to heat the artifacts red hot in a furnace a method that made me cringe The
