1940s Omnibus:

1940s Omnibus Agatha Christie, 2006 Agatha Christie's imaginative crime novels and thrillers made her a household name from the 1920s right through to her final books in the early 1970s. She was the creator of Hercule Poirot and Miss Jane Marple. This work brings together N or M Towards Zero, Sparkling Cyanide and Crooked House, all four stand-alone novels written by her.

Catholic Women and Mexican Politics, 1750-1940 Margaret Chowning, 2024-11-05 Historians have long looked to networks of elite liberal and anti-clerical men as the driving forces in Mexican history over the course of the long nineteenth century. This traditional view writes Margaret Chowning cannot account for the continued power of the Catholic Church in Mexico which has withstood extensive and sustained political opposition for over a century. How then must the scholarly consensus change to better reflect Mexico's history? In this book Chowning shows that the church repeatedly emerged as a political player even when liberals won elections primarily because of the overlooked importance of women in politics. Catholic women kept the church alive through the wars of independence and made it into the political force it continues to be in present-day Mexico. Using archival sources from ten Mexican states, the book shows how women who were denied the vote and expected to stay out of the political sphere nevertheless forged their own form of citizenship through the church. After Mexico gained its independence in 1821, women self-consciously developed new lay associations and assumed leadership roles within them. These new associations not only kept Catholicism vibrant, they also pushed women into public sphere. Methodologically, this book shows the value of exploring gender in political and religious history and reveals the equal importance of informal political power to more formal activities like voting.

Beyond the Subtitle Mark Betz, 2009 Examining European art films of the 1950s and 1960s, Mark Betz argues that it is time for film analysis to move beyond prevailing New Wave historiography mired in outdated notions of nationalism and dragged down by decades of auteurist criticism. Focusing on the cinemas of France and Italy, Betz reveals how the flowering of European art
