notes and photographs Shakespeare on Film Judith R. Buchanan, 2014-07-22 From the earliest days of the cinema to the present Shakespeare has offered a tempting bank of source material than the film industry has been happy to plunder Shakespeare on Film deftly examines an extensive range of films that have emerged from the curious union of an iconic dramatist with a medium of mass appeal The many films Buchanan studies are shown to be telling indicators of trends in Shakespearean performance interpretation illuminating markers of developments in the film industry and culturally revealing about broader influences in the world beyond the movie theatre As with other titles from the Inside Film series the book is illustrated throughout with stills Each chapter concludes with a list of suggested further reading in the field Retrovisions Deborah Cartmell, I. Q. Hunter, Imelda Whelehan, 2001-09-20 The contributors to Retrovisions consider what happens to history in the movies Focusing on films and texts from the 1950s to the 1990s the contributors argue that the past has always come to us by way of previous texts and culturally bounded aesthetic categories and that history films to the despair of historians have always taken a postmodern approach to their subject seeing the past as a dynamic resource for exciting stories and poetic morally uplifting untruths Why do certain decades appeal at certain times And what does the renewal of interest in narrative history reveal about our culture at the start of the new millennium The authors address the variety of ways in which history can be used refashioned and made over to reflect current concerns and how history films from the past can be reinterrogated to learn what they tell us about their own times The films discussed include Elizabeth Shakespeare in Love Culloden The Avengers Titus and several adaptations of Les Liaisons Dangereuses including Cruel Intentions Jack Lord Sylvia D. Congress. Senate. Select Committee on Small Business, 1955 Freedom of the Screen Laura Wittern-Keller, 2008-01-11 At the turn of the twentieth century the proliferation of movies attracted not only the attention of audiences across America but also the apprehensive eyes of government officials and special interest groups concerned about the messages disseminated by the silver screen Between 1907 and 1926 seven states New York Pennsylvania Ohio Virginia Kansas Maryland and Massachusetts and more than one hundred cities authorized censors to suppress all images and messages considered inappropriate for American audiences Movie studios hoping to avoid problems with state censors worrying that censorship might be extended to the federal level and facing increased pressure from religious groups also jumped into the censoring business restraining content through the adoption of the self censoring Production Code also known as the Hays code But some industry outsiders independent distributors who believed that movies deserved the free speech protections of the First Amendment brought legal challenges to censorship at the state and local levels Freedom of the Screen chronicles both the evolution of judicial attitudes toward film restriction and the plight of the individuals who fought for the right to deliver provocative and relevant movies to American audiences The path to cinematic freedom was marked with both achievements and roadblocks from the establishment of the Production Code Administration which effectively eradicated political films after 1934 to the landmark cases over films such as The Miracle 1948 La ronde 1950 and Lady Chatterley's Lover 1955 that paved the way for increased freedom of expression As the fight against censorship progressed case by case through state courts and the U S Supreme Court legal authorities and the public responded growing increasingly sympathetic toward artistic freedom Because a small unorganized group of independent film distributors and exhibitors in mid twentieth century America fought back against what they believed was the unconstitutional prior restraint of motion pictures film after 1965 was able to follow a new path maturing into an artistic medium for the communication of ideas however controversial Government censors would no longer control the content of America's movie screens Laura Wittern Keller's use of previously unexplored archival material and interviews with key figures earned her the researcher of the year award from the New York State Board of Regents and the New York State Archives Partnership Trust Her exhaustive work is the first to discuss more than five decades of film censorship battles that rose from state and local courtrooms to become issues of national debate and significance A compendium of judicial action in the film industry Freedom of the Screen is a tribute to those who fought for the constitutional right of free expression and paved the way for the variety of films that appear in cinemas today Drive-in Theaters Kerry Segrave,2012-01-25 A primarily American institution though it appeared in other countries such as Japan and Italy the drive in theater now sits on the verge of extinction During its heyday drive ins could be found in communities both large and small Some of the larger theaters held up to 3 000 cars and were often filled to capacity on weekends The history of the drive in from its beginnings in the 1930s through its heyday in the 1940s and 1950s to its gradual demise in modern day America is thoroughly documented here the patent battles community concerns with morality on screen and off technological advances audio systems screens etc audiences and the drive in's place in the motion picture industry Set in Stone Jenna Weissman Joselit,2017 Through a series of deftly rendered vignettes prominent historian Jenna Weissman Joselit offers a compelling and fresh eyed perspective on the Ten Commandments situating them within the context of modern America Rich in incident and in colorful personalities of the 19th and 20th centuries her account shows that the Ten Commandments are not cast in stone but a fertile repository of American history In Theaters Everywhere Brian Hannan,2019-01-09 Conflicts among Hollywood studios and exhibitors have been going on for years At their heart are questions about how films should be released where when and at what speed Both sides of this disagreement are losers with exhibitors using the law via various Consent Decrees and studios retaliating by tightly controlling output In the Silent Era movies were not released nearly as widely as they are now This book tells the story of how the few became the many It explores the contraction of the release cycle the maximization of the marketing dollar and the democratization of consumer access It also offers a comprehensive list of wide releases and rebuts much of what previous scholars have found

Periodicals in South African Libraries: S-Z, 1971 Lance Comfort Brian McFarlane, 1999 This is a study of the work of Lance Comfort who made films such as Hatter's Castle and Temptation Harbour between 1941 and 1965 The book should appeal to students and researchers in British cinema King Vidor in Focus Kevin L. Stoehr, Cullen Gallagher, 2024-07-30

King Vidor 1894-1982 had the longest career of any Hollywood director and his works include some of the most dramatic sublime moments in the history of American cinema Regarded by many film historians as one of the greatest of silent era filmmakers especially for masterworks The Big Parade The Crowd and Show People Vidor is nonetheless one of the most underrated of Hollywood's old masters in terms of his overall career His sound era films include Hallelujah Street Scene of the Crime The Champ The Stranger's Return Our Daily Bread Stella Dallas The Citadel Northwest Passage Duel in the Sun Beyond the Forest The Fountainhead Ruby Gentry and War and Peace He also helped to establish the Screen Directors Guild and served as its first president This book charts the ways in which Vidor's vast complex body of work ranges over diverse genres and styles while also expressing his recurring personal interests in spirituality especially Christian Science aesthetics metaphysics social realism and the myth of America The first book since 1988 to give a comprehensive view of Vidor's career it discusses his artistic evolution in a way that appeals to the general reader as well as to the film scholar Living Room Lectures Nina C. Leibman, 2010-07-22

With a breadwinner dad a homemaker mom and squeaky clean kids the 1950s television family has achieved near mythological status as a model of what real families ought to be Yet feature films of the period often portrayed families in trouble with parents and children in conflict over appropriate values and behaviors Why were these representations of family apparently so far apart Nina Leibman analyzes many feature films and dozens of TV situation comedy episodes from 1954 to 1963 to find surprising commonalities in their representations of the family Redefining the comedy as a family melodrama she compares film and television depictions of familial power gender roles and economic attitudes Leibman's explorations reveal how themes of guilt deceit manipulation anxiety and disfunctionality that obviously characterize such movies as Rebel without a Cause A Summer Place and Splendor in the Grass also crop up in such TV shows as The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet Father Knows Best Leave It to Beaver The Donna Reed Show and My Three Sons Drawing on interviews with many of the participants of these productions archival documents and trade journals Leibman sets her discussion within a larger institutional history of 1950s film and television Her discussions shed new light not only on the reasons for both media's near obsession with family life but also on changes in American society as it reconfigured itself in the postwar era
