Civic Engagement in Contemporary Japan Henk Vinken, Yuko Nishimura, Bruce L. J. White, Masayuki Deguchi, 2010-03-25 Civic engagement is a concept of action that has become part of common vocabulary not only in the West but also in many other regions of the world as well A growing yet still small number of scholarly works has recently emerged showing how in Japan citizen activism volunteering and social action for a public cause are developing This present volume is another and in my view important addition to the body of knowledge on civic engagement in Japan The majority of books on related issues in Japan take on the perspective of organized civic life in nongovernmental organizations NGOs or nonprofit organizations NPOs we know quite a number of things about the quantitative trends in these organizations on their positioning on their difficulties and on the institutional contexts in which they have to work We know relatively little except for a small number of topical qualitative case studies on broad issues that relate to civic engagement in Japan inside or outside these formal organizations This volume is the first to offer a wide scope of broad variety of forms of civic engagement in contemporary Japan The volume is quite forceful in counterbalancing oversimplified ideas on an ideal civil society in which state market and civil society organizations are in pendent and at best take on oppositional stances Revolutions from

Campaigns and National Integration in China's Market Economy Era Yanru Chen, 2015-09-01 This book adopts the method of grounded theory in studying national communication campaigns in China referred to as propaganda campaigns in the Chinese linguistic context The study provides an exploratory and descriptive analysis of the ways in which the media in China fulfilled their function of building a Socialist spiritual civilisation and maintaining national integration during state propaganda campaigns Explanations for the success and limitations of the campaigns are clearly expressed and combined with cautious statements on the limited role of the media in the process of national integration The three major communication campaigns detailed in this book offer revelations regarding how to maintain mass morale and revive the national spirit at a time when economic pursuits and aspirations seem to be the top priority for individuals and institutions A chief premise underpinning this study is that economic growth is not to be equated with social progress or human development the latter encompassing a far more profound spiritual dimension which takes far more delicate efforts to accomplish
