The Discovery of Australia George Collingridge, 1895 Watriama and Co Hugh Laracy, 2013-10-01 WATRIAMA AND CO the title echoes Kipling's STALKY AND CO is a collection of biographical essays about people associated with the Pacific Islands It covers a period of almost a century and a half However the individual stories of first hand experience converge to some extent in various ways so as to present a broadly coherent picture of Pacific History In this politics economics and religion overlap So too do indigenous cultures and concerns together with the activities and interests of the Europeans who ventured into the Pacific and who had a profound widespread and enduring impact there from the nineteenth century and who also prompted reactions from the Island peoples Not least significant in this process is the fact that the Europeans generated a paper trail through which their stories and those of the Islanders who also contributed to their written record can be known Thus not only are the subjects of the essays to be encountered personally and within a contextual kinship but the way in which the past has shaped the future is clearly discernible Watriama himself features in various historical narratives So too certain of his confreres in this collection which is the product of several decades of exploring the Pacific past in archives by sea and on foot through most of Oceania

Prospectus of the Scots New Zealand Land Company Patrick Matthew, Scots New Zealand Land Company, 2019-12-23 The anthology Prospectus of the Scots New Zealand Land Company invites readers to explore the vision and aspirations embodied in one of the most ambitious colonization endeavors of the 19th century This collection deftly compiles a range of documents and literary forms from official prospectuses to evocative descriptions of New Zealand's untamed landscapes each echoing themes of promise adventure and the quest for prosperity The anthology stands as a testament to the era's colonial zeal and the Scottish spirit of enterprise offering a tapestry of narratives that capture the essence of building a new world The contributing voices including Patrick Matthew and the Scots New Zealand Land Company provide a mosaic of perspectives rooted in their heritage and ambitions The editors have meticulously curated texts that reflect the socio-political currents of the time aligning with the larger movement of Scottish emigration and colonial settlement Their collective contributions underscore a shared vision shaped by historical imperatives and individual aspirations yet each brings a distinctive narrative thread that deepens the reader's engagement with the anthology's central themes For readers interested in historical colonization cultural heritage and literary expression of the 19th century this anthology offers a unique portal into a complex interplay of ambition and reality Its multiplicity of voices and perspectives enrich the reader's understanding fostering a dialogue between the past and the present Prospectus of the Scots New Zealand Land Company is not just a collection of documents it is an educational voyage through a pivotal moment in history showcasing the enduring legacy of Scottish contributions to the global narrative

throughout Australia's history from before white settlement to the present Australia and America in 1892 Edward Dowling, 1893 Australian Explorers by Sea, Land, and Air, 1788-1988 Ian Francis McLaren, 1991 Reason and Religion Herman Philipse, 2022-04-28 Religion is relevant to all of us whether we are believers or not This book concerns two interrelated topics First how probable is God's existence Should we not conclude that all divinities are human inventions Second what are the mental and social functions of endorsing religious beliefs The answers to these questions are interdependent If a religious belief were true the fact that humans hold it might be explained by describing how its truth was discovered If all religious beliefs are false a different explanation is required In this provocative book Herman Philipse combines philosophical investigations concerning the truth of religious convictions with empirical research on the origins and functions of religious beliefs Numerous topics are discussed such as the historical genesis of monotheisms out of polytheisms how to explain Saul's conversion to Jesus and whether any apologetic strategy of Christian philosophers is convincing Universal atheism is the final conclusion Colonial frontiers Lynette Russell, 2017-03-01 Cross cultural encounters produce boundaries and frontiers This book explores the formation structure and maintenance of boundaries and frontiers in settler colonies The southern nations of Australia New Zealand and South Africa have a common military heritage as all three united to fight for the British Empire during the Boer and First World Wars The book focuses on the southern latitudes and especially Australia and Australian historiography Looking at cross cultural interactions in the settler colonies the book illuminates the formation of new boundaries and the interaction between settler societies and indigenous groups It contends that the frontier zone is a hybrid space a place where both indigene and invader come together on land that each one believes to be their own The best way to approach the northern Cape frontier zone is via an understanding of the significance of the frontier in South African history The book explores some ways in which discourses of a natural prehistoric Aboriginality inform colonial representations of the Australian landscape and its inhabitants both indigenous and immigrant The missions of the London Missionary Society LMS in Polynesia and Australia are examined to explore the ways in which frontiers between British and antipodean cultures were negotiated in colonial textuality The role of the Treaty of Waitangi in New Zealand society is possibly the most important and controversial issue facing modern New Zealanders The book also presents valuable insights into sexual politics Aboriginal sovereignty economics of Torres Strait maritime and nomadism
