1994 Briefing On Environmental En:

Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications ,2004 Environmental Policy Integration Andrea Lenschow,2012-04-27 Integrating environmental policies into the policies of all other sectors is the core European environmental policy But there has been no thorough investigation of the political process involved This volume provides the first It analyses the process of policy integration the greening of public policy across the relevant sectors and countries It finds significant variation from sector to sector and from country to country and analyses the reasons for this Surprisingly the UK traditionally the dirty man of Europe is far more actively engaged than environmental progressives such as Germany It identifies the obstacles to integration and offers solutions for policy formulation decision making and implementation at the relevant political levels The Integrated Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Environmentalism S.

Steiner-Aeschliman,1999 The theory and data of environmental science suggest that growth in rates of population consumption and environmental degradation as a result of the activities of industrialized societies has created an ecological crisis to which modern societies must adapt However adaptation is problematic Max Weber studied adaptive social change during the industrial revolution The evolution of this new way of life was initially problematic because individuals who established industrialism were socialized under feudalism In this dissertation I consider The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism as a theoretical treatise framed by modern human ecology in order to study social change in the context of the ecological crisis of industrialism The Protestant Ethic is known for describing how religious ideas influenced the unfolding of modern capitalism in the West However there is nothing inherent in Protestantism that requires linkage to industrialism I argue that Protestantism has evolved and that it need not necessarily promote environmental exploitation although under industrialism it has I identify a green subculture within Protestantism and consider how Protestantism s weakness may also be its strength The very sociological structure that in the absence of ecologically realistic norms permits widespread ecosystem degradation by industrial capitalism may also generate ecologically realistic norms for a natural capitalism Weber contended that rationality was problematic because it paradoxically results in a dual crisis of management and meaning where human agency becomes imprisoned as if in an iron cage The irrational continuation of environmentally degrading social practices eventually contributes to a legitimation crisis People turn to religion as an alternative authority If science and religion converge on environmental values they might catalyze social change unless they are too distorted by ideological bias Adaptive social change only occurs if ethical and ecological values are in accordance with the sustainability of ecosystems Hence to adapt to the ecological crisis sociocultural systems require socialization into ecological realism because ecologically rational societies may still be maladaptively organized around environmentally unsustainable trajectories

Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents

,1995-02 The Oxfam Poverty Report Kevin Watkins,1995 Fifty years ago the United Nations Charter proclaimed universal rights to shared prosperity peace and security How far has that vision of world citizenship been realised Despite advances in human welfare and technology there is today a growing polarisation between rich and poor One in four of the world s people live in absolute poverty unable to meet their basic needs armed conflict is affecting millions of people and the global environment is under threat Yet there is a failure of political will to address the silent emergency of poverty The Oxfam Poverty Report draws on Oxfam s experience of working in over 70 countries to examine the causes of poverty and conflict It identifies the structural forces which deny people their basic rights and gives a wide range of examples of the ways in which men and women are bringing about positive change at every level from the household to the international arena Oxfam believes that it is time to renew the UN vision of universal basic rights The Report concludes by proposing policy and institutional reforms which would transform international institutions and trading relations and calls for a new commitment to work together to eradicate poverty and bring sustainable peace and security for all the world s people

Plant Nutrition for Sustainable Food Production and Environment

Tadao Ando,Kounosuke Fujita,Tadahiko Mae,Hideaki Matsumoto,Satoshi Mori,Jiro Sekiya,2012-12-06 In the history of the International Plant Nutrition Colloquium from its first meeting in 1954 this meeting the 13th Colloquium is the first to be held in Asia and will be the last in the 20th century The 20th century has seen huge changes in the number and activities of mankind Our population has increased from around 1 7 billion to more than 5 8 billion and technological innovations have completely altered our way of living As a consequence of such rapid change we are facing many problems including changes in our environment of a global scale But while food shortage has been a serious concern to mankind throughout our history serious food shortages in the 20th century have been confined to limited times and areas As Lester Brown discusses in this volume farmers have increased food production heroically on demand We the plant nutritionists should be proud of our support to the world s farmers which has helped them make their achievement possible During the 20th century the science of plant nutrition also has achieved great progress as described by Jack Loneragan it became established as a discipline firmly based in science defined the chemical elements supporting plant growth and has contributed to improvements in plant production and environmental quality as readers will find in many contributions in this volume Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals ,1994 Federal Register ,1995-06-06 Serving the West ,2002 Annual Historical Review Rock Island Arsenal (Ill.),1993 Understanding Environmental Administration and Law, 3rd Edition Susan J. Buck,2013-03-05 Understanding Environmental Administration and Law provides an engaging introductory overview of environmental policy Author Susan J Buck explores the process through which policy is made the political environment in which it is applied and the statutory and case laws that are critical to working within the regulatory system This revised and expanded third edition adds case studies that help bring the subject to life and includes new material on the Bush Administration and its approach to administering environmental laws the continuing evolution of environmentalism and the changing role of environmental regulation in the United States the development and implementation of environmental agreements at the international level the impacts and implications of globalization Understanding Environmental Administration and Law provides a framework for understanding the law as a managerial tool International Organizations and the Law of the Sea Nilos,1995-01-01 The NILOS yearbooks provide the reader with a collection of documents related to ocean affairs and the law of the sea issued each year by organizations organs and bodies of the United Nations system Documents of the UN General Assembly ECOSOC and its regional Commissions the UN Secretary General s Informal Consultations PrepCom ISA ITLOS UNCED UNEP and UNCTAD are included first followed by the documents of specialized agencies and other autonomous organizations of the UN system including FAO IAEA ILO IMO UNESCO IOC and WMO Western Army National Guard Aviation Training Site Expansion ,1997 Biodiversity associated with the rice field agroecosystem in Asian countries: A brief review Channa N. B. Bambaradeniya,Felix P. Amerasinghe,2004 This review is intended to bring together the published information available on the biodiversity associated with the rice field agroecosystem in countries extending across Asia from Sri Lanka to Japan The intention is to provide a synthesis that would enable us to better appreciate the environmental services and opportunities for biodiversity conservation offered by rice fields as the additional benefits and contribution of these major food producing agroecosystems Since this review is based mainly on published information in the English language public domain such limitation of the exercise might result in a bias towards those countries where the published and or accessible information exists In order to reduce such bias attempts were made to review unpublished grey literature as well although this was by no means comprehensive Affordable Cleanup? National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Commission on Engineering and Technical Systems, Committee on Decontamination and Decommissioning of Uranium Enrichment Facilities, 1996-04-08 The Energy Policy Act of 1992 called on the National Academy of Sciences to conduct a study and provide recommendations for reducing the costs of decontaminating and decommissioning D Raducah Kentucky and Portsmouth Ohio This volume examines the existing plans and cost estimates for the D D of these facilities including such elements as technologies planning and management and identifies approaches that could reduce D D costs It also assesses options for disposition of the large quantities of depleted uranium hexafluoride that are stored at these sites Environmental Indicators for Agriculture Concepts and Framework Volume 1 OECD, 1999-10-08 This book outlines an analytical framework to further the analysis of agri environmental linkages and sustainable agriculture It describes the main environmental concepts in agriculture of relevance to OECD policy makers and the indicators that need to be calculated
