Species Survival Commission, 1996 The 1994 IUCN Red List of Threatened Animals was a major advance on its predecessors in clarity of layout and amount of information presented This is taken further in the 1996 edition which is also the first global compilation to use the complete new IUCN Red List category system 1994 IUCN Red List of Threatened Animals World Conservation Monitoring Centre, 1993 Lijst van soorten die bedreigd worden met uitsterven en soorten die zeer schaars voorkomen in het wild 1994 IUCN red list of threatened animals, Red list of threatened animals World Conservation Monitoring Centre, 1993 2004 IUCN Red List of Threatened Species Jonathan Baillie, Craig Hilton-Taylor, S. Veiga, Adrian A. Barnett, Stephen F. Ferrari, Marilyn A. Norconk, 2013-04-11 The neotropical primate family

Pitheciidae consists of four genera Cacajao uacaris Callicebus titis Chiropotes bearded sakis and Pithecia sakis whose 40 species display a range of sizes social organisations ecologies and habitats Few are well known and the future survival of many is threatened yet pitheciines have been little studied This book is the first to review the biology of this fascinating and diverse group in full It includes fossil history reviews of the biology of each genus and among others specific treatments of vocalisations and foraging ecology These studies are integrated into considerations of current status and future conservation requirements on a country by country basis for each species A state of the art summary of current knowledge Evolutionary Biology and Conservation of Titis Sakis and Uacaris is a collective effort from all the major researchers currently working on these remarkable animals Biodiversity Monitoring and Conservation Ben Collen, Nathalie Pettorelli, Jonathan E. M. Baillie, Sarah M. Durant, 2013-02-14 As the impacts of anthropogenic activities increase in both magnitude and extent biodiversity is coming under increasing pressure Scientists and policy makers are frequently hampered by a lack of information on biological systems particularly information relating to long term trends Such information is crucial to developing an understanding as to how biodiversity may respond to global environmental change Knowledge gaps make it very difficult to develop effective policies and legislation to reduce and reverse biodiversity loss This book explores the gap between global commitments to biodiversity conservation and local action to track biodiversity change and implement conservation action High profile international political commitments to improve biodiversity conservation such as the targets set by the Convention on Biological Diversity require innovative and rapid responses from both science and policy This multi disciplinary perspective highlights barriers to conservation and offers novel solutions to evaluating trends in biodiversity at multiple scales The Guenons: Diversity and Adaptation in African Monkeys Mary E. Glenn, Marina Cords, 2006-04-11 It has been twelve years since a work relating to the long tailed African monkeys known as the guenons has been published and fifteen years have passed since the last major scientific symposium was held that was solely dedicated to current research on members of this monkey group living in the wild Since that time new guenon species and subspecies have been discovered previously unstudied guenon species have become the subject of long term research projects and knowledge of the more well known guenon species has greatly increased This volume presents novel information and keen insight on research previously studied and newly discovered A wide range of topics related to guenon biology is presented including evolution taxonomy biogeography reproductive physiology social and positional behavior ecology and conservation Composed of 26 chapters compiled by 47 authors many of whom are young investigators in their field The Guenons Diversity and Adaptation in African Monkeys provides a valuable resource for researchers and scientists in the fields of anthropology primatology zoology and conservation biology Reintroduction of Top-Order Predators Matt W. Hayward, Michael Somers, 2009-04-13 Large predators are among the most threatened species on the planet and ways of conserving them in the face of increasing human populations and associated resource requirements are becoming critical This book draws upon the experiences of some of the world's foremost large carnivore specialists to discuss the numerous issues associated with reintroducing large predators back into their natural habitats. Reviews of internationally renowned reintroduction programs for wolves, European lynx, and African wild dog reveal the successes and failures of these actions. Experts on tigers, snow leopards, and jaguars contend that there are other conservation options of higher priority that will ensure their security in the long term. Other experts discuss more theoretical aspects such as whether we know enough about these species to be able to predict their behavioural or ecological response to the reintroduction process. Social, economic, political, and genetic considerations are also addressed.

Carp genetic resources for aquaculture in Asia David J. Penman, Modadugu V. Gupta, Madan Mohan Dey, 2005. There are over 1300 species of cyprinids in Asia and these are utilized by people for food, capture fisheries, and aquaculture, and as ornamental species. This publication focuses on cyprinid species that are bred in hatcheries and used in aquaculture and restocking activities. Introduced and threatened species of cyprinids in Asia are also discussed. We are well aware that we have not covered many other cyprinid species that are utilized by people in Asia in various ways: wild species in capture fisheries, self-recruiting species in aquaculture ponds and other water bodies, and aquarist species.

Critical Animal Geographies Kathryn Gillespie, Rosemary-Claire Collard, 2015-01-30. Critical Animal Geographies provides new geographical perspectives on critical animal studies, exploring the spatial, political, and ethical dimensions of animals' lived experience and human-animal encounter. It works toward a more radical politics and theory directed at the shifting boundary between human and animal. Chapters draw together feminist, political, economic, post-humanist, anarchist, post-colonial, and critical race literatures with original case studies in order to see how efforts by some humans to control and order life human and not violate, constrain, and impinge upon others. Central to all chapters is a commitment to grappling with the stakes: violence, death, life, autonomy of human-animal encounters. Equally, the work in the collection addresses head-on the dominant forces shaping and dependent on these encounters: capitalism, racism, colonialism, and so on. In doing so, the book pushes readers to confront how human-animal relations are mixed up with overlapping axes of power and exploitation, including gender, race, class, and species.

Biodiversity Loss Assessment for Ecosystem Protection Rathoure, Ashok Kumar, 2024-05-29. In an era defined by relentless human activities and rapid ecological transformations, the world faces an escalating crisis: the precipitous loss of biodiversity. As we grapple with the consequences of industrialization, urbanization, and unchecked developmental pursuits, the very fabric of life on Earth is unraveling. Biodiversity, encompassing the myriad species, their genetic variations, and the intricate interplay within ecosystems, is diminishing at an unprecedented pace. This decline, termed biodiversity loss, extends beyond a mere statistical measure; it reflects the unraveling of the intricate tapestry that sustains life on our planet. In the face of climate change, pollution, habitat loss, overexploitation of species, and the invasion of non-native species, the urgency to address biodiversity loss has never been more critical. It is against this backdrop that this book emerges, titled Biodiversity Loss Assessment for Ecosystem Protection. This groundbreaking work not only unveils the theoretical frameworks surrounding biodiversity conservation but also presents the latest empirical research findings making it an indispensable tool for professionals across diverse disciplines From stress on biodiversity and impact assessment to innovative approaches for studying terrestrial aquatic and marine components each chapter provides a deep dive into specific facets of biodiversity loss The objective is clear to equip scholars with the knowledge they need to contribute meaningfully to the preservation of our planet s rich biological heritage
